AUSTIN CRAIG, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

READABLE . . . EIGHT RELIABLE . . . PAGES REPUBLICAN . . . WEEKLY

The HATCHET has the Largest Circulation of any newspaper in Washington County.

A LYING NEWSPAPER.

The Hillsboro Independent devotes a column and a half editorially to reviewing "Mr Craig's explanation" which appeared in the HATCHET of a fortnight ago.

The editorial in the Independent must lie at the door of Mr. Gault, regardless of authorship, for his name appears as editor, yet it is with reluctance we impute the bare misstatements, the misrepresentations, and the false conclusions in which the article abounds to a man in whose honor we had firm belief, even while we often had occasion to deplore that weak subjugation of his own views to those of others which led him into as many inconsistencies as ever disgraced the most chameleonish politician.

Another of the many inaccuracies in this tissue of falsehoods is saying that Mr. Craig approached people, supporting the republican ticket, for "assistance". The chairman of the republican state central committee was told that if the committee could assist by advancing a certain amount for a time a democratic newspaper would be taken up then, otherwise it would be necessary to wait until after election.

The opening statement, that Mr. Craig belongs to a silver organization, is a lie, as the Independent well knows. He does not belong to any silver organization of any description whatever and never has.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

Royal Baking Powder ABSOLUTELY PURE

glove, although two years ago it held Coin's Financial School as its rule of faith. He believes the republican party is the only true friend of silver and that its masses will assert themselves and dethrone the gold-usurpers who have largely possessed themselves of the party machinery and support themselves by packed primaries, slated conventions and like scaly political methods.

It is not true that "Mr. Craig printed and had circulated among the members of the A. P. A. a circular, blacklisting a number of men on the republican ticket, including the supreme judge, congressman, and joint senator".

In the second circular mentioned which he claims to reprint, he purposely leaves out a part of the numbers referring to candidates in order to create a wrong impression and give color to his misstatement that it was untrue that this was a list of people who were being opposed because they were claimed to be in sympathy with the principles of the organization.

The Independent admits that the HATCHET supported the republican ticket. It is true it did and, like everything else it goes into, it did it heartily.

Mr. Craig went into the republican convention with no affiliations that could in any way interfere with his allegiance to the republican party, he worked for every one and did not work against a single one of the candidates on the republican ticket. The Independent's disquisition on political honesty has no application here and only calls forth derision coming from so notorious a source.

Another of the many inaccuracies in this tissue of falsehoods is saying that Mr. Craig approached people, supporting the republican ticket, for "assistance". The chairman of the republican state central committee was told that if the committee could assist by advancing a certain amount for a time a democratic newspaper would be taken up then, otherwise it would be necessary to wait until after election.

As to the indignation expressed by the A. P. A. people, it need not worry the Independent. They can probably attend to their own affairs and discipline any who may have exceeded their authority.

The efforts of that one's friends to obscure his money views until after election unquestionably made a difference in the vote on congressman. So also did the attempt to have him stand on both sides of the separation-of-church-and-state issue by representing him as a martyr for their opinions to each of the two parties.

37 plurality and in the district from 10,000 to 70. The Independent did not fail to do its part in bringing about this result.

This is the paper that never rustles for itself but depends on the public to support it. It has relied so long on county aid that its editor has come to believe that such patronage is exclusively his right and feels aggrieved at any intrusion into his field. The HATCHET has broken into this snap and is standing guard over the people's interest. It believes in practical economy. Within the month it has prevented an over charge (some people would call it a steal) of $70 in printing the ballots, the difference between the charge this year and two years ago for the same work.

The HATCHET is well posted on several other matters and will gladly talk them over with the Independent if that journal cares to continue the discussion.

THE TYRANT'S WAY.

The ban recently placed by the Spanish government on Free Masons in Cuba brings to mind numerous similar struggles for liberty recorded in modern history. Meetings of lodges were prohibited as hostile to the government and plotting places for conspirators.

The Masonic institution has ever been the advocate of liberty and never where it has gained a foothold has it rested satisfied until the equality of all men was recognized. Through its lodges the United States achieved its independence, France freed herself, Brazil and the other republics of the world gained their present form of government.

