

These Pictures Are Without Words!

(Stolen from the Clackamas County News Shopper)

One does get a little perturbed when attending a theatre (The guys and gals running them wonder if anyone still does) and the sound goes off and you can see but can't hear. This happens on television too, but the average contributor (and we do all contribute in time, patience, bad dispositions, etc.) shrugs it off as "technical difficulties" and waits for the picture to settle down or turns to another station.

Of course it is free, and so is this shopper.

Now, in this particular case, you have the pictures, but we still have the stories. Perhaps you'll be entirely indifferent as to the stories behind these pictures so we are hoping that it will sort of provide you an opportunity to realize that you are a bit curious. If you are, you can buy a Clackamas County News where you shop in Estacada. (Please don't bother the neighbors.) If you are not getting to Estacada, $2.50 will supply you the complete and we mean complete Clackamas County News for a year. If you don't think it is worth it, you should see us beam when some of our subscribers complain they haven't received their paper.

Incidentally, we could use a new system of mailing that we believe would be practically fool proof. (Please, no remarks as we appreciate our handicaps) Of you 2,000 people who receive this shopper, we could have 300 new subscribers, we could get an addressograph. Of course then we wouldn't hear those wonderful complaints.

Estacada business volume in some lines has shown a good increase. These folks who are developing Estacada shopping habits can't be too wrong. You might give it a trial if you have not before.

Let's get ahead with Estacada. The Upper Clackamas River Chamber of Commerce has a healthy start. If you, as an interested citizen of this area can give the Chamber your support, Estacada can lead the way for more permanent development and prosperity for all.

"Growing parents are the only ones suitable for growing children."

All things were made by Him; and without Him was not anything made that was made.—(St. John 1,3.)

Almighty God, all-good, all-merciful, made the vast, limitless universe—our sun, and the millions of suns beyond it, and this tiny planet upon which we live. And He made each and every one of us, in His image. Each and every one of us is one with God, as each and every sunbeam is one with the sun.

COUNTY STOCKMEN TO MEET AT WARNER GRANGE

Clackamas County stockmen will gather at 9:30 A.M. January 14th at Warner Grange for their 11th annual meeting according to Hugh Caton, livestock association secretary.

President Walter Fisher and the board of directors announced the following plans for the yearly gathering recently. Featured speakers are Dorothy Sherrill, OSC Extension consumer marketing specialist, who will talk on consumer relations; Dr. David C. England, OSC farm research leader, who will discuss the use of hormones in fattening market animals; and Dr. John O. Schnauts, OSC veterinarian, who will talk on controlling parasites.

Regular business, including the annual audit and appointment of a nominating committee, and a report from Cliff Rolison, county trapper, will take place in the morning session.

Warner Grange ladies will serve a noon lunch and the speakers will be heard in the afternoon.

PAST NOBLE GRANDS CLUB MEETS MONDAY

The Past Noble Grands Club will meet with Miss Lavina Crawford on Monday, Jan. 14, at 1 P.M. Members are to bring articles for activity project.

Mrs. Clara Hicinbotham accompanied her daughter to Hermosa Beach, Calif. on Dec. 27th and on New Year's Day enjoyed the Pasadena Rose Parade with her 3 generations—Alice, Doreen and Sharon. She will be spending the winter in southern California.

To stiffen the tip of thread or cord before stringing beads, dip the end in clear nail polish.

If you boil walnuts for five minutes before adding them to baked goods, the nuts won't dry out your cake.

Do you have a new pup who cries at night? Put a clock in his box. The louder the tick, the happier he'll be.

You'll find that fish is easier to scale if you rub a little vinegar over it.

When rug edges tend to curl up, brush hot Perma Starch on the underside of the rug and press with a warm iron.

Save money on tableware by choosing stainless steel. It's no cheaper when you get it, but because it's solid rather than plated it will serve you twice as long.

Use the wrapper as a core when winding new yarn into a ball. Then, when it's time to reorder, you'll have the weight and color information right on hand.

THIS PERSON & THAT

asked, "Did you lose something?" "Yes" said the woman, "a caramel." "And you are going to all this trouble for a caramel?" "I certainly am. My lower plate is stuck to the caramel." After the show was over we dropped into a restaurant, two men going in ahead of us and sat down at a table. "Bring me a plate of hash." The waitress walked toward the kitchen. "Gent wants to take a chance," she shouted. Then the other diner said "I'll take hash too." The waitress walked toward the kitchen again and exclaimed in a loud voice, "Another sport." After this my husband and I thought we were filled up on adventures and drove home.

There has been an epidemic of school tests recently and one boy turned this one in: "The leg is something which if you ain't got two pretty ones you can't get to first base and neither can your sister." A teacher tells this one so it must be so.

There used to live up the gulley forty or fifty years ago a fellow that everybody called Zeke. Someone asked him one day, "Kin you still boss your boys?" "Sure," retorted Zeke, "but I quit. If'n my boys haint got gumption to look out fer themselves after theys turned 50 they ain't never agoin' to have."

There's a line in the ocean where by crossing you can lose a day, but the traffic experts say that's nothing, as there is one down the middle of the highway where you can do even better.

A little girl was taking her piano lessons very seriously in her home on the Currinsville road. She went over and over the same exercise. After a time the family dog raised his head and began howling. Her father called to her "What are you doing?" "I'm practicing on the piano," she responded. "Play something the dog doesn't know," he shouted back.

It was good to see Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jubb in Estacada the other day. They lived here for a number of years in the house on Currin street now occupied by Val Nord.

quint and family across the street from Owen Smith's. The two Jubb children were here too, a couple of cute kids.

A bachelor is a man who can get a girl on his lap without having her on his hands."

Estacada's champion booster of the world was here for a few days during the holidays. She is willing to have her identity revealed. Even the moon is the prettiest and the most entrancing when it is in the skies over Estacada.
