Local Lines.

Best plow on earth The Oliver. F. L. CHAMBERS has them.

Evan Martin of Creswell died on the night of February 14 at that place, aged 71 years. He leaves a wife and seven children.

Pitta Orchard cultivators good and low prices at F. L. CHAMBERS.

This is court week at the Dalles and up to February 15, they had gotten only four jurors on the trial of Frank Forester for killing Phil. Brogan at Antelope last fall.

Go to Green's grocery store on Willamette, between 9th and 10th Streets. Jesse Eddy, a 15 year old lad, was arrested and sentenced to five days in the city jail Friday for violating the curfew ordinance. He was released Friday.

Spray your trees and you can have good apples and good price. Bean Spray pump makes light work see them at F. L. CHAMBERS.

Died.—At Irving, Oregon, Feb. 14, 1899, of consumption, Tyson Hagin, aged 23 years. The funeral services were held at the family home in that place Friday forenoon at 10 o'clock. Interment in the Mulkey cemetery. He leaves a father and one sister.

Spray material all ready mixed at low prices at F. L. CHAMBERS.

Capitol Journal: Ex-State Treasurer Phil Metschan was foisted on the house as Paris commissioner and foisted off by the senate. A patient public could endure giving that genial gentleman rest from further official honors.

John Farleigh who has been in Southern Oregon this winter about Grants Pass came in a few days ago and says the cold snap out there reached only 12 degrees below freezing, and that he heard no complaint about damage to fruit and gardens. He saw Perkins and Ben Rush and says Ben is mining and doing well. Altogether Mr Farleigh concludes that the western part of Oregon is a mighty fine country. John's health which was poor when he left has improved.

Mrs Kate Johnson and Ida Kress now languish in the city jail in default of paying a fine of $50 each and $15 costs imposed by Recorder Dorris, on a charge of keeping a house of ill fame in the city. These women are the same who have been posing as barbers in Eugene for some time past. While our city officials are about it they may as well go ahead and finish up before stopping. There is some more work of the same sort needed.

Hon Al Powers of McKenzie Bridge called at our office Saturday who informs us that it only got down to 1 degree below zero during the cold snap at the Bridge, and that he does not believe the fruit up his way was injured by the freeze. Mr Powers' sons who are in Alaska writes Mr Powers that they are getting along all right. Provisions and clothing were plentiful and at reasonable rates. He says the merchants and bankers up there have combined and will not handle the negro's gold dust unless at a discount of about $2.00 on the ounce. So it seems even in the polar regions men fail to get beyond the reach of combines and trusts.

Elmira Letter.

February 10, 1899.

To the Broad-Axe:

Well the frogs have come down from the willow tree and are upon the music stand again, and the garter snakes are out upon the parade ground, so everything is lovely in Elmira and the "goose hangs high."

Mr McClure, the postmaster, tells me that W. T. Kayser has ordered his paper stopped. I knew that he would, for he is one of Potter and Bailey's pet monkeys. I was told that this bill for road supervisor this year was $105. He had it last year and he has done the road no good. That is what everybody will tell you that know anything about the road that he has been supervising over. He was one of the five men that they had summoned as a witness against Mrs. Runkles to prove that that bridge was in good repair. They kept the five men there all week, and then threw her case out of court—they knew they would get beat.

T. J. D.

The roasting our correspondent gives this pet monkey is justly deserved. It appears that some of our correspondents can how to the line as well as the Broad-Axe. Hit 'em again.

Elmira Correspondence.

To the Broad-Axe:

I wish that every taxpayer in Lane county could get to read that letter Brother Richardson wrote. It is facts that every taxpayer ought to know. I have known Brother Richardson for over forty years. He is one of our best men in the state—a man with a strong will-power, and a man who carries a mighty influence among his associates. He says that if we can violate one clause in the constitution, then we can violate another; so it is of no effect at all. Now have we had any invasion or insurrection in Lane county? I think not. Well where is there excuse for this enormous debt?

Everybody will say none at all. When the taxpayers built that courthouse which the county court sold to the Campbell boys for a pot of potatoes. I think that house cost $8000 or $9000 and the jail, I don't remember now what it cost, but they were both good enough when they were torn away, unless the taxpayers were more able to build better ones.

Now Mr Taxpayer do you want to be made slaves or not? Now I remember very well when we had good men like Judge Hill and Judge Walton, Judge Risdon for our county judge our taxes did not exceed ten mills.

