If you want good goods at reasonable prices, call at Haines & Bailey's. They carry a large assortment. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Miller went to Lebanon Monday to see Mr. Miller's mother who is quite ill.

V. V. Hickox brought into the HATCHET office last week specimens of corn, raised on his farm near Cales Creek, full fourteen feet in height. District Attorney Cleeton will speak at the Rafferty school house at 7:30 p. m. Friday evening, 30th, Mountindale. Everybody invited.

Mrs. Ungermann, of McMinnville, department inspector of the Woman's Relief Corps, is in town and inspects the local corps this afternoon. Was your account ever more than you thought it should be? Was it not because you were charged more for goods than you paid when buying for cash?

Bring your silks, satins, feathers, neckties and have them dyed, steamed, pressed and renovated at the Forest Grove Laundry and Dye House. Miss Amelia Kuch of Upper Albina has been enrolled at T. A. & P. U. and is making her home with Mrs. H. D. Jones.

Mr. Ruter it is said cleared over $3000 off his last year's crop of grapes on nine acres of land. No times are hard for the man that works industriously and intelligently. Our fall stock of boots, shoes and rubber goods has arrived. Can meet all competition at lowest prices. Men's heavy working boots from $1.50 upwards. Gregg's Shoe Store.

Judge Colvig spoke in Vets hall Monday evening in the Bryan interest to a good sized audience. Many from out of town attended, Hillsboro being especially well represented. Miss Evans' entertainment, which was postponed until after the services in memory of Miss James, will occur Saturday evening, Nov. 14. It will be an evening of rare interest.

Mr. A. Anderson found a curious bunch of grapes on one of his vines, part of the White Sweet Waters and rest of a red variety. The grapes were mature, full size and of good flavor. Mr. J. H. McKibben of Portland, editor of the Oregon Senator, the thrifty journal of the Knights of Pythias, visited Hillsboro, Cornelius and the Grove the fore part of the week in the interest of his paper.

DON'T GO EAST until you have seen the UNDERSIGNED, who can quote you the lowest rates, furnish you your through tickets, sleeping-car berths, and arrange for a pleasant trip via the Union Pacific System. H. W. Scott, Agent, Forest Grove, Ore.

The young woman here last week ostensibly lecturing to secure funds to obtain a college education was hampered in her work by the richness of her costume. Many thought that she ought to have pledged her diamonds before she went to taking up collections.

Mrs. Henry Hickox of Grand Rapids, Michigan, in company with Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Coombs, started for her home on this morning's train. Mr. Coombs and wife accompanied her as far as Chicago, Ill. She has been visiting with her mother, on Gales Creek the last five months.

Doctor C. L. Large administered with pleasing results his new preparation for the extraction of teeth to Mrs. Nic Boatman of Hayward, the 16th, inst., and to Mrs. A. E. Nichols living 5 miles north-west of Glencoe, the 17. The former had twenty-nine and the latter twenty-six extracted. Note this carefully. Those wishing teeth extracted in the forenoon, please eat no breakfast, if in the afternoon please eat no dinner.

Forest Rebekah lodge I. O. O. F., had visitors at its meeting last night. Initiation was the main attraction, and then with a social "good of the order" and refreshments, the evening was happily passed. The visitors who had driven up from Hillsboro were Mr. and Mrs. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Humphreys, and Mesdames Finney, Stewart, Huston, Greer and Lamkin. Mrs. Ungermann, of McMinnville, who is in town inspecting the W. R. C., was also present.

An assembly that filled Vets' hall to overflowing and reached out onto steps, sidewalk and into the street greeted Attorney-General Idleman Tuesday evening. The speaker stood on a table in the doorway so that all might hear, and for over one and a half hours held the close attention of his large audience while he clearly and convincingly laid down the reasons why every voter should cast his suffrage for McKinley and Hobart. It was a notable event in a campaign where speeches by able speakers are almost an every night occurrence.

