FRIGHTFUL DISASTER

A CROWDED STREET CAR GOES THROUGH A BRIDGE.

The Car Was Completely Submerged and Over Sixty People Were Drowned—Sad Ending of a Day's Festivities at Victoria.

Victoria, B. C., May 28.—A terrible accident occurred here today. A sham fight and review was to take place at Macaulay point, near Esquimalt, this afternoon, and crowds were making their way there by every route. All the tram cars were packed. Shortly before 2 o'clock two cars left Government street with more than 100 people. The first got over Point Ellice bridge, which crosses Victoria Arm, safely, but when the other was about half way over the middle span of the bridge, about 150 feet in length, gave way, and the car plunged into the water, some 100 feet below. The car was completely submerged, and all on board were drowned, with the exception of some of those who were standing on the platforms and who, escaping injury from the falling timbers, managed to save themselves by using the floating ruins of the bridge, and thus got ashore. Numbers of the bodies have already been got up, and the work of identification is proceeding. It is a difficult matter, as a great many of the bodies are those of visitors.

When the bridge broke there were several carriages on the bridge, and these also were precipitated into the water. Superintendent Wilson was driving one of these, and had his five children with him. He succeeded in saving himself and four children. The fifth, a little boy, was wedged between some iron bars and was drowned.

The news of the catastrophe quickly spread. Citizens gathered and the work of rescue began. As fast as bodies were recovered they were taken to the lawn of the neighboring residence of Captain Grant, where they were diligently worked over, in some cases successfully. Fully 25 bodies were spread out there at one time.

The sad affair has cast a deep gloom over the city. As soon as the news of the accident reached Macaulay point the review was brought to an speedy termination as under the circumstances was possible, and the sham fight was abandoned.

ATROCITIES IN CUBA.

Slaughter of Helpless Inhabitants Still Continues.

Moscow, May 28.—His majesty, Emperor Nicholas Alexandrovitch, autocrat of all the Russias, and her majesty, Empress Alexandra Feodorovna, were solemnly crowned today in the cathedral of the Assumption, with the utmost ceremony and in accordance with all religious forms and ancient rites.

An immense body of troops was gathered around the Kremlin, and from one end to the other of the route followed by the imperial party in passing from the palace to the cathedral. The Te Deum was celebrated in the cathedral at 9 o'clock and after prayers the clergy assembled to receive her majesty, ex-Czarina Mary Feodorovna, who came, accompanied by the members of the imperial family of highest rank, with the exception of those who were to take part in the emperor's procession.

His majesty received the pontifical benediction of the metropolitan of St. Petersburg. The emperor then ordered the imperial crown presented to him, and placed it on his head. The metropolitan of St. Petersburg pronounced the prescribed absolution. In a similar manner his majesty caused to be presented to him the sceptre and the globe, and having the sceptre in his right hand and the globe in his left hand, he seated himself upon the throne for a few moments. The monarch then called upon her majesty, Empress Alexandra Feodorovna, to approach. She knelt before him on the velvet cushion. He solemnly lifted the crown from his own head. His majesty took up the crown of the empress and placed it on the head of her majesty. Her majesty's imperial mantle and collar of the order of St. Andrew were next presented with ceremony. Her majesty then took her seat upon the throne.

The stock of gold bars at the assay office amounts to about $21,500,000, and Superintendent Mason says that of this amount $17,000,000 or $18,000,000 is available for shipment. The remainder of the bars will be retained for commercial purposes.

Since coming to Helena she has gained the confidence of prominent merchants, who set her up in the oil business here and at Great Falls, but drink caused her to lose both. She refuses to give her real name. At present she is an inmate of the Salvation Army Rescue Home in this city.

HOWARD SAT UPON.

The Alabama Populist Wanted to Impeach the President.

Washington, May 26.—Howard, the author of "If Christ Came to Congress," at the opening of the session of the house today, sprang a sensation, but it was shortlived. The house with practical unanimity suppressed him.

