

Royal Baking Powder

Imparts Healthfulness to the Food

Royal Baking Powder possesses peculiar qualities not found in other leavening agents, which arise from the superior fitness, purity and healthfulness of its ingredients.

Royal Baking Powder leavens the food perfectly by its own inherent power without changing or impairing any of the elements of the flour. Thus the hot-breads, hot-rolls and muffins, and the delicious hot griddle-cakes raised by the Royal Baking Powder are wholesome and digestible, and may be eaten without distress, even by persons of delicate digestion.

Alum baking powders are low priced, as alum costs but two cents a pound; but alum is a corrosive poison and it renders the baking powder dangerous to use in food.

A Modern Instance.

The wonderful advance made in the science of farming during the last few years is one of the best examples of American progressiveness. A little instance recounted by the Ashtabula (Ohio) Sentinel is characteristic. One evening, a short time ago, a society in Jefferson needed a gallon of cream. The committee called up by telephone the proprietors of a milk farm two miles north of the town, and asked if they could furnish it. The reply was that they could as soon as milking was done. In 30 minutes from the time the call was made, the cream was delivered. The milk had been drawn from the cow, put into a separator, the cream extracted and sent to town by a man on a bicycle. A few years ago the committee would have had to send a boy in the afternoon, "yesterday's milk," would have had to be skimmed, and if the boy had not treaded too many chipmunks on the way, he might have got back in time for the festival.

A NEW FEATURE

In the Rock Island Personally Conducted Weekly Excursions.

Always mindful of the comfort of their patrons, the Rock Island route has again come to the front with a new feature in connection with their popular personally conducted weekly excursions. All through tourist cars on their personally conducted excursions are now provided with the illustrated weekly periodicals, viz.: Life, Luck, Judge, Leslie's, Harper's and Illustrated London News, fresh each week, for the free use of their patrons. They are placed in substantial binders, properly marked with name of periodical, etc.

This is a distinctive feature of the Rock Island tourist excursions, and will no doubt be much appreciated by the traveling public. The Rock Island excursions are up to date in every particular.

For full information in regard to Rock Island personally conducted excursions to all points East, write to A. E. Cooper, G. A. P. D., 246 Washington St., Portland, Oregon.

When Nineveh and Babylon were in the splendor of their might, men in China were predicting eclipses, making cyclograms and giving names to the stars. But Nineveh and Babylon were mere mounds of earth and rubbish when China was great, and to this date the civilization and life of the empire is the wonder of the world.

Home demand absorbs almost all the street car builders can turn out, so that the export trade in this line has been temporarily abandoned. One or two export houses in New York, however, have been doing a lively business in second hand motor cars, a large number going to Mexico.

The Swedes are probably the tallest people in Europe, and have, on the whole, erect, handsome figures. To some extent this advantage is due to physical exercise, for Ling's Swedish gymnastics are compulsory in the elementary schools, and much used in other schools and colleges.

There are still four widows of revolutionary soldiers on the pension rolls of the government at Washington. At this rate the United States will be paying pensions to soldiers of the civil war or their widows well on in the last quarter of the coming century and to soldiers or their widows of the Spanish-American war nearly to the close of the first quarter of the twenty-first century.

Should Women Smoke.

I have no earthly objection to women smoking, only, if they do smoke, they should smoke seriously. Most of them just fool a little with a cigarette. Now, that scarcely amounts to smoking at all. If they really mean it, let them take to cigars and pipes. I know a dignified old lady, a Polish countess—what is her name—oh, well, Thingamajigsky—it puts in "lady," anyhow—and I respect that woman. She genuinely smokes, and no mistake about it. There is no playing there. She looks at it as a sacred duty. She has a long pipe with a wooden stem and the bark on, and a fine-bag bowl—a regular opium pipe. When she was visiting me, she just loaded up and smoked, and loaded up and smoked again. She meant business. I know another lady who has a long Turkish pipe, and she, too, means business. If women are ever to be genuine smokers, that is the way they must go to work.—Mark Twain.

Information for the Public.

In selecting your route to the East you cannot afford to overlook the advantages and comforts offered by the Rio Grande Western Railway in connection with the Denver & Rio Grande and Colorado Midland railroads. It is the only transcontinental line passing directly through Salt Lake City, and in addition to the glimpse it affords of the Temple City, the Great Salt Lake, the salt palace, and the picturesque Utah valley, it offers choice of six distinct routes to the East and the most magnificent scenery in the world. A double daily train service and through Pullman palace and ordinary sleeping cars, free reclining chair cars and a perfect dining car service are now in operation via these lines.

HOW TO TRAVEL.

