Celebrate July 4th at Forest Grove.

Forest Grove has had sickness this year out of all proportion to a city of her size and notwithstanding most favorable natural surroundings. Were the names of all the sick put together it would be an appalling list but where mention is merely made incidentally of isolated cases little is thought of the condition here. Just take the trouble to inquire about the city's health during the past winter and consider if it does not indicate something radically wrong. Cesspools and wells should never be near neighbors but here they are and the drinking water is contaminated. There are few wells where good tasting water can be gotten, fewer where harmless water is to be had. If this wretched condition is not to exist, driving away the people who are here and preventing the coming in of outsiders, some action must be taken immediately. The council without delay should formulate some plan of relief and submit it to the people for their decision. Whatever way then is decided on must be carried out promptly. Till then clean up, keep clean about your premises and boil your drinking water. With proper precautions the city now has nothing to fear, without them it has everything.

The word "young" accidentally crept into our last week's notice of Mr. Stach's singing class for public school children. The class is for any who attend public school regardless of age.
