"BLONDIE IN SOCIETY" AT BROADWAY THEATRE

The Bumsteads go high hat to hit a new high for hilarity in the first feature at the Broadway theatre this Friday and Saturday, November 7 and 8. "Blondie in Society" is the funniest chapter yet in the laugh-packed story of this favorite family. Wherein Dagwood goes in for the blue bloods. Blondie sees red and the neighbors grow purple with rage. It's a scream. Second feature on this program is the technicolor masterpiece "Billy the Kid" starring Robert Taylor, Brian Dunlevy, Ian Hunter and Mary Howard. All the natural beauty of the early west, breath-taking in its scenic wonder is the background for this story which deals with a youthful adventurer who first joins up with an unscrupulous gang in an early day cattle war then swings to the side of the persecuted ranchers. Taylor is brilliant in his hard-riding, fast-shooting portrayal of the title role.

Kay Francis and James Ellison head the featured cast which also includes Edmund Gwenn, Anne Baxter, Reginald Owen and Arleen Whelan. Jack Benny is truly funnier than ever before in "Charley's Aunt." His reputation as the man who can get the most laughs out of comedy lines and situations is enhanced by his superb comedy performance.

Morgan portrays the man-about-town who develops amnesia when an old girl friend bops him over the head. Shirley Ross and Jane Wyatt are a couple of girls whom he marries in forgetful moments. Program concludes with the ninth chapter of "Riders of Death Valley."

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

There appears in the December issue of the American magazine an article which should be not only read by every American but studied. This article deals with the subject of the success of Russia in defending herself against Nazi invasion. Written by Joseph E. Lewis former ambassador to Russia from the U. S. it tells how the 5th column was annihilated and Hitler's system of undermining the government and its defense from within was frustrated at the time of the murder of Leon Trotsky in Mexico where he had fled.

It shows where the speculation of many Americans that all military leaders in Russia were shot was just all wrong. Not the leaders but the subversives, the tools of Adolph Hitler who beat their breasts and bragged of their acts of treason against the U. S. S. R. were tried in the presence of Mr. Davis and later stood up against the wall and shot.

So it seems that we Americans may learn a lesson from our underprivileged neighbors across Behring Strait. Do we not have leaders among our mighty men who will bear rigid investigation?

City With Streets of Gold

Dawson City, Yukon Territory, may be said to have streets of gold. After the recovery of the main gold content of gravel originally washed down from above the Klondike valley, hundreds of tons of waste in which a trace of gold still remained were used to grade the roads in and around the town. The actual gold content remaining is, of course, very small.