For pamphlets descriptive of the "Great Salt Lake Route," apply to J. D. Mansfield, general agent, 253 Washington street, Portland, Or. Climate, scenery and nature's beauties. Scenery, altitude, sunshine and air, constitute the factors which are rapidly making Colorado the health and pleasure grounds of the world. Here the sun shines 337 days of the average year, and it blends with the crisp, electric mountain air to produce a climate matchless in the known world. No pen can portray, no brush can picture the majestic grandeur of the scenery along the line of the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad in Colorado. Parties going East should travel via the line which is known all over the world as the Scenic Line of the world. For any information regarding rates, time tables, etc., call on or address R. C. Nichol, general agent, 251 Washington street, Portland, Or., or any agent of the O. R. & N. Co., or Southern Pacific Company.

Twins Chickens.

Twenty-five dollars for a pair of spring chickens is a liberal price, yet a Massachusetts farmer rejected it. His pair of chickens, he thinks, are quite unique, for they are twins, five weeks old, and it is said that two chickens born from a single egg have never before been proved to live beyond eight days. The buff brahma hen laid rather a large egg, but no one thought much about it until one morning the farmer saw two bills instead of one trying to break out of the shell. He quickly removed the egg to the kitchen, extracted the twin chicks, wrapped them in cotton batting and placed them in the oven. For three weeks the chickens were kept in doors on a diet of malted milk and brandy dropped down their throats with a medicine dropper. The twins are now hale and hearty and run about the yard as vigorously as any of their comrades. One peculiarity, however, distinguishes them from their mates. They are exclusive little aristocrats and neither of them will associate with any other chicken except his twin.

Ald. Chase Approves a Suggestion.

Recently made by Comptroller Wolf for a solution of the problem of the rate of fare to be charged by the Milwaukee Electric Railway and Light Company. This plan has been adopted in Cleveland.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is a new and dread disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical profession. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional and radical cure. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

CONCERNING PROPOSALS.

"It's jolly hard lines," Bailey Junior said, slinging himself down in Jack's armchair. "What's the hard lines?" I asked, thinking at the same time that although he had been Jack's best man when we were married he need not be quite so familiar with Jack's own particular armchair. I never like to see any one at home in Jack's chair, because, if I am left a widow, I mean to keep it sacred to Jack's memory.

"A fellow isn't allowed to see Baby Jones alone for five minutes."

"Why do you want to see her alone?" I said, for the fifth time, in my mind, was still a child. Perhaps this was due to the fact that she is called "Baby," but Jack says it's because she's not allowed to have her 17th birthday until the two eldest girls are "off." Mamma Jones may be right; more than four girls out at one time is a great responsibility.

Bailey Junior, who had retained the suffix "Junior" ever since he went to school with his eldest brother, looked at me as I said so. "Why do I want to see her alone?" he replied; "because I want to propose, of course; a fellow can't propose with an audience."

"You propose?" I echoed. "Propose to Baby Jones?"

"And pray why shouldn't I?" he asked. "Anything the matter with me?" He pulled down his coat and stuck out his brown riding boots on my new hearth rug. Bailey Junior prided himself on his boots. "I can afford to show a wife, Jack's married."

"No, but Jack's quite different," I said. "Any one can see in a moment that Jack's different. Besides, you'll never get the chance." I continued, remembering Mamma Jones's theory.

"Why the deuce not?"

"Because the four others have to go off first, and they must go in proper order."

"What's Jack got to do with it?"

"O, nothing," I answered; "but Jack's so clever, he always sees through things."

"Why have the others got to go off first?" Bailey Junior asked. "Baby's marriage hasn't anything to do with the others."

"O, yes, it has; you don't understand." "No, I don't; and I'm hanged if I know any else does. Why can't they begin marrying from the other end?"

"Because if the county knows that Baby's old enough to marry, that would make the others just too old, don't you see? It's a point of honor with the Baby to remain under 17 till the eldest girl's off."

"That's all," said Bailey Junior, "now I see; that's why she's so closely guarded and why the eldest girl is always thrown in my way; but I won't have her. I will tell you. No Mamma Jones in the world will make me marry the eldest; none of your serving for Rachel business for me."

"That's right," I said, "but you'll have to wait for Baby until some other fellow does want the others."

"O, Lord!" he exclaimed, in a tone of voice which was scarcely complimentary to the eldest Miss Jones; "and I sail for India this day week."

"I'm awfully sorry," I said; "but that's the principle and code of honor in the Jones family. You can't pick out the best and leave Mamma Jones saddled for life with the plain ones."

Bailey Junior was silent, and I tried my best to think of some plan to help him out of his difficulty. It was of no use to suggest asking Baby Jones to spend the day with me and letting Bailey Junior meet her here, for the Jones girls never went about singly; they hadn't enough friends to go all around, so that if you asked one to tea you always came, they were such a devoted family.

"Dear little girl," he said, "sacrificed for her elder sisters. She'll be thirty before she gets her hair up at that rate. I wonder what her age really is?"

"She's probably got mixed herself," I said; "but isn't it up yet? It will be getting quite worn out."

"It's in a sort of maidenly plait," Bailey Junior said, reflectively, "awfully becoming, don't you know, but it doesn't do any good, it's just a long dress, and put it right up, isn't it? A big girl old enough to be married in short skirts. Jack thinks it horrid."

