There has been a little street talk about the ballots being printed so as to work a hardship on Bryan voters by giving the appearance that the McKinley electors were the Bryan ones. Any one observing the sample ballot on the first page which follows the law exactly as to form, will see the absurdity of the claim.

Congregational Church.—Next Sunday the pastor will conduct both services. The morning service will be a memorial of Miss Sarah V. James, followed by the Lord's Supper.
 In the evening the address will be on "Loyal Citizenship Expressing Itself at the Ballot Box." An invitation is extended to the voters of this vicinity.

The full election returns will be given from the HATCHET office Tuesday night from 8 to 10 o'clock. The Western Union wires will be run into the building and the returns as they are received by telegraph will be displayed by stereopticon upon a canvas in front of the building so that they will be visible to people in the church square. This is the best opportunity afforded in the county to get accurate returns promptly.

Next Tuesday for twenty-four hours Oregon will be a prohibition state. A statute provides that it is "unlawful in this state for any person to barter, sell, give away or in any manner dispose of any intoxicating liquor on the day of any general or special election of state, county or municipal officers, within the state, district, county or corporation in which such election is held." The penalty is a fine of $10 to $25 or imprisonment for ten to thirty days, or both.

The Choral Union at its meeting Monday evening elected the following officers: President, J. Wheelock Marsh; vice-president, Mrs. Emma Chandler; treasurer, Mrs. Bertie Grimes; secretary, E. L. Naylor; librarian, Mrs. Alice Pratt.
 The services of Mrs. Walter Reed as director have been secured for the coming year. Her ability as an instructor promises that the Union will keep up its established reputation for excellence.
 The next regular meeting will be one week from next Monday, Nov. 9, at 8 o'clock. All members are requested to be present.

Pres. McClelland is now in Boston, and is much encouraged over the prospect of soon completing the work of raising the Pearsons' Fund. In a letter just received he has the following to say about his work and his views of the pending election: "I shall push the work of collections as fast as possible and feel confident that something will be accomplished. The prospect of Mc-Kinley's election seems excellent, and with this, confidence is coming back.
 Some of the large factories have opened up again, and others are preparing to do so immediately after election. A very great interest is manifested in the Pacific Coast states. There is no question about the outcome here, and hence all eyes are turned toward the West. Everywhere I am asked about Oregon, and I am telling everybody that the state will surely go for McKinley. If it does, I shall make the most of the influence of Pacific University as exerted through the editor of the Oregonian. This will be a good argument in favor of our cause with business men."

Ticklish Things.
 Coughs are ticklish things. Nowhere does the extravagant saying: "I was tickled to death," come nearer being true, than in the case of a severe cough. Do you know the feeling? The tickling in the throat, that you writhe under and fight against, until at last you break out in a paroxysm of coughing? Why not cure the cough and enjoy unbroken rest? You can do so by using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.
 This testimonial will be found in full in Ayer's "Carebook" with a hundred others. Free. Address J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

GRAND McKINLEY RALLY ON EVE OF VICTORY AT FOREST GROVE, Monday Evening, Nov. 2 Torch Light Procession Parade and Public Speaking

This will be the last Grand Rally before election and every McKinley man will be on hand to take part. Good speakers and good music will be furnished. The public is cordially invited to be present and take part.

The biggest political demonstration of the campaign was on Monday night when District Attorney Cleeton spoke in the Grove. It looked more like 4th of July with people and teams in rows along the streets. Twenty-five hundred of Washington county's citizens were there. A parade with over five hundred in line carrying flags, torches and transparencies with appropriate inscriptions marched through the principal streets of the business and residence portions of town and made a very pretty sight with its line of light over three blocks in length. In the ranks were the mayor and aldermen of the city council, prominent business men, the veterans', McKinley league, a company of young ladies, the McKinley club and the college McKinley club which latter kept the air ringing with cheers and cries. At the Home Bakery which was elaborately decorated, Mr. ... set off a fine display of fireworks. The evening's speech, made from the ... Church, was listened to by a large concourse and was an excellent exposition of Republicanism.
