Free Courses of Study by Correspondence.

To meet the needs of large number of people both old and young who live in remote sections of country or in places where the schools are not advanced, the University of Oregon has made arrangements to conduct a four years' course of study by correspondence. The plan is to make this course entirely free except a small charge which will cover the actual expenses. This charge will be in the form of a small sum for each lesson sent out. It will not exceed what is actually paid out for postage and clerical work in conducting the course. Students will be expected to order their text books either through local dealers or from the Portland book stores. It is hoped that large numbers of people will avail themselves of this opportunity to do intellectual work under competent guidance. It is also hoped to interest the press of the state in the undertaking so that it may become very widely known. No newspaper can be paid for publishing the announcement of the course, since it is not a plan for making money, but it is hoped that a wide spread public spirit may be awakened and that the press will lend its powerful assistance toward the success of the work. The course will be divided into five departments of study: English literature, Latin, history and civics, mathematics, science. Four years of work have been planned in each of these departments. Any person may take up one or all of the departments as he chooses.

The course will be conducted as follows: Any person who wishes to take one or more of the studies may send in name to the University of Oregon, Eugene, Oregon. The words "Extension Department" should be written on the envelope. He should also state clearly what lines of study he wishes to take up. Directions will be sent to him at once for procuring text books and instructions concerning the details of the course.

Questions will be mailed to student covering definite portions of the text books from time to time as they are needed. These should be carefully answered and the answers mailed to the Extension Department of the university. They will be corrected and returned, together with a new set of questions. This is in brief the scheme of the course. The university has been carrying on this work in a limited way for two years, but it is now hoped to make it much more extensive and more generally useful to the people of the state. The experience of the past, however, places the Extension Department in a position to manage the practical details of the course accurately and promptly. The only charge which will be made will be for the list of questions and for marking the answers which are sent in. It is thought that this can be reduced to ten cents for each set of questions and ten cents for examining each set of answers. This small fee will probably cover the actual expenses of the course and nothing further is desired by the department.

It is to be noted that this course is open to all persons who desire to engage in study. It will cover the ground of the usual good high school course, and the questions and suggestions which will be sent out may often be used with profit in reviews and examinations in city high schools. No person should feel that a course of this kind is a complete substitute for a good school, but if the school is not available for any reason then much advancement in sound learning may be made by taking a correspondence course. Full outlines of the course will be sent free upon application.

A few months ago, Mr. Byron Every, of Woodstock, Mich., was badly afflicted with rheumatism. His right leg was swollen the full length, causing him great suffering. He was advised to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. The first bottle of it helped him considerably and the second bottle effected a cure. The 25 and 30 cent sizes are for sale by J. C. Clark, Druggist.

Cause of Sour Milk.

Milk is a secretion of the mammary glands in which it is produced by the generation of certain cells. The substances composing milk are for all mammals essentially the same being composed of water and solid matter. The latter consists of fats, sugar, nitrogenous matter, such as casein, albumen and ash. The souring of milk is brought about by micro-organisms or bacteria acting upon the milk sugar, or lactose, converting it into lactic and probably other acids. This lactic acid breaks up into butyric acid, carbonic acid and hydrogen; the first named being the active agent in rancid butter. While it is true that the bacterial contamination of milk comes from external sources yet in spite of the most cleanly methods about a dairy the conditions are such that bacteria may their way into the milk duct of the cow and possibly in some cases into the milk gland itself. Hence it will be seen that even when milk is first drawn it contains these micro-organisms. There seem to be no definite number of bacteria present at any particular stage of decomposition but the numbers vary greatly depending somewhat on the freshness of the milk but much more on the distribution.

It is practically impossible to obtain milk from a dairy uncontaminated by bacteria, all that can be done is by absolute cleanliness and low temperature to keep the number low and multiplication slow. The contamination may come from unclean vessels, from external parts of the cow, or from the clothes of the person who does the milking, far more often than from the atmosphere directly, hence the necessity of absolute cleanliness. The sudden cooling of the milk immediately after being drawn also serves very materially in checking the growth of bacteria. Cleanliness even to over nicety and early cooling of the milk should then be matters for the consideration of all dairymen.

Petition.

The following petition, signed by a large number of prominent citizens was sent to the legislature by Gale Grange, No. 82, P. of H. Copies were also circulated for signatures at Gaston, Hillsboro and Tigardville.

To the Honorable, the Members of the Senate and House of Representatives of the Oregon Legislature.

We, the undersigned, taxpayers and citizens of Washington county, do hereby most earnestly petition your honorable body to pass the proper laws repealing the following state commissions, to-wit: The railroad commission, the domestic animal commission, the pure food and dairy commission, and the horticulture commission.

We also earnestly request that the state board of equalization be abolished; that no per diem be paid to the regents of the State University, Agricultural College, Normal schools, normal schools, or any charitable institution; We also earnestly request that no subsidies or gratuities be granted to the State University, Agricultural College, the Normal schools, state board of agriculture, or to any county or local home, hospital or kindergarten; And that the salaries of the supreme judges and state officers be reduced to their constitutional limits, that the salaries of circuit judges and Attorney General be reduced to eighteen hundred dollars per annum, and the state salaries of district attorneys be abolished and that all fees and perquisites now charged and collected from private individuals, or corporations, or taken out of the disbursement of public funds by any state officer be required under proper penalties, to be turned into the general fund of the state treasury. And as in duty bound we will ever pray and vote for the foregoing requests.

Grange Meeting.

Gale Grange, No. 82, P. of H., met Saturday and selected J. Prickett, J. Shepherd and A. T. Buxton as delegates to the county convention, to select representatives to the State Grange. Mrs. Wolcott, Mrs. Buxton and Mrs. Shepherd were chosen alternates. After partaking of a lunch, (for whose excellence the HATCHET can vouch) the third and fourth degrees were conferred on J. Buxton. The following literary program was then rendered:

Essay, "Co-operation," by J. Prickett.
Essay, "Visit to Pomona Grange," by Mrs. Buxton.
Reading, "Discretion," by Mrs. Dilley.
Essay, "Choice of Occupation," by J. Buxton.

Discussion, "Should State Commissions be abolished?"
The question for discussion at the next meeting, Saturday, March 6th, is "Will the causes that have produced prosperity in this country, have the same effect now?" Papers will be read on "Small Fruit Gardening" and "Grape Culture."
