The following is an extract from a letter received from Wilson Bowlby, at Nez Perce, Idaho, where he is located at the present time practicing dentistry: "Nez Perce is in the center of a fine farming country about forty miles square of as fine land as I ever saw. Plenty of timber for fuel and building purposes. This reservation was opened for settlement last November and at this writing there is a family on every quarter section with crops of all kinds in good condition. Clear the track.—The visit of the world renowned Wizard Bros. with their big bonanza extravaganza company in their own huge tents, which was heralded to the people of this city with faring posters, the blowing of trumpets and the beating of brass bands, for two days last week, was an event from the effects of which Forest Grove will not recover for some time. The company consisted of John and Charles Wizard, who were wonders in their way and unworthy of special praise; Seymour, of the six foot eight persuasion, who was advertised as the human frog and Roemer, the glass king, whose special feat was jumping on broken glass on his bare feet, besides numerous lesser stars, were some of the remarkable features of this most bun exhibition.

The boys started out to fish, and two of them went ahead and were comfortably seated, having splendid luck, when suddenly they heard the other boys yelling 'bear! bear!' The two that saw the bear first started for camp on the dead run, and the bear started the other way as fast as he could go, and ran within a few rods of the other boys who dropped their fish line, left their guns, and also struck for camp as fast as they could go, with two bull dogs by their sides. They ran for a mile and a half without stopping.

Sam Hughes, of Forest Grove, Washington county's new state senator was so well pleased when he visited this county last week that he sent for Mrs. Hughes. She arrived last Sunday. Mr. Hughes has been having a big time, visiting various places of interest, and he made many friends. He says if he was not getting too old to make a new start, he would seriously consider locating in Tillamook, for a part of each year at least, and may buy a piece of land near this town to reside upon in the summer. He is enthusiastic about the dairying business here, and believes this region will eventually surpass all others on the coast as a dairying country. Senator Hughes is also a member of the board of regents for the agricultural college at Corvallis, and says it is the intention to make it thoroughly practical and second to no other school of the kind in the west. As we understood it, any young man can get tuition free there and can learn all about farming, fruit growing and dairying on the experimental farm, besides acquiring a good book education. Mr. Hughes will interest himself in getting Prof. French, the agriculturalist, and Prof. Kent, the dairy specialist, to visit this country for the purpose of looking into the conditions here, giving hints to the farmers and dairymen, besides organizing a dairy institute. The date of their arrival cannot be named just now.—Tillamook Headlight. An Ideal Summer Resort. A few miles above Gales Creek in a beautiful forest valley and beside a clear mountain stream of crystal water are the soda springs, equally popular for their health-giving mineral water and for their delightful and charming surroundings. Many parties are camped near the springs, and visitors are continually driving in to picnic there for the day. Sunday sees numerous visitors, though every pleasant day brings many on pleasure bent.
