

IT'S OLD-FASHIONED

To Pay Your Bills in Cash!

Paying bills by cash is as outmoded as Gramp's mustache cup . . . and a good thing too! Carrying a large wad of money about was an open invitation to theft or loss . . . to say nothing of time wasted plodding all over town to pay bills. Today, folks let the mailman do the footwork. They pay by check, avoid loss, forestall arguments, save time and steps.

THE WAYSIDE

(By John J. Inskip, County Farm families who have farmed the same land continuously for a hundred years or more will be honored at the State Fair coming up by the Oregon State Department of Agriculture headed by Robert J. Stewart. The first claimant to this distinction coming to our attention include descendants of the late George Washington Jackson. Sr. living in the Glad Tidings Community between Molalla and Marquam. Coming to our office recently with documents to support their claim were Mrs. Gladys Long and Mrs. Esther Wilbrod, granddaughters of George Washington Jackson, Sr. The other grandchild is Carl Jackson, a brother. Families of these three are still farming a portion of the original donation land claim petitioned by George W. Jackson, Sr. Oct. 1, 1849. In evidence also was the patent signed by President Buchanan about 10 years later.

George Washington Jackson Sr. was born in Easton, Pa. May 10, 1825. At the age of 12 he was sent to Illinois where he was apprenticed to a tanner. He came to Oregon as we recollect from the evidence in 1847. Later he returned to Pennsylvania. He returned shortly to Oregon by way of Panama. The donation land claim included a section of 640 acres in township 5 south 1 sec. Here he started farming and raised a family of 14 children of whom George Washington Jackson Jr. was the youngest. Mrs. Lang, Mrs. Wilbrod and Carl Jackson are his descendants.

George Washington Jackson Sr. was a man of parts. In addition to farming, he taught grade school, singing and dancing. He is the author of a pioneer song and his descendants have the original copy written by his hand. For one winter, at least, he taught the Bald Hill school near the present Jacob Schnack place.

Evidently in those days, and much later, funds raised by assessment were not sufficient for paying a good school teacher. In this instance seven of the neighbors signed an agreement to pay their teacher $100 a quarter of three quarters. The signers were Charles N. Vandervort, H. F. Kaylor, Levi Davis, Wm. Broughton, Esther Todd, John Wilhoit and James O. Fruit. All the signees wrote good hands but the latter signature was faded and we cannot be too sure of it.

The elder Jackson belonged to the Masonic lodge. He was appointed Glad Tidings Postmaster in 1860. He operated a small tannery on Rock Creek and was active in military affairs. In fact he was appointed Colonel of the second regiment of the territorial militia August 1, 1856 by B. F. Harding acting governor.

Pioneers were not without social diversions. Among the documents owned by the elder Jackson's descendants is the copy of an invitation to a party. (Continued on Page 3)

SURVIVAL STOCKPILE

ODCM Has Vast Supplies In 'Bank' If U. S. Is Hit

One of the nation's largest "bank accounts" against the possibility of enemy attack is the Office of Defense and Civilian Mobilization's stockpile of strategic materials.

Stored away in 43 ODCM warehouses across the United States are about $225,000,000 worth of medical and engineering supplies—enough to aid millions of Americans after an attack.

MEDICAL STOCKPILES include 1,932 civil defense emergency hospital units and back-up supplies estimated sufficient for the emergency medical care of 4 1/4 million persons for three weeks.

In the engineering stockpiles are approximately $5,900 tons of equipment and supplies. They contain material essential to restoration of public facilities—water pumps, generators, purifiers, storage tanks, pipe and similar items.

To assure that this survival "hardware" will be located where it would be most needed after an attack, ODCM has chosen warehouse sites convenient to but outside the nation's 92 critical targets.

Among these storage sites are three "general reserve" warehouses with stockpiles designed to supply any section of the country. Most unusual of these reserve storage areas is the vast, underground warehouse in a converted limestone mine near Neosho, Mo.

IN THIS HUGE privately-owned cave, shared by ODCM with the stockpiles of industrial concerns, is 14 acres of space served by special automatic sprinkling and ventilating equipment.