March Jury List.

The jury list for the term of the Lane county circuit court commencing March 6, 1899, was drawn according to law Tuesday by County Clerk Lee and Deputy Sheriff Day, G. W. Griffin acting as witness. Following is the list: E. K. Henderson, druggist, Eugene; Bruno Vitus, farmer, Springfield; John D. West, farmer, Junction City; H. E. Allingham, farmer, Willamette; H. Payne, farmer, Eugene; V. McFarland, carpenter, Eugene; P. T. Carter, carpenter, Eugene; Jas. J. Winn, farmer, Long Tom; C. W. Thompson, farmer, Gate Creek; P. N. Shelley, farmer, Pleasant Hill; J. I. Taylor, farmer, Cottage Grove; I. J. Kirk, farmer, Junction City; O. M. Cahow, farmer, Goshen; J. B. Innis, farmer, Springfield; L. Taylor, farmer, Cottage Grove; J. W. Patrick, farmer, Hazel Dell; Geo. Norris, farmer, Florence; J. T. Rowland, farmer, Eugene; J. F. Tanner, farmer, Florence; Alex. Lewis, farmer, Mabel; A. J. Harlow, farmer, Springfield; Joe Duncan, farmer, Hermann; E. P. Coleman, farmer, Willamette; Fred Wright, farmer, Creswell; Wm. Campbell, farmer, Lake Creek; Philo Wilcox, farmer, Springfield; Geo. Courtwright, farmer, Cheshire; R. B. Mills, farmer, Florence; I. K. Peters, grocer, Eugene; Wm. Duryee, farmer, Mohawk; A. J. Zugwalt, farmer, Irving.

Dropped His Revolver.

Feb 17, Charles Stanton, of Creswell, dropped a revolver on the sidewalk at Cottage Grove, which exploded, the ball entering the calf of his leg and lodging near his knee. The ball was extracted. The wound is not serious.

To the Editor:

I see by the Broad-Axe that the valley has enjoyed a touch of winter. Well at the same time we Siuslawers were shivering to the tune of 10 degrees above zero. This only lasted 3 days, then it moderated, rained and a flood. At this writing the weather is warm and spring-like, so much so that some of the people have started to make garden.

Last Saturday we had the pleasure of seeing the tug Roberts steam down the river and over the bar and attach a tow line to the schooner Bella and tow her back across the bar and up to the wharf at Florence. Then on Monday the Bella was towed up to Acme to take on lumber.

There was quite a rally of Masons at Florence last Saturday night. They came from Gardner, the Cape and Head of Tide. They had a midnight supper which was pronounced grand. Last night the Odd Fellows had a midnight spread which was a success.

The first of the week I made a trip out to the Lakes and everybody was inquiring when that electric line was to start. You see the people here are eager for it.

How are the folks out in the valley? In a few days I intend to visit the falls on north fork of Smith river, when I return I will report on their availability for electrical purposes.

Mirth Items.

Feb 17, 1899.

Ed Broad-Axe:

After quite a rest I send you a few items.

The cold weather did not hurt our orchards here like I understand it did about Eugene. We will have apples, pears and cherries if they don't get killed yet. The grain is injured some and a few potatoes frozen.

Mr Editor I have thought a good deal about that trade our county court made with that Booth-Kelley Co and I suppose they could lease one highway as well as another. Now if I could lease the wagon road to Siuslaw river and then both road and river to Florence for 90 or 100 years I might make something out of it. But it might make a vast difference who applied for a favor. There is no doubt but we have now the most useless court Lane county has ever been cursed with and if the people had the imperative mandate now they would be relegated to private life for the remainder of their natural lives.

Mr Editor, my only hope is in the Initiative and Referendum with the Imperial Mandate.

There is a fine prospect of a good stone coal mine being developed in our neighborhood soon. (Mirth) might lay all the country towns in the shade some day. The people are generally well—only a few cases of tenas meales.

Quid Nunc.

A C Jennings has sued John Branton in the Lane county circuit court for the possession of 167 head of sheep of the value of $3 per head, in the possession of said John Branton as lailee of plaintiff. The complaint alleges that said Branton has wrongfully and with intent to defraud and cheat plaintiff, sold 60 head of the sheep to the damage to plaintiff of $180, and converted the same to his own use. Wherefore the plaintiff asks for judgment in the sum $180 and costs.