As soon as the journal had been read, Howard arose dramatically, in the center of the aisle, and flourishing a paper in his hand, demanded to be heard on a resolution, which he sent to the clerk's desk. The resolution was as follows:

"I do impeach Grover Cleveland, president of the United States of high crime and misdemeanors, on the following grounds:

"1.—That he has sold or directed the sale of bonds without the authority of law.

"2.—That he has sold or aided in the sale of bonds at less than their market value.

"3.—That he directed the misappropriation of the proceeds of said bond sales.

"4.—That he directed the secretary of the treasury to disregard the law which makes United States notes and treasury notes redeemable in coin.

"5.—That he has ignored and refused to have enforced the anti-trust law.

"6.—That he has sent United States troops into the state of Illinois without authority of the law, and in violation of the constitution.

"7.—That he has corrupted politics through his interference with federal office-holders.

"8.—That he has used his appointing power to influence legislation detrimental to the welfare of the people; therefore, be it

Resolved, by the house of representatives, That the committee on judiciary be directed to ascertain whether these charges are true, and if, so to report to the house upon such action by impeachment or otherwise as shall be proper in the premises, and said committee shall have authority to send for persons and papers."

IMPORTATION OF CATTLE.

American Consul at Havre Enforces the Embargo Act.

Havre, May 25.—Considerable excitement has been caused here by the action of the American consul, in preventing the shipment of a cargo of cattle destined to the United States.

The action of the American consul in preventing the shipment of the cattle is based on the tariff act of August, 1894, which included a prohibition on the importation of meat cattle and their hides, from any foreign country into the United States.

The prohibition was authorized to be suspended in cases of countries known to be free from contagious cattle diseases, and it is not generally known that since last November, when a proclamation was issued by President Cleveland suspending the prohibition in the cases of Norway and Sweden, Holland, Great Britain and Ireland, the Channel islands and the countries of North, Central and South America, no cattle have been allowed entry from any other countries than designated. Exports to the United States from France, Germany, Switzerland and certain other countries, therefore, are barred. France and Germany have been waging a vigorous warfare on American livestock, and our government officials hold that pleuro-pneumonia and foot and mouth diseases are prevalent in those countries.

The action of our consul has special importance, in view of the extensive plans being made, notably in France and Switzerland, for increasing the exportation of their high-bred cattle to the United States. The only country that thus far has taken any notice of our embargo has been Switzerland.

A Most Gorgeous Scene.

Moscow, May 25.—The czar and czarina made their triumphal entry into this city this afternoon, amid the thunder of batteries of artillery, the clanging of countless bells and the cheers of a vast multitude of loyal Russians and equally enthusiastic visitors from all parts of the world. Probably never in the history of nations has there been such an assemblage. Possibly the gorgeous scene may never be repeated in its grand entirety. At 1 o'clock, in anticipation of the coming of the czar, the entire route from Petrovski palace, about three miles on the road to the Kremlin, was so densely packed with people that movement except on the outskirts of the crowds was out of the question. From 7 o'clock this morning the route to be followed by the procession had been guarded by troops, until the road may be said to have been lined by thickness after thickness of blood and iron.

Imbedded in Quartz.

Baker City, Or., May 25.—R. S. Cates, manager of the Baisley-Elkhorn, brought to town a gold nugget, which contained $67 worth of pure gold. It found its way into the battery, imbedded in a piece of quartz, which was taken from a 12-inch ledge in the upper level, about sixty feet below the surface. In spite of the unmerciful pounding it had to undergo, some of the quartz was still clinging to it after it was taken out of the battery, and Mr. Cates had to dig it out with a knife. The mine itself looks better than ever, and a new pump and hoist will be placed in the 300-foot level at the earliest practicable moment.

Washington, May 27.—The supreme court in an opinion by Justice White today passed upon the right of the Bannock Indians to kill game in the unsettled land of their former reservation in Wyoming, holding that under their treaty the Indians could kill game in violation of the game laws of the state.

The title of the case is J. H. Ward, sheriff, vs. Race Horse, the latter being an Indian who surrendered himself to the Wyoming state authorities for the purpose of testing the matter. The opinion of the United States supreme court for Wyoming, by which Race Horse was released from custody, was reversed, and it was ordered that the Indian be remanded to the custody of the state authorities.