Miss Milly Broulette, "the girl orator of the Pacific coast," spoke Saturday and Sunday evenings in the Cong. church on temperance work to large and well-pleased audiences. Speed and safety are the watchwords of the age. One Minute Cough Cure acts speedily, safely and never fails. Asthma, bronchitis, coughs and colds are cured by it. J. C. Clark, druggist.

If you want to patronize home industry go to the Forest Grove Manufacturing company. Building material of better quality, better make and cheaper than those bought in Portland. Dr. S. C. Webb, Liberty, Miss., says: "I have been using Ayer's Pills for over twenty-five years, and recommend them in cases of chronic diarrhoea, knowing their efficiency from personal experience, they having cured when every other medicine failed."

J. C. Woods will again become a member of the firm of Caples & Thomas and the store will be remodelled and made into a regular department store. This change will take place soon after McKinley's election. Woods, Caples & Thomas is a familiar name to the people of Washington and adjoining counties. The Forest Grove Choral Union of the year met Monday evening and considered plans for the coming year. It was decided to ask Mrs. Walter Reed of Portland, director of the P. U. conservatory, to be director and a committee was appointed to confer with her upon the matter. It is understood that Mrs. Reed has consented to act. Another meeting will be held next Monday to elect officers. All members are requested to be present. The year starts out with bright promises.

Dr. E. DeWitt Connell, who for several years has been pursuing his medical course in the University of Pennsylvania, and special studies in the Wills Eye Hospital, the Philadelphia Polyclinic Hospital and College for post-graduates in medicine, and in the clinics of the leading hospitals of that city, has opened an office in the Dekum building, Portland, where he will treat diseases of the eye, ear, nose and throat. Dr. Connell was a student in the University of Oregon for several years previous to going East to prepare himself in his chosen profession. Being a Washington county boy, his many friends wish him much success.

County Clerk Imbrie was in town Wednesday on business connected with the printing of the official ballots for the presidential election. The secretary of the state republican convention certified the initials of the vice presidential candidate wrongly to the secretary of state and he sent them out in the same way to the county clerks. When the proof was sent down from THE HATCHET PRINTERY it was seen by Assessor Wilcox who called Clerk Imbrie's attention to an error whereby Mr. Hobart's initials appeared as "J. G." instead of the real "Garret A." Considerable telephoning, consultation and correspondence resulted. This was the first notice that had been taken of the mistake, and there was much question as to whether it could be legally corrected. The consensus of opinion, however, was that as the names of presidential candidates were an unessential part of the ballot and discretionary with the clerk as to whether they should appear at all, he had also the right to correct any obvious error. This change has been made and the names of the prohibition ticket, which had been sent in to Secretary of State Kincaid too late, were added on affidavit of Chairman McKercher and Secretary Irie of the prohibition state convention. The ballots will be out the latter part of the week and turned over with the other supplies the middle of next week to the sheriff for distribution. Then will come the battle, the counting and a happy exultant majority and a gloomy down cast minority. These are the instruments that come down as lightly as the snow upon the sod, but execute a free man's will as lightning does the will of God. The ballots are an important part in the campaign. The ballot appears on the first page.

Whatever may be the cause of blanching, the hair may be restored to its original color by the use of that potent remedy Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer. Mrs. Senator Brownell of Oregon City was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Jones over Sunday, visiting her son Howard who is attending school at T. A. & P. U.

Prosecuting Attorney Cleeton will speak at Forest Grove on Tuesday the 27th. Mr. Cleeton is an orator of ability and every one should hear him regardless of political belief. We have picked up in New York a big bargain in laces and satin ribbons. We are selling them at from 5 to 10 cents a yard; actual value 10 to 25 cents a yard. See our window display. Caples & Thomas.

Congregational Church.—Next Sunday the pastor will speak in the morning on "Duty," and in the evening on "A Horrid Dream." A cordial welcome for all. (The HATCHET force cordially invited; including editor, foreman and devil.) General election day, Tuesday, Nov. 3, is a legal holiday (Section 3542, Hill's code). The coming of the day will be appreciated at least by the school children who gain this short vacation. Business paper payable on this day becomes due the day before.

