OREGON STATEHOOD STAMP BEING ISSUED
The 4-cent Oregon Statehood Centennial commemorative to be first placed on sale February 14, 1959 at Astoria, Ore. will symbolize the end of the long overland trek of its original settlers.

Robert Hallock of Newton, Con. is the artist who designed the forthcoming stamp. It emphasizes a rear view of an unhorsed covered wagon, typical of those used over the Oregon trail by the early settlers.

The stark realism of the stamp design depicts the covered wagon in the center with Mount Hood to the right. The terrain slopes to the left or west meeting the Pacific Ocean.

In the upper portion of the design in dark Gothic lettering arranged in two lines is Oregon Statehood in 1859-1959. In the sky to the left of the wagon is a white star, symbolizing statehood, while across the bottom, in white Gothic lettering against a solid background is 'U. S. Postage 4 Cents.'

The new stamp, measuring 0.84 by 1.44 inches, arranged horizontally, will be printed in a blue-green color in sheets of 50 electric-eye perforated and printed by the rotary process. An initial printing of 120,000,000 has been authorized.

Collectors desiring first day cancellations may send addressed envelopes to the Postmaster, Astoria, Oregon, with remittance to cover the cost of the stamps to be affixed. An enclosure of medium weight should be placed in each envelope and the flap either turned in or sealed.

The outside envelope to the Postmaster should be endorsed 'First Day Covers Oregon Statehood Stamp'

Oregon is one of the three West Coast states—the others being California to the south and Washington to the north. It was named for its greatest river now the Columbia which was called the Ouragan by the Indians.
