

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS NOTES

Springwater

By Myrtle Dmytryk
Dinner guests at the Everett Shibley home on Sunday evening were Dr. John Anderson with Mrs. Anderson and their three children, Jane, Jim and Lennie, also a friend, Karen Epperson, all of Multnomah. Dr. Anderson is chaplain at Lewis and Clark college, and was speaker at baccalaureate services at high school in Estacada Sunday night.
The Home Economics Club of the Springwater Grange met at the home of Buelah Swanson May 15. Eleanor Newell had charge of program.
Happy birthdays to Laura Tucker, Sue Aycocok, Teddy Hodgkiss, and Eddie Dmytryk all of whom celebrate their birthdays this month.

I got a real surprise when I turned on the TV set Sunday afternoon and there was Gilbert Shibley singing with the Lewis & Clark chorus. He acted as natural as could be, even to the cute little habit of rubbing his nose.
Bill and Doris Miller took Bill's mother to Corbett for dinner at the home of his cousin, Mrs. Evans, on Mothers Day.
Mr. and Mrs. Roy Beck visited at the homes of two of their daughters, Margaret Shibley and Kathleen Akins, on Sunday. The Becks live in Portland.
Elwin and Jean Shibley went to Portland Sunday for a dinner engagement at the home of Jean's sister, Mrs. Wayne Fry.

Judy Fredricksen was among the group of high school students who participated in the tennis play-offs in Corvallis last weekend. They left Estacada Friday at 5:30 AM and returned Saturday afternoon. In the meantime, Judy missed the installation of Jobs Daughters where she is Jr. Princess.
Mr. and Mrs. Larry Meade were visitors at the home of Bessie's daughter, Jerry Wahlstrom on Monday evening. It seems that Jerry participated in too many activities last week, and was slightly under the weather. Oh well, one more week of it and it's over Jerry.

Eagle Creek

(By Margaret Ross)
Among the high school seniors graduating at Estacada this Friday night are six Eagle Creek students: Tom Burnett, Fred Gaylord, Ron Hare, Irene Lensch, Lee Proctor and Carol Sorrels.
The Mothers Club meeting last Thursday at Eagle Creek school elected new officers for the coming year: President - Mrs. Tom Cody; vice-president - Mrs. Art Shulls; secretary - Mrs. Virgil Nelson. Final plans were made to assist at the school graduation on Tuesday night, and on Monday night some mothers met to decorate the cakes with ornamental frosting for refreshments. Ice cream was also served to graduates and guests.
A 22 day furlough from the U.S. Marines in San Diego, his first since joining last October, was in store for Pfc. Charles Lensch when he returned home to Eagle Creek last Sunday. Chuck, the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Lensch, was welcomed also by his five sisters. He was accompanied from Portland by his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lard, and his older sister, Mary Ann.
Week end houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tacheron were their two sons and respective families, Bob, from Camas, and Don, from Seattle. A double-birthday dinner was held in honor of Frank and son Bob, born on May 18.
Houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. Durwood Douglas last week were Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Granger, of Butte, Mont., cousins of Mrs. Douglas.
The Hascel Tuck family, who recently moved to the Hillsboro area, returned for a visit to Eagle Creek last Sunday, accompanied by some relatives.
Sunday visitors of Maude Forrester were her son Roy, and family, from Portland, and her son-in-law, Sterling McAlpine, and grandson, from Salem.
Miss Jean Brackett went to Seattle last weekend to attend the wedding of a girl friend.
Kenny Ronnow brought a college classmate home for a weekend visit.
On Sunday Nancy Whisler accompanied some Estacada friends to Mt. Hood.
Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Judd were grandchildren Marlo and Gregg, the older children of Dr. and Mrs. Gerald Todd, of Portland.
Accompanying Rev. Vernon Ross to Astoria last Tuesday for a meeting of Portland Presbytery were Mrs. Florence Glover and Mrs. Maude Burnett.
The Cecil Heyne family last week moved from the Dunstan place, where they have lived since last fall, to a farm they have bought just below the junction of the roads to Dover and Eagle Fern Park.

The annual cemetery clean-up, sponsored by Eagle Creek Grange, is scheduled for next Tuesday, May 28, at 9:30 A. M. at the Forrester Cemetery. Anyone able to do so is urged to help in this community project.

ANNUAL POULTRY MEETINGS JUNE 13-14

Oregon's Poultry and Hatchery association and the Oregon Broiler Growers association will hold annual meetings June 13 and 14 at Oregon State college, according to N. L. Bennion, college extension poultry specialist.
The poultry-hatchery association members will hold their 37th annual meeting June 13. The second annual meeting of the broiler growers will be on June 14. Both will start at 9:30 a.m. in Withycombe hall.
Featured speakers will be presidents of the national organization of each group. Fred Donsing, Rio Linda, Cal., president of the American Poultry and Hatchery federation (APHF), will speak at the first day's session and Joe Fechtel, Dallas, Tex., president of the National Broiler council, will be main speaker the second day. A panel discussion of the influence of integration on the poultry industry will highlight the poultry-hatchery association meet. On the panel will be Din Turnbull, Kansas City, Mo., executive secretary of the APHF; Ray Tomberlin of General Mills, and H. R. Rohe of Oregon Egg producers, both of Portland; and Dr. J. E. Parker, head of OSC poultry husbandry department.

Top feature on the broiler growers program will be a discussion of trends in the broiler industry by Herman I. Miller, chief of the poultry division of the USDA agricultural marketing service, Washington, D.C.
A "broilercue" luncheon will be served both days by the broiler growers association and both associations will gather for a joint banquet the night of June 13. An afternoon tea will be held for women at the June 13 meeting.
Bennion says hatcherymen, flock owners, broiler growers, industry representatives, and other interested persons are welcome at both meetings.

John and Agnes Fugle together with Agnes' parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Wahlstrom of the George district, left Monday morning for an extended trip to North Dakota and Minnesota. Johnny hasn't seen his old stomping grounds for 23 yrs. so he has a treat in store.

The Dmytryk family gathered at Eddie's home last Friday evening to help him celebrate his birthday. Present were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Dmytryk, Jack, Mary and Tom Baker with their sons Bobby and Joe—and me.
The Dave Horners and Floyd Whitlocks will be initiated in the 3rd and 4th degrees by the regular officers at the Springwater Grange on Wednesday, May 29 at 8 P.M. Pot luck refreshments will be served following the meeting.

Social night at Springwater Grange is going to be somewhat conflicting with the graduation exercises at Estacada High School Friday night. However there will be a pot-luck supper as usual. Those of us who have a special interest in the graduating class will forgo the pleasure this month. Most of the Grangers will attend and hear Winnie Shibley give her speech as valedictorian of the graduating class. Judy Fredricksen is also graduating, so it is a big night for Springwater.

Joe and Wilma Guttridge have been having quite a time getting settled at home again. Joe left on Friday for visits to Bend, Burns, and Lakeview, and is expected home Wednesday. The three boys have been having colds, so Wilma has her hands full, but they are recovering nicely.

Richard Guttridge is back at work in the woods for the Dwyer Logging Co. No rest for the wicked.

Floyd and Phyllis Fitch have made a party room out of the building where they used to dress chickens, and did a very nice job of it, complete with bar, phonograph and dance floor. We helped christen the place Saturday night with the help of the Martin Reeds, Jim Trumaps and several other couples. Lots of fun.
