

MISS MARY LACEY WEDS IN SALEM CEREMONY

Miss Mary Katherine Lacey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Lacey of Dallas and a graduate of the Estacada High School, became the bride of Max A. Shaff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Shaff of Salem, in a candlelight ceremony at the South Salem Nazarene church Friday evening, July 19. Rev. James Kratz officiated at the 8 PM rites before a large gathering of relatives and friends. A blue and white color theme was carried out in decorations. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mrs. Chas. Curry of Salem was matron of honor and Miss Barbara Lacey of Dallas was maid of honor for her sister. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Gordon Elwood and Miss Marilyn Redel, both of Salem.

Sandy Thomas, cousin of the bride was flower girl and ring bearer was Mike Carter, another cousin of the bride. Following the ceremony a reception was held at Mayflower hall and the blue and white color scheme was carried out in the arrangement of the bride's table and bouquets of white gladioli and blue daisies about the hall. Mrs. Gene Lacey of Dallas and Mrs. Carol Springer cut the wedding cake. Mrs. S. C. Carter of Estacada, grandmother of the bride, poured coffee and Mrs. Lewis Thomas of Estacada, the bride's aunt, presided at the punch bowl.

Assisting in serving the guests were Miss Louise Hoover, Miss Dixie Eby, Miss Sally Erickson and Miss Lois McClelland of Dallas. Miss Oriole Osterman of Dallas and Miss Myrlea Hanhi of Salem were in charge of gifts at the reception. Passing the guest book was Mrs. Gene Lacey.

The bride is a graduate of Estacada high school and attended Oregon College of Education at Monmouth for a year. She is employed in the office of the Polk County Federal Savings and Loan association. Mr. Shaff is a graduate of Salem high school and is attending Oregon College of Education.

After a honeymoon at the Oregon beaches the couple will live in Dallas.

For traveling the bride changed to a white linen and pique sheath dress with black patent leather accessories and wore a corsage of blue carnations.

Dodge Doings

(Mrs. Ronald Bryan)

Dodge is soon to start a new Ground Observer Post supervised by Mrs. M. F. Ott. Among those who have signed up to help are: Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Chaney, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Varitz, Mrs. Wm. Connor, Mrs. Anne Justice, Mrs. Larry Miettenen. Details of the schedule are not as yet completely worked out but those interested are asked to call Mrs. Ott. Each observer will be allowed to work in their own home and will use Mrs. Ott's telephone number to contact the Portland filter center to report planes.

A. T. Varitz is assistant supervisor.

The Paul Slane family drove to Seattle Saturday to return Eva Kathy and Larry Mason to their home there. They visited the zoo while they were there and reported it is a very excellent zoo and well worth the time. They also visited some relatives while in Seattle.

Springwater

By Myrtle Dmytryk

Larry and Jerry Wahlstrom have almost deserted Springwater in the past few weeks. They are spending most of their time at the Thurston Wahlstrom place in George while Larry does the combining and haying up there.

The Max Main residence on Day hill road is taking on the new look. Max has almost finished putting on a very pretty new roof.

Young Robert Curry who spent most of last summer with his aunt and uncle, the Sam Dmytryks, came back last weekend for a visit, this time accompanied by his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Curry and three brothers and sisters. Mr. Curry who is Florence Dmytryk's brother, has been with the Union Pacific Railroad in Nebraska for over 35 years, so naturally they take the train. Mr. and Mrs. Jim Curry of Portland were also along for the visit.

Betty Denney is now working full time at the Holliday Park Hospital in Portland.

The evidence of just what an irrigation system will do is now very plainly seen on the Charles Stitter place. Our grass is all brown, and I look over there and see the green grass growing all around, all around, and it looks wonderful.

The Everett Shibley family attended the Clackamas County Cattleman's Assn picnic last Sunday afternoon at Willhoit Springs.

