

DODGE

By Anne Justice
Airman 2-C Bill Wolford arrived home last Friday to spend a short leave with his family, the John Wolfords in Dodge. Bill is stationed at Klamath Air Base in California.

Sunday evening, Nov. 30 Kay Sunstrand, a missionary who recently returned from the Belgian Congo gave a talk and showed slides at the Dodge Community hall.
Mr. and Mrs. Ed Caswell and Mrs. Paul Slane attended a 4H livestock leaders training meeting at the Thora B. Gardiner Jr.

High in Oregon City on Wednesday evening, Nov. 19.
The Capable Cooks had charge of the entertainment at the monthly program meeting of 4H Clubs in Dodge. Mrs. H. J. Westberg accompanied the clubs on the piano in a community sing. Eugene Davis was named 4Her of the month for outstanding work. The forestry group gave a demonstration on how to improvise a stretcher in the woods. Scott Justice and Eugene Davis named the parts of a dairy animal and Elwyn Reynolds and George Caswell did the same with a pig, using slides. Christine Kishpaugh and Karyle Reynolds showed how to make a Rice Delight. Susan Caswell and Clara Begulein of the Needle No-tes showed the equipment necessary for a proper sewing box. The Stock Dodgers had an excellent exhibit of pictures and various feeds and hays. The group sang 4H songs that their leader, Mrs. Justice had learned a number of years ago at 4H Club Camp in South Dakota.

Refreshments were served by the Stock Dodgers.

been up there since they had filled the lake in back of the dam. Boy, isn't that some puddle, though. We tried to visualize what that attraction is going to mean to the town when next summer rolls around. That lake is certainly going to be a tourist attraction.
Our editor seems to be hobnobbing with some pretty high paid brass these days. Every once in a while he will refer to "the colonel from Milwaukee." Incidentally, that smug expression Jim is wearing these days is due to the fact he received a letter from the local bank in which was enclosed a Christmas Club check in Jim's favor. He says he made every weekly payment too.

visited the Holt Memorial Chinese Church. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Shibley, Estacada Rt. 2.
Mr. and Mrs. Willard Turner of Portland were week end guests of the George Bavarts, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Williams also of Portland, visited them on Sunday. The Bill Williams were formerly residents of Estacada.
Mr. and Mrs. Ed Schlu, John and Linda moved to Long Beach, Calif. on Wednesday of last week.

Last week we were talking with one of the leading land holders from down Currinsville way and during the course of the conversation that nasty word "annexation" crept in. He stated that if that is tried again here in town they are going to incorporate down there. Guess the battle lines are still drawn.

The Rural Fire Protection District is about to hold an election for two Board of Directors members. You people who are outside of town and in that district had better check on the candidates, make your choice, and then get out and vote. After all, they will have some say as to how some of your tax money will be spent.

We see by the county seat paper that the City Dads here are complaining to the state authorities about the silt proposition in the river here, which they say is being caused by the construction work upstream. We wonder if the pressure from the State on the sewage disposal problem here in town is beginning to sting a bit. We remember when the project first started here, it really received the red carpet treatment. Sounds to me like they are snapping at the hand that has been feeding them. We look at it this way. So what if we do have to let a glass of water settle before we can drink it. Think of all the good soil you are adding to your lawn each summer when you are ter said lawn.

We would have liked to have seen the expression on Sim Dunlop's face when he arrived home from work and gazed upon Betty's latest hair-do. We'll bet the foundations of the House of Dunlop really shook. We've got to give you credit, Betty. That one took some nerve.

WINNIE PARTICIPATES IN COMMUNITY PROGRAM
Lewis and Clark College—Winnie Shibley of Estacada recently participated in the 4th annual community program sponsored by the Associated Women Students of the college. The purpose of the program involving 140 girls was to observe and assist in the work of 18 social agencies of Portland.
Miss Shibley sophomore was the leader of the group of girls that