"I think they're lovely," Bailey Junior answered, "so arched and slender; just think of the eldest girl's."

"O, no one does," I said; "she was put into long skirts before she left the nursery, and she was never allowed to play lawn tennis."

LAW AS INTERPRETED.

Land bought by a judgment creditor in good faith on execution sale is held, in Pugh vs. Higley (Ind.), 44 L. R. A. 302, to be free from secret equities.

An ordinance granting the exclusive privilege to maintain waterworks in a town for thirty years is held, in Thrift vs. Elizabeth City (N. C.), 44 L. R. A. 427, to be in conflict with the constitutional provision against perpetuities and monopolies.

The intelligibility of a person who receives a majority of the votes cast for an office is held in State ex rel. Goodell vs. McGee (Vt.), 44 L. R. A. 440, to give the minority candidate no right to the office, at least when those who voted for the other person did not know that he was intelligible.

An increase in the value of a homestead is held, in Gowdy vs. Johnson (Ky.), 44 L. R. A. 490, to be insufficient to authorize a revaluation and reassessment—at least if the increase was not rapid or extraordinary and no reasonable outlay had been made on the premises.

The failure to furnish automatic car couplers in common use for freight cars is held, in Troxler vs. Southern Railroad Company (N. C.), 44 L. R. A. 313, reaffirming the decision in Greenlee vs. Southern Railroad Company, 41 L. R. A. 300, to constitute negligence per se, for which a railroad company is liable to an employee who is injured in attempting to couple cars having skeleton drawheads of unequal height.

White Lies in Society. A man of doubtful veracity is responsible for this, according to Polly Pry in the New York Herald:

"Nothing amuses me so much," he writes to me, "as to notice the efforts of two women who have just been introduced to impress each other with their importance."

"It generally takes some such shape as this:

"I am delighted to meet you. I heard Mr. Smith say such sweet things about you."

"Awfully nice of you to say so. Which Mr. Smith was it? The cousin of the Vanderbilts?"

"Not exactly—it was."

"We know the Vanderbilts very well. And—"

"No, it wasn't that Mr. Smith. It was the one that we met at George Gould's. He is—"

"Did you go to the Bradley Martins' great dinner?"

"No; it was awfully provoking, but we had an engagement that night at the Waldorf to meet Prince—"

"Indeed! That's the great trouble in society; so many dates clashing, don't you know? Why, the night we made up a box party for the opera—"

"Faust," you know—we had to give up attending a musicale that—"

"And so on and so on, until the two fair friends retire to their respective corners—I mean rooms—each satisfied that the victory is hers."

Temperature of Diamonds. A good diamond is a good deal colder than an imitation, and the lapidaries say that the best way to detect this difference in temperature is to touch the stones to the tongue. Sapphires, emeralds, rubies, garnets, and other precious stones may be tested in the same way—the real stone is invariably colder than the imitation. The lapidaries do not give a reason for the difference, but it may be found, perhaps, in the greater density of the real stones, which makes them better conductors of heat.

Trade in Evaporated Vegetables. Evaporated vegetables were first put up for the Alaskan market, but the business is being developed more largely for export to other parts of the world. The saving in freight rates on these dried vegetables is very material, and sometimes more than offsets the cost of evaporating and packing. A carload of dried canned potatoes contains 3,000 bushels, but would hold only 300 bushels in their natural state.

Missouri's Contempt for a Surf Bath.

A Missourian at Manhattan beach looked with contempt at the men loaching in the sand. "Shucks," said he, "they think they are having fun. Have to come ashore to get in the sand. They ought to live in old Missouri, on the river. You get the sand and water mixed there. Sometimes a man gets more sand than water and has to go home and be washed off. Them mud baths in the northwest that you hear so much about ain't in it with a wash in the old Missouri."

When Doctors Disagree

Herbert M. Fish, a progressive and respected resident of Cape Vincent, N. Y., said: "The doctors disagreed in my case, one said I had the grip, another that it was jaundice, and so on. I tried many remedies but did not receive the slightest benefit. I was low spirited and nervous and had become reduced in weight from 150 pounds to less than 120. One day a friend recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I tried them and the result was indeed marvelous. My appetite returned and I began to feel rested and restored. At the end of the tenth box my physical condition was better than it had been for years and I was a well man."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are now sold by the dozen or hundred, but always in packages of 50 pills, or direct from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., New York, N. Y., 50 cents per box, 6 boxes $2.50.

A Burglary Story.

They were telling "burglary stories" on the veranda in front of the grocery store in a down-east town. "The man's hand was thrust through the hole he had cut in the door," said the star talker, "when the woman seized the wrist and held on in spite of the struggles of the man outside. In the morning the burglar was found dead, having cut his own throat when he found escape impossible; but the brave woman had not known he was dead, and so had not released her grasp on his wrist all night long." "Huh!" growled the skeptic in the corner; "why didn't she feel his pulse?"—Buffalo Commercial.
