THREE LINKS

The party given last Thursday by Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Wooster occupied a prominent place on the Three Links social calendar of Thanksgiving day activities. A delicious dinner and after dinner entertainments were thoroughly enjoyed by the entire company. The guest list included the names of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Walert, and son Leon of Portland, Mrs. Ina Smith, Miss Laura Smith, Mrs. Sarah Townsend and Homer Matson all of Three Links. Mr. and Mrs. Wooster proved themselves to be entirely competent in the role of host and hostess.

Leon Romsey returned home from Corvallis where he attends Oregon state to spend the Thanksgiving holidays with his aunt and uncle Mr. and Mrs. Geo. R. Ramsey.

Also important on the Thanksgiving social calendar was a Thanksgiving celebration sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Schaffer. Guests who shared the wonderful hospitality of the Schaffer's were Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Jenkins and son of Estacada, and Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Norquist and baby Gary of Three Links.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Peterson of Portland and Dan Jennings of Three Links were Thanksgiving guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Cutting here who provided a delightful dinner and after dinner entertainment. The party thanks to the proficiency of the host and hostess was a definite success and was immensely enjoyed by all the guests.

The local bridge club held its weekly meeting at the home of Mrs. R.R. Norquist last Friday. Though several of the members were unable to attend the party was enjoyed by all present. Those included were Mrs. E. W. Cutting, Mrs. Arthur Alf, Mrs. R. J. Schaffer and Mrs. G. R. Ramsey.

The Three Links birthday club held a meeting at the home of Mrs. Arthur Alf last Wednesday night in honor of Mrs. R. A. Erickson. To insure her not being disappointed in the selection of a present the club presented Mrs. Erickson with a collection of dimes contributed by members of the club.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Jones entertained Mr. and Mrs. Cloyd Looney and son Donald at their home here last Thursday. The host and hostess always at their best in this role provided a most remarkable dinner. Also enjoyed by their guests was the delightful after dinner entertainment provided by Mr. and Mrs. Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Jones purchased and installed in their home here last week a beautiful new electric range.

FORMER ESTACADA COUPLE ARE WED

At a beautiful church wedding on Saturday evening in Albany, Miss Virginia Menke daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Menke became the bride of Ernest Park, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Park.

The service was read by Rev. Ed. Luthur of the First Baptist church in the presence of about one hundred friends and relatives of the young couple.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a lovely white satin gown entrain with a finger tip veil. She carried a shower bouquet of roses, gardenias and bouvardia.

Her attendants were Miss Francine Sharp of Clackamas maid of honor, and Misses Beverly Menke and Irene Park bridesmaids, each wearing pastel frocks and carrying harmonizing colonial nosegays.

Roy Park was the groom's best man and Herbert Franklin and Bob Tohey were ushers.

The brides mother wore peacock blue velvet with a corsage of Rebrun lillies while the grooms mother wore dusty rose lace with a corsage of Albun lillies.

The church was beautifully decorated with large white chrysanthemums in tall gold baskets with white candelabra, palms and ferns.

Mrs. A. B. Peterson sang "Until" and "I Love You Truly" preceding the ceremony accompanied by Mrs. Dan Hayne at the organ. Mrs. Hayne also played the wedding march.

A reception was held in the church parlors following the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Park are well known in Estacada where they graduated from the Estacada high school. They have lived in Albany about a year where Mr. Park is employed as sawyer at the Brightwood Shingle Co. The bride and groom have temporarily taken an apartment until their new home is completed.

Guests from Estacada and vicinity who attended the wedding at Albany were Mr. and Mrs. Russell Reed and daughter Lois, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Schock and daughter Roseanne and Miss Connie Tooley of Sandy.

More Trees to be Planted

Based on the very favorable survival and growth of several forest tree plantations set out last year by Clackamas county farmers in cooperation with the Clackamas Farm Forestry project a number of new plantations are planned for this coming winter according to W. M. Ferguson, forester for the project.

All seedling trees used here last year were set out on cut-over land that have produced no return to the owners since the areas were logged. Joe Wagner, K. F. Roos, both of Beavercreek and Geo. Howard of Redland are the proud owners of these new plantations.

J. J. Inskeep Clackamas county agricultural agent in whose office the Farm Forestry project is located and who has joint responsibility for the work states: "There are many farmers thruout the county who have non-producing areas on their farms. These areas should be put into some sort of production. Many of the areas are capable of producing only trees, other areas while suitable for pasture or clearing are not being used or are not being planned to be used for such and therefore might well be put into economic production by growing a forest crop. Also toward the north end of the county wind-breaks are a good investment for protection against drying east wind.

So far Douglas fir, black locust, cascara and Port Orford cedar are the only species planted but there are several more equally good species available from the federal-state nursery from which trees may be had at a very nominal cost.

The Oregon state board of forestry at Salem manages the Clark-McNary nursery and distributes the planting stock. Order blanks and instructions for planting stock and information are available at the county agents office. Trees may be obtained and planted between now and the first of March.

Labels on Foods Found Key to Quality, Thrift

Time spent in a grocery store reading the labels on packages will give good returns in money saved these days points out Miss Lucy A. Case, extension nutritionist at Oregon state college. More and more manufacturers are now putting grade labels on canned foods as well as net contents. These two items observed together can save the buyer money and avoid disappointment says Miss Case.
