

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS NOTES

Eagle Creek

(By Margaret Ross)
Again the center of Eagle Creek was rudely awakened by the crash of an auto falling to make the right-angle turn, this time in the 'wee hours' of Saturday. The lone, youthful driver, going from Estacada direction to Portland, might have wrecked the John Clark home were it not for the metal guard rail, thoroughly battered. The boy and his father returned Saturday morning with a tow truck from Portland, to remove the completely demolished car. Neighborhood bystanders said he admitted drowning at the wheel while driving at 80 m.p.h., but that he had apparently escaped injury.

Pic-Tours of EUROPE

Visitors to DENMARK enjoy shopping for fine modern furniture, silver, ceramics, many other products of Danish craftsmanship. Copenhagen, during September's Design Cavalcade, is a shopper's paradise.

Motorists touring EUROPE can often eliminate long, tiring drives thanks to car-sleeper trains. Auto goes in baggage car, passengers rest in sleeper. Both are ready to go at destination.

July visitors to YUGOSLAVIA'S Adriatic resorts on the Kvarner Riviera can enjoy films under the sky in the 2nd Century Roman Arena during the annual film festival at Pula.
