

Hey Mom...
clothes dry fluffier
than in the sun
with an electric dryer

Why worry about sudden rainstorms or dull cloudy weather? An electric dryer is so easy to install; in basement, bath, utility room or kitchen. No flues or vents necessary. You can dial fair weather every day in the year. See your appliance dealer, today!

Scoop and Snoop

This column had such a case of 'type lice' last week, we hardly recognized our own writings. May be Jim has sprayed the place and thereby eliminated the pesky critters.

Saw Tony Varitz from the Dodge district in town last Monday. Said he was doing some shopping and taking care of some local business. Now there is a guy that I wish we had a dozen of here in town.

Haven't heard from "Hizzoner" John of South Estacada for over a month. Guess he is hibernating for the winter. Or maybe he is preparing for his annual Council meeting that he holds every year on the day before Christmas. We've made two of those meetings and let me tell you, there are no holds barred. It's strictly an invitational affair so don't try to barge in.

Had a chance to shake hands with Father Jackson, the new priest at St. Aloysius Parish the other day. I think he will be good for the parish and the community. We believe he is the type who will really get things done. Welcome to the community Father Jackson.

Sure seems good to see all the construction work going on in town. Two new business buildings going up in the downtown sector and several new homes in the residential area. Now if we can just get some of the present monstrosities that are presently being called buildings, torn down, it would help the area.

Now that the North Fork project is about completed, the town is certainly losing a lot of fine people. They have left their mark here, and we believe that, having known many of those folks the community as a whole will be much better off. We are truly sorry to see many of these people leave.

Saw Ed. Lee form Porter down town the other day. He's had quite a session in the hospital with a leg blood clot. He tells us that he has to go to Frisco for another operation shortly. We're glad to see him up and about and hope that all goes well with his next operation.

Sure glad elections are over for the time being at least. It was bad enough to have to listen to the potential candidates on radio, but watching them expound on TV was just about too much.