Mrs. Martin Reiling died Wednesday at her home near Versoort of a throat trouble. She leaves a husband and large family of children. Mrs. Reiling was a lady of estimable character and will be mourned by a large circle of acquaintance. The funeral will be tomorrow. Dr. W. G. Cole is now in New York City having completed his mission in Chicago. While there he witnessed several operations by Dr. Murphy of "Murphy button" fame and the first operator for appendicitis. After a visit to Johns Hopkins at Baltimore the doctor will return to Oregon, probably early in December.

An enthusiastic republican demonstration was held Tuesday evening on the occasion of Attorney General Idleman's speech here. Nearly two hundred were in the parade which was headed by the G. A. R. and contained many prominent business men and other leading citizens. Transparencies bearing political sentiments were numerous, such as representations of a greenback and a silver dollar with "Gold the Redeemer", "McKinley, Protection and Prosperity", "Wheat 85 cents Silver 65" etc. The sidewalks on Main street were early crowded with the numbers who had come from far out in the country. The Home Bakery attracted attention with a handsome display of fireworks which testified to Mr. Hobbach's enterprise as well as his party loyalty.

Card of Thanks. We desire to express our sincere thanks to the kind friends who so ably assisted us during the sickness and death of our father and husband. MRS. S. J. WATERS AND FAMILY.

Our I's and Other Eyes. Our I's are just as strong as they were fifty years ago, when we have cause to use them. But we have less and less cause to praise ourselves, since others do the praising, and we are more than willing for you to see us through other eyes. This is how we look to S. F. Boyce, wholesale and retail druggist, Duluth, Minn., who after a quarter of a century of observation writes: "I have sold Ayer's Sarsaparilla for more than 25 years, both at wholesale and retail, and have never heard anything but words of praise from my customers; not a single complaint has ever reached me. I believe Ayer's Sarsaparilla to be the best blood purifier that has been introduced to the general public." This, from a man who has sold thousands of dozens of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, is strong testimony. But it only echoes popular sentiment the world over, which has "Nothing but words of praise for Ayer's Sarsaparilla."

The Wheeler-Purdin Debate. EDITOR HATCHET: In your published account of the discussion between Hon. Ira E. Purdin and myself, it occurs to me that you went some distance out of your way to try to belittle me. In the first place, I am a Republican and you are supposed to be or at least you have been honored by the Republican party by public preference. You have no cause for personal grudge against me. It is true I opposed, in the county convention, your nomination as county school supt., but after you had been nominated I gave you as loyal support as to any other candidate on the ticket. At your request, you was given the written challenge from Mr. Purdin to me, and my reply, and also the terms of agreement, showing what questions were to be debated and all the terms of the discussion. Why did you not publish them? After the discussion you say "The republican read his essay and as it came second and as it failed to take up Mr. Purdin's statements," etc., "A really fine article," but— Now, I wish to say that I spoke for one hour and twelve minutes, as reported by the chairman in my time allowance, and not one single person left the hall in all that time, and that of its self attests to the merits of the presentation of my side of the question. And I am fully impressed with the opinion that your free silver proclivities have led you into the attempt to belittle my part of the discussion. I will admit readily, that Mr. Purdin made as fine a presentation of the other side as any one can do, and I claim that I made answer to every material proposition that pertained to the question under discussion. And further, if you will name any propositions that I did not so answer, you formulate them and publish them and I will answer them in the next issue. Yours for sound money and good government. J. W. Wheeler. [The HATCHET has not time to sugar-coat every unpalatable truth for the person spoken of. In as fair language as is readily at my command and as shortly as may be, I am to tell news as it really is, is, without personal or party prejudice. No belittlement was intended for Mr. Wheeler and that he was even a delegate at the late convention had been forgotten, much more how he voted. Republicans (gold men, too) who attended the debate told me it was very tame as a controversy and lacked in spirit. Such is evidently the truth. As to publishing the challenge, acceptance and agreement in full, life is too short and space too valuable to waste half a column on what can be said in ten lines.—Ed.]

Notice of Assignment. IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF THE STATE OF OREGON FOR WASHINGTON COUNTY. In the matter of the Assignment of J. W. Wheeler and E. H.