The action of the Spanish government is what despotic power has often resorted to, only to find that the desire for liberty is not to be crushed, but is planted so deep in human hearts that death alone can remove it.

THE SOLDIERS AT ASTORIA.

The Oregon National Guard is worth all it costs just for the feeling of security it gives at such times as the present. The state can well afford to carry this insurance on the property and lives of its citizens.

The guard has made a very creditable showing at Astoria and their presence will check the assassinations that have been going on. While the fishermen may not have been the direct cause of those cowardly murders, yet the unsettled condition has made opportunity for them. With the soldiers at hand Clatsop county is likely to have peace.

Under Adjutant General Tuttle the guard has been brought to the largest efficiency possible with the limited funds available. It is well when every one is depending on them and recognizing their worth to suggest that a number of useless expenses might well be cut off and the money appropriated to increasing and improving the guard.

COMMENCEMENT IS OVER.

Commencement has come and gone, and with it the students and visitors. Each returning graduation time brings fresh evidence of the regard of the former students of Tualatin Academy and Pacific University for their college parent.

The year just closed has been a prosperous one and the outlook for the coming year is bright with promise. T. A. and P. U. is firmly fixed in the favor of the people of the Pacific Northwest. The high standard it so carefully maintains is coming to be appreciated and the worth of its degrees is being properly recognized.

COMMENCEMENT.

was very pretty. Mr. Bover sang a tenor, Mrs. Reed, contralto solo, quartette from Portland, soprano solo by Mrs. Coursen, duet by Mesdames Reed and Coursen, quartette, Mrs. Grimes and Misses Stewart, Merryman and Parker, bass solo by Dr. Archer and a chorus from the Union closed the best program ever rendered in Forest Grove.

The Choral Union consists of: soprano, Misses Stewart, Parker and Gerrish, Mesdames Chandler, Shannon, Laura Wells and Lloyd; alto, Mesdames Grimes, Pratt and D. H. Thomas, Misses Anna Roe, Garrison and Gilpin; tenor, Messrs. J. Wheelock Marsh, F. E. Lloyd, J. W. Macrum, Morrison and E. L. Naylor; bass, Messrs. H. L. Bates, P. E. Bauer and H. D. Stewart.

The Portland quartette was excellent and enthusiastically received as a quartette when its members appeared individually. The Choral Union may congratulate itself on a thorough success due to its own efforts as well as those of its instructor, Mrs. Reed. Attendance was large.

Those completing the academy course were: Alfred Deihl Schoch, Mary Clark, Frank Hardin Adams, Florence Belle Edwards, Osa Clark Garlington, Lorena Gleason, Lynn Lancefield, Jessie Lancefield, Fred Ward Luelling, Winifred Marsh, Harold Alva Rands, Thaddeus Sweek, Elva Walker, Elva Walker, Edward Rutherford Whitlock.

It would be hard to convince a man suffering from bilious colic that his agony is due to a microbe with an unpronounceable name. But one dose of De Witt's Colic & Cholera Cure will convince him of its power to afford instant relief. It kills pain. J. C. Clark, druggist.

Republican Ratification.

Friday evening the republicans celebrated a clean sweep in the recent election. Anvils were booming and the band playing early in the evening. A large number of people were present. Hon. T. H. Tongue, congressman-elect, made a speech from the balcony of the Ingles building. He scored the populists in caustic terms and administered a stinging rebuke to the republicans who by their desertion of their party's candidate had allowed a populist to come so near defeating him.

Such an action he considered politically dishonest and he had never been able to distinguish between personal dishonesty and political dishonesty.

Saturday afternoon over a thousand people came in to the ratification at Hillsboro. Anvils were fired, four bands furnished music and there was a general parade. Mr. Tongue addressed the large assemblage, following the same line as in his remarks of the previous evening at the Grove.

Greenville also had enthusiastic celebrations coming earlier than those at the Grove and Hillsboro.

We are anxious to do a little good in this world and can think of no pleasanter or better way to do it than by recommending One Minute Cough Cure as a preventive of pneumonia, consumption and other serious lung troubles that follow neglected colds. J. C. Clark, druggist.