Winnie Shibley accompanied the Burnett family of Eagle

Creek on a weekend trip leav-visited Diamond and Crater lake.

The Springwater Presbyterian Church is announcing the beginning of their vacation Bible School on August 12th to continue through the 23rd. The school will be from 9 to 12 every morning and is for children from kindergarten through junior high ages. We will have more information about this school next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cutsforth and family spent Monday at Netarts Beach doing some clam digging, and had dinner with Tom's parents who were camping there. They were accompanied by a niece, Connie Jones of Albany.

Ruth Aycock who has been attending summer classes at the University of Oregon at Eugene will complete her courses next week. Sue Aycock has been keeping house for her while she is away.

Clarence Olson arrived in Springwater on Tuesday to check up on the old homestead and see how the crops are doing.

Just in case there is one person left who doesn't know about it, the Ed Dymtryks are sporting a new car.

The social night at Garfield Grange Sat. had a nice crowd and a delicious pot luck dinner. Mr. Smith of Portland played his accordion for the dancing and just for entertainment for those who didn't care to dance.

There will be a work day at the hall Fri., Aug. 2 to varnish the new stations made by Mr. R. C. Maxwell. Anyone caring to help bring pot luck lunch and pitch in you will be very welcome.

G. G. Home Ec. will meet with Mrs. Rena Davis Aug. 6 at 7 P.M. to make plans for the fair and baazar in Sept. Bring your scissors to cut out quilt blocks.

Portraits of the grandchildren of Mrs. Wm. Connor Mother's Day

"Remember Mama" - And with Pictures

Once again the President has proclaimed the second Sunday in May as "the day on which the nation honors the important role of Mother in the home, the community, the nation and the world." In other words, Mother's Day.

Among the gifts which are choices are a picture of the family - either enlargements or a series of small snapshots - to brighten up a corner of her desk or dressing-table for years to come. Most mothers enjoy a new wallet - particularly if it's one that holds a complete set of family snapshots tucked inside. Or perhaps Mother really has her heart set on a handsome locket or charm - the kind that opens to accommodate several small pictures.

Another gift which Mother is an album where the youngsters can assemble from snapshots now lurking in odd hiding places. You'll be amazed at what treasures old shoeboxes and desk drawers can bring to light with a little probing - and Mother will, too! An album is something she'll keep close at hand and treasure for its special dividend of warm personal memories.

Unless we miss our guess, when many of those gifts shed their fancy ribbons and wrappings, they'll prove that a lot

It's Wise To Ease Baby Into First Bath In Family Tub

Baby's first big-tub bath is likely to go much more smoothly for both baby and mother if mother remembers that babies are creatures of habit and are often frightened by any sudden change.

The shift to the family tub will seem less sudden and scary if for the first few days you start bathing baby in his own tub that he has grown used to, after you have put it in the big tub into which you have run a few inches of warm water. Talk to baby as you lower him into his tub in its new surroundings and as you start to bathe him.

Then, as soon as he begins gurgling and splashing in the water, lift him gently out of the little tub into the big one, using the big tub for rinsing. The change from one tub to another will seem so slight that he will take it in his stride. Within three or four days he'll be so used to the big tub that you will no longer need to start him off in the one he had grown accustomed to and had liked so well.

While baby is graduating into the family tub it's important to stick closely to the rest of the familiar bath routine. End the bath session as you always have by wrapping him in his towel and patting him dry. Smooth his body all over with his special baby lotion that protects his tender skin against chafing and diaper rash. A sterile cotton ball moistened with the creamy white lotion is a big help in getting it into each crease and fold.

It is always a good idea to assemble everything you will need for baby's bath before you start to bathe him. Place the articles beyond his grasp, but where you can easily reach them without loosening your hold upon him even for a moment. Babies are sometimes frightened by the sound of water running into the tub, so for a while it is best to run the water in before you take him into the bathroom. Bath time is fun time and it's good to keep it that way.
