In the early days of Estacada two factions battled for control of the coming young city, each crowd wanting its own money, so there were two banks in town. When, as a matter of fact, it was one too many at this particular time. Even some "far west" tactics were employed. A delegation called upon one of the bank presidents at his home on the hill overlooking all of the business section at that time and gave him 24 hours to get out of town. The banker wasn't in any particular hurry to go and with a shotgun in his hand said he would kill the first man who came on his porch. Nobody did and nobody got killed. In after years owing to the depression and lack of funds, both banks quit and there were none in town for quite a time. Not very months ago the Milwaukie State Bank brought Vern Sutton into Estacada and a new financial era was here. Then again the bank was given Dixie Russel Slaughter, a popular Estacada girl, the required training in Milwaukie and when the bank and Vern Sutton came in here and started out, they put Dixie in the bank which added to its popularity. Sutton and the new bank made such a hit that everybody in town wouldn't trade their new bank for the mother bank at Milwaukie. In addition to Dixie, Elsie Prokop, now married and living in South Dakota, and Charlene Voss Wallaert of Gladstone were behind the bars of the financial institution for quite a time. In addition to Manager Sutton, the force at the present time consists of Leah Faust, Lillian Fullerton, Bonnie Bodley and Amy Dunn. Mrs. Fullerton quits this week and may not be back, as half of her friends are wishing for a boy and the other half a girl, and that may be just what might happen. The popular Leah was out for several days recently because of illness. You can bank on it that anybody around the place will give the best of service and even loan you money providing, of course, you have the proper security. They will take interest in doing their best for you. Don't be surprised if at any time you see a new face behind the bars, and it will be someone you have seen there before.

In one of our local "communities" the auto horn played the leading role in two local events. A farmer had found his strayed calf and was leading and pulling it back home on the road. When they reached a small bridge the calf laid down in the center of it and refused to move. At this time a big car came up and the driver asked if he could be of any assistance in getting the calf out of the way and it was agreed that he would sound his horn loudly. The calf became badly frightened, jumped up and leaped over the railing and drowned in the water below. The two men compared notes and the farmer declared "The honk was too big for so small a calf." In the same neighborhood there lived an attractive widow. A man from outside with a nice car came to see her frequently and when he did his arrival was announced by two loud honks of the car horn. Then all of a sudden those living in the neighborhood heard the honks no more. One day about a week later a neighbor came back from a neighboring town and when asked if he had heard anything about the widow's admirer replied: "Alcohol won't drive memories from your life."

A waitress in one of the local restaurants, who is one of the most popular girls in town, has the right answers. A man called to her disgustedly, "What's this stuff—coffee or tea?" "It tastes like kerosene." "If it tastes like kerosene it must be coffee," she replied, we don't have tea because it tastes like turpentine."

TOMPKINS SERVING

Peter J. Tompkins, airman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Perry J. Tompkins of Estacada is serving with Airborne Early Warning Wing Pacific at the U. S. Naval Air Station, Barber's Point, T. H.

Airborne Early Warning Maintenance and Training Squadron 2 will provide maintenance and training for the Airborne Early Warning Wing Pacific which is an extension of the Distant Early Warning-De-Line of radar stations across northern Canada and Alaska, bringing radar protection from the Aleutians across the Pacific Ocean to the Hawaiian Islands.

Schmidts Sell Feed & Seed to Linns

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Linn have purchased the Estacada Feed & Seed from Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schmidt, who have operated the business for several years.

Mr. Linn has been a resident of the Springwater community since 1945 and a prominent farmer. He has been fire warden for 3 years and spent 3 years in soil conservation work. His background enables him to understand the problems of the farmer and will serve him well in his new enterprise.

P.G.E. Awards Big Contracts for Dam Materials

Purchase orders worth $143,000 have been issued to three Portland firms in connection with Portland General Electric company's Clackamas river hydroelectric development.

Largest of the contracts went to Beall Pipe & Tank company according to Fred Hodge, company purchasing agent in Portland. Beall got a purchase order for $100,000 worth of 18-in. pipe to be used in the relocation of Oregon City water supply line at North Fork.

Gunderson Brothers Engineering corporation will supply three diversion gates for North Fork dam at a cost of $27,000. A. Young & Son Iron Works has a $16,000 contract to supply intake screens on the Faraday power house addition.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Keeth visited Mr. Keeth's sister, Mrs. Blanch Norris in Salem. She has been ill for sometime but is now improving.

Paving Under Way on Springwater Hill Grade

H. C. Compton pulled his asphalt paving machine onto the new Springwater hill grade Monday morning. Work as shown is progressing splendidly with completion possible by June 1.

Our thanks goes to the State Highway Department for getting on this. We hope our little article of two weeks ago didn't offend them for it was meant in fun—and if we are a little bit interested in seeing this road completed, we hope the boys will understand. It is a wonderful piece of road and will be appreciated by all who have occasion to drive it.

TWINS BORN TO FORMER ESTACADA COUPLE

Mr. and Mrs. Kendall Nash of Eugene are parents of twin boys born May 1st. Babies weighed 5 lbs. each and are named Richard Edmond and Robert Kenaall. Nash is a brother of Mrs. Joe Rickey, Jr. and former graduate of both Estacada schools. For three years he has been attending U. of O. School of Law and will graduate in June.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Smith on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ross and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ross.

ISSUE FIRE SCHOOL CERTIFICATES HERE

At the regular meeting of the Estacada Volunteer Fire Dept. held last Monday several items were taken up. Frank Marshall presided over the meeting which included Chief Rudy Sagner introducing a prospective member of the department, Bill Bogan.

Sagner passed out certificates to the men who qualified 16 hours or more of the Fire School held recently. A discussion was brought up concerning the assignments of the men during the summer months. Herb Williams is taking a leave of absence for the summer months to attend school. Emery Kingston of Estacada who suffered a fire in his gar-
