

KEEP WALTER NORBLAD

YOUR EXPERIENCED REPRESENTATIVE IN CONGRESS

NORBLAD KNOWS WHAT THE VOTERS WANT in his district!

This picture shows Walter Norblad, assisted by his wife, Elizabeth, personally tabulating the thousands of replies received in answer to his letters seeking the opinion of Oregon people on important issues.

WORKING FOR OREGON WITH A 13-YEAR HEADSTART
With 435 members in the House of Representatives, influence is gained by a representative in Congress only through seniority. That's why Walter Norblad is able to do so much for Oregon. His 13-year headstart is important to jobs in Oregon. Through his seniority Norblad is Oregon's only influential voice in Congress. Keep Walter Norblad in Congress.

Any newly elected congressman could not attain Norblad's congressional influence unless he served continuously to the year 1973!

You have an investment in Walter Norblad's experience and seniority in Congress. Don't lose it.

Springwater

By Phyllis Fitch
Last week Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Tucker and Tucker went to Corvallis to see the Grenadier Guards and the Massed Pipes and the Highland Dancers of Scots Guards. They put on a very colorful spectacle in the coliseum.

Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Del Gant went with Del's sister Mrs. Mary Morris to Castle Rock, Longview and Woodland, Wash. to visit with Del's aunt.

Friday night is Booster night at Springwater Grange. Pot luck supper at 6:30. Everyone welcome.

Saturday eve Mr. and Mrs. Del Gant's youngest daughter, Reitha and her husband Don celebrated their daughter Darlene's first birthday at the Dal Gant home.

Sunday visitors at the Ed. Aycock home were Sue's brother, Joe Erikson and his wife and her father, Mr. Gibson, all from Milwaukie.

Friday eve Mr. and Mrs. Ray Aycock and their son Ernie drove to Seaside to attend the football game between Estacada and Seaside. They spent the night and returned home Saturday P. M.

Jim Smith's folks, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Smith from Vashon Island, Wash. visited at the Jim Smith home several days on their way by trailer house to California. While they were visiting Mrs. Smith's mother, Mrs. Abbie Evans from Gladstone visited; also Jim's uncles, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Taylor and Forrest Lowe and daughter Arlene from Portland. Sunday visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mann and children Suzanne and Charlotte.

Work started Monday, Oct. 20 on the remodeling of the Springwater church.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Shibley have started the task of repainting their home.

Rev. Hampton was on crutches Sunday due to a badly injured foot which he hurt when a log rolled on it. We are thankful he wasn't hurt worse.

There were 75 to 80 people present at the wedding reception for Mr. and Mrs. James Shibley on October 15 at the home of his parents, Mr and Mrs. Everett Shibley. There were many relatives and friends from this vicinity as well as Portland and out of town. The young people were happy to meet their friends. They received many nice gifts. Last Thursday morning they left for Ghost Ranch, Calif. where they will make their home.

An overnight guest Friday at the Wilbur Howell home was Mrs. Howell's brother, Dale Grier from Portland.

Sunday visitors at the Wilbur Howell home were Mrs. Howell's mother and step father, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Linder from Carver.

Sunday evening the Springwater Youth Fellowship had election of officers as follows: Moderator Carol Smith; vice moderator Jimmy Hampton; stated clerk Bonnie Howell; treasurer Mike Newel; sergenat at arms- Rev. Hampton. Installation will be during church.

Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Howell visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Howell in the Dodge Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Sullivan expect Gene's mother home Wednesday from a two month trip to Nebraska.

Sunday dinner guests at the Gene Sullivan home were Mr. and Mrs. John Sullivan and children from Estacada.

The Springwater Ladies Aid Society will meet Oct. 23 at 2 P.M. at the home of Wilma Guttridge. Sue Aycock and Wilma Guttridge are hostesses.

Philip Centemann arrived in Portland Sunday morning at 7 on the train from his trip to Kansas City with the FFA boys.

Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Erickson from Springwater and Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Still from Barton helped at the dinner given for the Atkinson Co. employees held at the Legion hall in Estacada. New York steaks were served prepared by Mrs. Erickson.

Visiting several days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gillette was Mrs. Gillette's mother, Mrs. Carl Schulte from Tillamook. Sunday they all drove to Salem to visit relatives.

was the good news that John Stormer had been elected Mayor of South Estacada. His election means that the Stormer plantation will become a banana orchard next year. It had to be abandoned because there would be many a slip on the banana peels and break their legs for which the plantation would have to pay. But with John in as Mayor he can sign an ordinance that will require that the peeling would have to be left on the fruit for 24 hours after it left the place. Since John is a Mayor now he ought to get married.

Some startling news came out of the grade school last week. One of the boys in the lower grades announced that he was going to marry his teacher when he got to be a man. The announcement was startling because the friends of the teacher believed that she had given her heart to another. The boy said he would pay for the wedding out of his piggy bank including an engagement ring, but he will not have to build a house as his mother told him to bring her home with him and she could stay with them.

An Estacada ex-dentist says that several years ago an Estacada woman came into his office and said that she had to reduce or quit living an she was at his office to begin doing it. "How can I help?" he asked. "Take out my sweet tooth!" she replied.

This is the masterpiece of the week by an unknown author: "Before you sit down to wait for your ship to come in, ask yourself what reason you have for expecting a ship."