Nine men and one woman were seen on the unknown and it is feared they went down with the vessel.

The first report placed the speed at 16.780 knots, so that the corrections give a slight increase.

DOINGS OF CONGRESS.

Routine Work of the Fifty-Fourth Session—Senate.

Washington, May 23.—The session bill, which passed the senate yesterday, appropriated the liberal sum of $10,763,888. After the committee on coast defenses concluded its investigations, the house committee on appropriations availed itself of information obtained by the senate coast defense committee; it also followed up the investigation and concluded to appropriate $5,845,837. This was beyond precedent a departure in the line of coast defenses, but the senate, content with this, and after due consideration in the committee on appropriations, increased the amount by $4,051. Senator Squire was invited with the senate committee during the review of the subject, and matters of question were thoroughly considered. The main question of the importance of having this appropriation made was conceded without objection in the senate, so the bill passed unanimously.

Washington, May 25.—In the senate today Butler renewed the motion to take up the bill prohibiting the interest-bearing bonds. After the sparring Hill interposed the objection that this was too important a question to be considered "without a quorum." This was the first evidence of a real al of the obstruction. A quorum was found quickly, the motion was adopted, the vote being ayes, 34, nays, 16. With the understanding that the bill should not be prejudicial, the bill was passed to quiet titles to lands persons who had purchased in faith, without notice, and for a reasonable consideration, to enable the government to issue patents on such lands and providing that commutating homestead entries shall take effect from the date of settlement and from the date of entry.

Washington, May 27.—The general deficiency appropriation bill, the of the supply bills, was before the senate throughout the day and passed before adjournment. It temporarily displaced the bill to prohibit the of bonds. As passed, the bill amounts to $10,000,000, an increase of 100,000 over the house bill. The important amendment agreed to at 2 o'clock was that of $1,542,970, the Southern Pacific company for transportation of mails. At 2 o'clock the bond bill was formally laid before the senate, and Pritchard was notified, but after some discussion the bond bill was informally laid aside and the consideration of the deficiency continued. All the committee amendments were agreed to.

House.

Washington, May 23.—So much the time of the house was occupied today in considering the presidential of the bill to pension Francis E. Aver a private in the Sixty-fourth volunteer infantry, and in listening a personal explanation from Groves relative to a newspaper misrepresentation of his position on the subject reciprocity, and that the time for debate on the Phillips' commission was extended until tomorrow o'clock. The bill provides for the pointment by the president of a bipartisan commission of 21, seven representatives each from labor, agriculture and business circles, to consider information and recommendations to meet problems presented by labor. The author of the bill is the principal argument today.

Washington, May 25.—The Phillips labor commission bill, which was have come to a vote in the house under the special order, was completely crowded out by the conference report on the river and harbor, and civil bills. The conference report on the river and harbor bill, which reported an agreement on all the items relating to the Santa Monica and San Pedro harbors, was made the of an attack on the bill by Hepburn and Dockery. The latter said he proposed this measure because it contained riotous appropriations not warranted by the condition of the treasury. He said he realized that his remarks would not be punctuated by applause. At night session, Cummings made a strong speech, appealing to his Democratic friends not to stand in the of meritorious pension bills. Two bills were favorably acted on.

Washington, May 27.—Shortly after the opening of the session today, house went into a committee of the whole to consider the bill to repeal free-alcohol clause of the export tariff law. Evans, in charge of the bill, opened the debate in support of the measure, explaining the reasons for the legislation. He said the bill would not affect the claims now pending, amounting to $15,000,000, which had been agreed upon as a compromise by some of the friends and opponents of the measure. It provided for a joint committee of three members from each house of congress to consider all questions relating to the free alcohol in the arts, to report their conclusions to congress in December. 5 o'clock the committee rose. Senator presented the majority report of the contested election case of Martin Lockhart, from the sixth North Carolina district, and at 5:15 the house adjourned.
