

ODDLY ENOUGH by Waldman

During World War I, New Zealanders found a way to fresh vegetable production by adding the element molybdenum to the soil.

Today in the U.S.A. the latest advance is a new form of molybdenum called Moly-Gro. With this material it is possible to increase yields of such crops as alfalfa, peas, peanuts, and soybeans up to 50% by treating the seeds rather than adding to the soil. Most important, it is easier for the farmer to apply.

After the war it was found that this same element enabled Australian and New Zealand ranchers to improve grazing lands to the point where 4 acres could support 16 sheep instead of just 1.

LaFaye Fouts of town visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Allen last Wednesday were Art and Deorus Kuhn, Mr. and Mrs. Danny Marrison and daughter Robin. Art Kuhn has just received his discharge from the navy, and he and his wife are stopping for a brief visit to friends and relatives in this vicinity before continuing on to Florida and to Penn. to make their home.

Mr. and Mrs. John McKenzie were hosts at a birthday dinner at the West Linn Inn last Wednesday.

Guests were Mrs. Bonnie Riplogle and Randal Church. Gary Fouts has graduated from Northwestern School of Commerce and is working in the school of office.

Ila Skinner started working at Seid's in Oregon City last Monday. Flyod Rash was home on leave from Fort Ord to attend his father's funeral.

Hazel Chambers has been very ill for the past week with the flu. Mrs. Fred Mofford has also been ill this past week.

Oliver Gerber is the owner of a new Ford pickup.

Anyone in the vicinity of Gerbers Hill can hear the coyote howl around 11 PM at night. They have been firing the sheep whistles a lot of trouble and really make the shivers run up and down your spine at night. It is a very eerie sound.

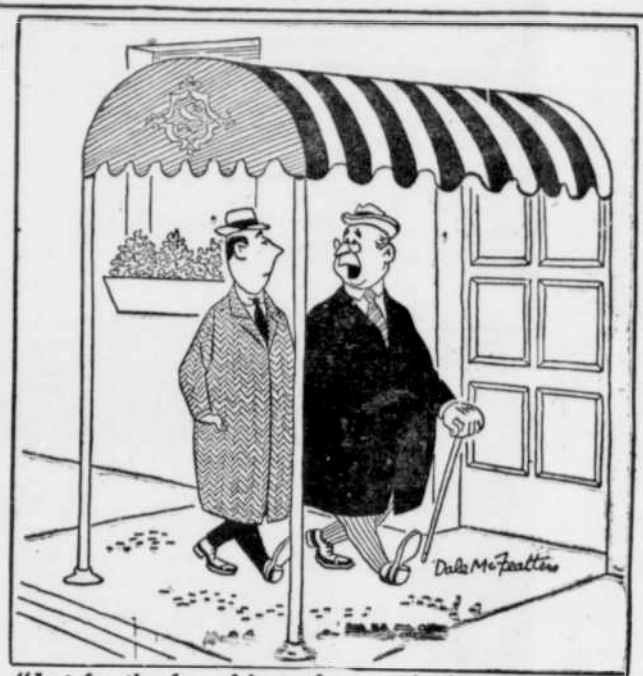

The Territorial Riders are planning their annual spring dance at the Redland Grange hall March 21st.

Don and Hazel Fickens and children spent last Sunday in Portland visiting the Bill Dunbar family.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Groves and daughter Linda moved into the basement of their new home on the Viola hill last Sunday. They will sell their trailer house and the creek frontage by the bridge.

Rev. Verne Renaud performed the first baby dedication service last Sunday for the baby boy of Author Mattson.
