____ Disease

Disease,

There are more wrinkles in the face of a baby monkey than there are in that of an old baboon. And speaking of wrinkles, more of them can he wrought out in a fair young face by neuralgia than in that of an young face by neuralgia than in that of an aged person. Constant pain will shrivel, and neuralgia neglected will plow its fur-rows deep. It not only wrinkles, but takes the bloom away and gives the skin a dull and yellow look. St. Jacobs Oil is a prompt and sure cure for neuralgia, and it should be used, as while it soothes and cures, it smooths out the tracks of pun and leaves the skin healthy and fair again; besides it rids the sufferer of much torment and re-stores a happier disposition. Gook looks come only with good health, and health is found in the absence of pain.

On hundreds of farms are to be found two small barns instead of one large one. These are often detached or attached corner to corner. Space is wasted and work cannot be conveniently done in them without much loss of time. The illustrations show a plan for making the most of two such barns. They are moved to a position parallel to each other and are then connected by a shed-roofed one-storied addition, as shown in the first picture. This gives a barnvard inclosed on three sides, and so protected from wind and storm, and an interior that can be advantageously arranged. The arrangement suggested in the floor plan that is given in the second illustration is for use on a dairy farm. Where other kinds of farming are followed, a different interior arrangement can easily be decided upon. In the plan given, it is intended that a feed car be used to convey silage, grain, etc., along in front of all the cattle stalls .- American Agriculturist.

Electric Light by Wind Power. Electric lighting is commonly in the country regarded as exclusively a city luxury. It is likely that the expense of carrying wires from house to house in thinly settled districts would be too great to make it possible to furnish electric light on a large scale economically. But the experience of Nansen's ship, the Fram, on her northern voyage shows that electric lighting by wind power, transmitted to batteries ried woman, the mourning color is scar- and stored as electricity. Is entirely let. The coffin, the hearse, the trap- possible. In the high Northern latitudes fuel was much too precious to be used in making electric light. So a big windmill was set up, which was run whenever the wind was favorable, and by stored electricity made a steady light all through the dark northern winter. Such windmills are often used on Norwegian vessels to work the pumps. We may yet see farm windmills providing power to run dynamos and charge storage batteries with electricity to be used for lighting farm houses, as well as to do much work that now taxes human muscles.

fattening qualities as corn. A mixture of oats and barley, or of peas and ! arley ground together, makes a feed that will not only fatten, but will also furnish the due proportion of lean meat that is required to make healthful and easily digested pork.

Stir the Soil. Next to mulching there is nothing like a constant stirring of the soil. I have found many workmen in gardens totally unacquainted with the principles of hoeing. The hoe is drawn over a surface already hard, cutting off weeds close to the ground. Then the weeds are raked off, leaving the ground in really worse condition than it was before, for the weeds shaded the surface if they did rob the ground. Hoe-ing should be fully as much to loosen the soil as to destroy weeds. Every stroke of the hoe should loosen up an

Cover the bunkholes with mosquito netting or other material that will keep out the flies. The bungs ought not to be put in, except temporarily, for at bad place in which to make vinegar.

To hasten fermentation, occasionally

turn the cider out of one barrel into another, thus exposing it more fully to the air, and, by adding a gallon of Gladness Comes With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper ef-forts-gentle efforts-pleasant efforts-rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual dissickness are not alle to any actual dis-ease, but simply to a constipated condi-tion of the system, which the pleasant family laxative. Syrup of Figs. prompt-ly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its bene-

If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely and gives most general satisfaction.

For Calves at Fasture. The calves at pasture ought to have daily a little grain to keep them growing thriftily. Their increased size in the fall will more than pay for the outlay and the trouble. The sketch, from an agricultural exchange, shows a handy feed box. Put it on the inside of the pasture fence, so that the grain can be put in through the boards from the outside. Put slats on, as shown, far enough apart so that the calves can put their heads between them, but so near that the old stock, if in the pasture, cannot reach the box. The slats also support the box and hold it in place.

Eggs Chilled Fefore Setting. Early failure to hatch eggs very seldom come from lack of vigor in the germ; for in this the early eggs are superior. They more often come from allowing eggs to be chilled before the setting begins. Everyone knows that chilling after a few days setting soon destroys the life in the egg. It may do so where eggs that have never been set on are kept in contact with metal, which rapidly abstracts heat when the eggs are kept for greater safety near the freezing temperature. Dishes for holding eggs should be of wood, which abstracts heat slowly.

with tobacco and lighted, and by means of pressure on the bulb, that works on the principle of an atomizer, the smoke is blown wherever it is dosired, so that the whole plant can be gone over in a few minutes.

Hedge Plants.

Hedges for protection are not as common as they might be. They are not only beautiful in themselves, but, if properly managed, are cheaper than any fence-except a stone wall. There are numberless instances of well-caredfor osage orange and honey locust hedges being kept in first-rate condition for half a century; and there is no reason to believe they might not last for nearly as long again. They have to be annually trimined, and, indeed, are the better for two trimmings a year; but one who understands this will get over the work so rapidly, that it takes little more time than it would to give the annual whitewashing to an ordi-cary fence. When the expression "well cared for" is used, it simply means that the cutting must always be of such a character that the bottom of the hedge is left the widest part.-Meehan's Monthly.

Poultry Pickings.

A good man is merciful to his beast, also to his chickens. Sanitary surroundings are of more onsequence than medicines. If you cannot keep your poultry in comfort, cease to keep them at all. Light is essential to the health of the hens, therefore, have good windows. Eggs intended for hatching should not be kept over four weeks. They must be turned every day or two.

Use Plenty of Seed.

Seed is costly, but the poorest method of economy is that of using as little seed as possible. A large number of clover crops fail because not enough seed is used, and it is better with some crops to have an extra number of plants to come up and remove those not desired than to have failure and be compelled to replant, as the time lost cannot be recovered.

The Horse's Shoes. Some farmers make the misinke of shoeing horses when it is unnecessary. and others refuse to shoe when it should be done. Some leave the shoes on too long, just because they seem to stick well. An expanding, growing hoof will soon outgrow the shoe. The shoes should not be left on longer than Bre weeks.
