the wedding rehearsal. Among those who attended the wedding in Milwaukie last Saturday afternoon was Mrs. Jesse Whisler and her daughter Nancy, Mr. and Mrs. Don Johnson, Mrs. Charles Mode, and Mr. and Mrs. Walt Smith, with their daughter Luella Lutz of Gladstone.

Houseguests at the Carl Ronnow home were three fellow students who arrived from Forest Grove with Kenny Ronnow for a week end visit. They were Ray Hent of Bethlehem, Conn., Grace Johnson of Vulcan, Alberta, Canada and Wanla Galster of Sweet Home.

Kenny Ronnow was recently named on the honor roll at Pacific U.
Sunday Mrs. Maude Burnett enjoyed the surprise visit of some cousins Mr. and Mrs. Pomeroy and son Will of Portland and Mr. Tom Burnett from San Francisco. The latter remained here until Monday.

Last Saturday four local ladies were luncheon guests of Mrs. Bernice Howell in Clackamas. Mrs. Maude Bennett, Mrs. Shirley Burnett, Mrs. Earl Brackett, and Mrs. Homer Glover attended a Centennial luncheon at the Clackamas Congregational Church. Appropriate decorations and costumes lent atmosphere to the affair, which was high lighted by Mrs. Hartman, a well known historian, recounting the story of pioneer Tabitha Brown.

Sunday visitors attracted by new baby at the Lloyd Stephens home included the Lloyd Holt family of Kelso and Mrs. Holt's mother Mrs. Dultz, Mr. and Mrs. Doc Moody (Celeste's brother) of Portland and Don Martin (her brother in law) of Nampa, Ida. Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Whisler were Friday night dinner guests of Lucy and Art Smith of Currinsville.

Mrs. Frank White has been a patient at Providence Hospital in Portland since Feb. 16 when she was stricken with a heart attack. Her daughter and son in law, Margaret and Ronald Shelhart of Eugene were visiting with her for a number of days last week.

The Ladies Aid held a special work day at Eagle Creek church Wednesday of this week and tied a number of quilts. The two newly elected officers, Lillian Still as secretary and Anne Judd as treasurer, assumed their duties for the first time at the regular meeting a week ago. An auction of items donated by members was held after that meeting adding $35 to the treasury. 19 members and 2 guests were present. They voted to hold a food sale, Saturday, March 14 at the News office in Estacada. Both baked foods and fresh tamales will be sold and it is suggested that orders be placed in advance by phoning Edna (Mrs. Virgil) Nelson at CR 9-6573.

The first of a series of four Sunday evenings at Eagle Creek Church featuring the study of the Middle East last Sun. P.M. attracted 40 for the showing of a film strip on Egypt. The next 2 Sunday eve sessions beginning at 6:45 P.M. will include classes for various age groups. Details on the final evening are yet to be announced. Everyone interested is invited to share in these informal programs of study and fellowship.

A SPECIAL WORD TO WOMEN COLLEGE JUNIORS

The U. S. Army has a program of particular interest to woman college juniors which was implemented during the summer of 1957. This program calls for a probational appointment with a 6 week training period at Fort McClellan, Alabama, in the summer prior to the senior year in college, tendering Reserve commissions, Women's Army Corps Branch, with concurrent call to active duty, to qualified women college graduates.

If you are interested you can receive more information about this program from SFC Richard L. Johnson, your Army recruiter at 1506 Washington, Oregon City. Phone OL 6-7111 for appointment

SKYWAYS, INC. TO HOLD OPEN HOUSE WEEK END

A two day open house has been scheduled by Skyways, Inc., next week end to show the public a $30,000 expansion and remodeling program to be completed this week, and a full line showing of 1959 Cessna aircraft models.

According to Skyways president Ernie Helms, the Saturday and Sunday vent will be staged from 9 A.M. to 5 P.M. daily at the Portland-Troutdale airport flight operation. Included in the new model and accessory display will be

It is one thing (and a very good one, at that) to listen to inspiring music or to view a wonderful painting.

It is quite another to be able to do something, then, about the emotion and the burning yearning that fills you from the hearing or viewing.

Most of us yearn to express this inner feeling, in music or art work of our very own creating. But, if we've never been privileged to study music or art — how to do it?

Blessed in my book, then, are the new "do-it-yourself" opportunities for anyone, no matter how musically or artistically inept, to play music, and to paint in oils or water colors.

Following up the painting "by the numbers" kit (and you really can paint beautiful scenes with it, even if you're color blind!) is a compact little electric organ that you can play beautiful music on, "by the numbers." With your left hand you press the numbered buttons which give you chords; with the right hand you play the numbered notes for the melody. It sounds real fine, and it's surprisingly reasonably priced.

What a boon these new wonders are to those of us who "would just sit down and play, or paint a picture!"

Prepared by American Foundation for Animal Health

America's livestock producers are now taking a financial licking of more than 100 million dollars a year due to causes related to faulty nutrition.

Animals lose weight, milk production is reduced, young animals are born blind, deformed or dead, and mature animals may have defective bones... all this caused by faulty nutrition alone.

Vitamin deficiencies can cause calf problems.

One of the most important nutritional problems at this time of year is Vitamin A deficiency. It causes such severe losses that the national committee in charge of Livestock Loss Prevention Year is making a special drive against it this month.

For the farmer, it is important that he know key symptoms of Vitamin A deficiency, so he can be alert for them and get prompt help when they appear. In young calves, symptoms include watery eyes, nasal discharge, cough, wrinkled skin, staggering, and weakness. Mature cattle may develop night blindness or have swollen legs and forequarters. Cows may produce weak, blind, or dead calves.

In swine, Vitamin A deficiency may cause blindness, muscular incoordination, respiratory difficulties, and production of weak, blind, or malformed pigs.

The first thing an owner should do if any of these tell-tale signs appear in his livestock, is to have a proper diagnosis made, to be sure of the cause. Some of these troubles can also be caused by things other than Vitamin A deficiency.

If lack of Vitamin A is the cause, the answer, naturally, is to bolster the ration with corrective amounts of the vitamin. Sometimes, special supplementary treatment may also be needed.

The best plan, of course, is to prevent such deficiency problems. This can usually be done by feeding green, leafy legume hay or yellow corn.
