A farmer from Greenville had an experience in town Wednesday with a horse recently bought. The animal intentionally threw himself while hitched up with his mate to a wagon. The farmer unharnessed the horse and tied him so that he could not move, then kept him there for a time while the animal vainly struggled. Of course the object was to train the horse but it was a success for he was almost exhausted when released and a painful limp was the result of where the cord had cut into his ankle. Such methods are not only useless but also cruel.

To be half witted is no dishonor. But to be half-sighted is a disgrace, when you can get the very finest glasses at one half price, at A. P. Venen's, next to the Post Office. Call and examine. If you want to patronize home industry go to the Forest Grove Manufacturing company. Building material of better quality, better make and cheaper than those bought in Portland. English manufacturers are making an effort to extend their business in the United States by selling direct at factory prices to merchants who discount their bills. Caples & Thomas this week received a large stock of nice dishes shipped from England via New Orleans. The manufacturers prepaid the freight to Portland, Oregon. Many of these dishes cost them fully 25 per cent. less than they have ever paid for the same quality of goods since they first commenced business. This will enable them to sell for much less than former prices. This is a good opportunity to lay in a supply of dishes for housekeeping.

When the rain ceases he will come back, having found the location fully as cool as the coast and much more comfortable. Seventeen teams passed through Gales City Tuesday, all loaded with people going to the mountains to pick blackberries. Berries however are scarce and going to pick them is merely an excuse for taking a camping vacation. Charles R. Thursday morning the residence of Mr. John Anderson was broken into and a bureau ransacked. The family were away at the coast. Speculations about burglars were rife until it was discovered that a young man here had taken this way to recover some telegraph instruments which he claimed belonged to him. It was a very ill-advised attempt and one likely to have serious consequences if Mr. Anderson cares to take it up as it is a penitentiary offence. The Forest Grove Laundry and Dye House is now conducted by Mr. Atwater. Mr. Baldwin having retired from the business on the first of the month. Mr. Atwater is thoroughly up in his line and is having increased patronage every week through the excellence of his work. Forest Grove needs just such an industry, and people should encourage it by giving the laundry their patronage. The work is done just as cheaply as in Portland and as well, and the money is kept here at home. Every one should make a trial at least before sending work outside. One of the city officials, a democrat and of course a free trader, ran up against a knockout argument in a discussion with his Republican son. It settled the old man to think his boy was a protectionist and so when he saw him in a new suit of clothes he spoke of their good quality and their cheapness at the same time, ascribing it to the blessings of free trade. The son admitted the low cost but recalled how in protection times he had received good wages paid promptly every Saturday night. Last year he had worked for half wages and hadn't been able to collect them yet. He thought he would be willing to pay a little more if Republican times were on again. The father is thinking.
