Hazing Results in Local Shooting

Last Friday evening, high school hazing tactics resulted in a 14 year old Estacada high school freshman taking a shot at a 16 year old upper classman with a .22 calibre revolver. The older boy had attempted to cut the younger's hair Friday afternoon but had been unable to complete the cutting. Friday evening the pair again met around 9 P.M. and the older boy was going to attempt to carry out his threat. The 14 year-old pulled the gun with the other boy still coming at him. He then started retreating with the older boy after him, turned, fired, and the older boy claimed the bullet passed under his arm. He then ran into a neighborhood home where he was not followed.

The shooting was reported to Chief Barden who conducted an investigation resulting in apprehension of the younger boy and the involvement of two other boys who had successfully stolen the gun involved which had then been sold to the younger boy. The matter is now in the hands of the juvenile authorities.

Tall Tigers Win Again

The Tigers of the Estacada Grade School edged the last place Canby Cougars by a score of 22 to 20 to keep their unbeaten record in league play last Friday on the winners court. The tight defense of the Canby team had the Tigers completely off guard for the entire ball game and almost pulled off an upset which would have dropped the Estacada crew back into a tie with Sandy for the league lead.

The Tall Tigers never did dominate the game as they expected to and just decided they were glad to get the win. The only outstanding thing about the Tigers in this game was their back board work which has been good all year.

Norm Underwood led the scoring with 12 points all on field goals. Howard Bess backed him with 9 more counters to almost account for all of Estacada's points.

The Tigers will have to show marked improvement if they hope to give Oregon City Jr. High a game when the two clubs meet on the Tigers floor. The Tigers will also host the Molalla club on Friday, Feb. 7, at 3:30 P.M.

Of four major recreation areas in operation by the electric company last year, Austin Hot Springs on the upper Clackamas proved most popular with 9,600 visitors.

Three campgrounds in the Timothy lake area near the crest of the Cascades 70 miles east of Portland, drew 7610 visitors in its first summer of operation.

Another new PGE park, at Roslyn Lake near Sandy, drew 4500 visitors while 6400 were counted at River Mill park on the Clackamas river just west of Estacada.

In the spring PGE will open a new park and camping ground at the Pelton project, on the 8-mile lake formed behind the 204-foot high dam on the Deschutes river 9 miles northwest of Madras. Goggin anticipates heavy use of the Pelton park as more than 10,000 people visited the project during construction the past summer.

P. T. A.'s to Celebrate Founders Day 11-Million Members Mark Organization's 61st Year

On February 17 the world's largest voluntary service organization will celebrate its 61st birthday. This is the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, whose nearly eleven million members are active today in P.T.A.'s throughout the 48 states, the District of Columbia, Alaska, and Hawaii. They will mark the organization's Founders Day with a variety of activities aimed at strengthening and expanding their work in their own communities.

Mrs. Rollin Brown, of Los Angeles, president of the National Congress, points out that these 43,000 P.T.A.'s have set the pattern for parent-teacher associations in areas where U.S. armed forces have established American communities overseas. And parents of school children in other nations have sought help from the National Congress in forming similar groups to promote education in their countries.

Founders Day activities, scheduled for February 17, will honor two women whose imagination and concern for children planted the seed for this still-growing organization. It was in 1897 that Alice McLellan Birney and Phoebe Apperson Hearst conceived the idea of a National Congress of Mothers to promote the health and welfare of children by helping their parents learn more about how to fulfill a child's physical and spiritual needs.

They worked hard to interest other women in their aims and approached the date they had set for the organizing meeting with hopes of seeing a hundred or so delegates arrive at Washington's Arlington Hotel. But "only twenty-five are there," admitted Mrs. Birney, "I shall be satisfied."

More than two thousand men and women turned out! Their enthusiastic reception of the aims, as outlined by the Founders, and of the lectures, discussions, and conferences that made up the first meeting set the pace for a great national movement. Soon state congresses were founded, and before long the original "mothers' congress" was broadened to include the concept of parents working with teachers.

Since that founding meeting, the National Congress of Parents and Teachers has written an impressive record of achievement in behalf of children: Donated hundreds of thousands of dollars in scholarships to students planning to enter the teaching profession.

Initiated a program for the periodic health appraisal of well children from birth through high school—an extension of the Summer Round-Up campaigns under which nearly three million preschool children have received physical examinations. Promoted successfully thousands of school building projects, including preliminary surveys, educational campaigns, and school bond issues. Alerted the public to violations of child labor statutes, stressed the need for improved juvenile detention facilities, and supported sound adoption laws. Helped establish child-care centers for children of working mothers and worked to raise the standards of all child-care establishments. Established and supported public kindergartens until public support could be secured. Pioneered in establishing and maintaining thousands of hot school lunch programs long before the public in general became aware of their importance. Helped to keep the schools open during the years of war and depression—an achievement for which it received a special citation from the National Education Association.
