The patient was exceedingly well pleased as there was absolutely no pain or other unpleasantness following its use. Mr. A. J. Fanno, a prominent business man of Progress, made a pleasant call on the HATCHET while in town Monday. Mr. Fanno is a democrat but he doesn't want a democratic administration with Coxe and Cyclone Davis as cabinet officers, so he proposes to cast his vote and influence for Wm. McKinley.

Fire on the road impeded travel on the Wilson river road the first of the week. The long bridge by Dorm's cabin and the smaller one over Lewis creek were burned. It is possible also that Gov. Lord and President Campbell of the Monmouth Normal school will be present. Last year the enrollment reached 148, the largest at any institute thus far held, and it is expected that even more will be present this time. Every teacher whether holding county or state license is required to attend at least three full days, under penalty of forfeiture or reduction of grade of certificate. The Saturday completes the three days of required attendance. Arrangements are being made to comfortably and economically accommodate those attending the institute. If a sufficient number come by railroad a reduction of fare will be obtained. The institute promises to be a very profitable and instructive one.
