It is easier to prevent sore mouth than to cure it. When the baby has finished eating wash his mouth thoroughly with a little cold water and borax. If the gums are inflamed over the coming teeth a pinch of bicarbonate of soda may be added to the borax

Accustom the baby to a moderate light, but shade his eyes from a direct glare of full sunlight, whether he is asleep or awake. There are many faults of vision that may be avoided by a little care, and sometimes quite grave defects may be remedied without the aid of the oculist. At the first sign of hoarseness in the child's voice a little warm olive oil should be rubbed on the throat and chest and a piece of thin flannel laid over to protect the clothing and to keep out the air. The little bootees that have been removed to give greater comfort and freedom to the restless feet must be replaced; and no matter how attractive the veranda seems in the sweet, briar scented air, when the early ws have fallen, the baby should go

Pile the hay on the frame, bring the ropes together over it and attach them to the pulley by another Sshaped iron. wan good prices for hay, many consider good, bright oat and barley straw to be worth, for feeding purposes, quite as much as overripe clover, or timothy hay and, pound for pound, worth fully half as much as any good hay. Hence, instead of wasting the straw by building flat-topped stacks and allowing cattle and other stock to have free access to them, a yard is built around the stacks, and the straw fed out as regularly as hay or grain. A log pen has been made, as illustrated, that serves the purpose admirably. The logs rest upon a foundation of stone or wood, the lower log being 1 foot from the ground, and three logs on each side, the extreme height of fence being not less than 416 feet. On the leeward side of the stack pen a permanent and durable manger can be easily made from small poles. This may extend the entire length of the pen, and be built upon one or more sides. The straw is thrown into it directly from the stack, and, if a ration of hay or straw be fed at noon, it will prove equally as valuable, the only objection being that it is located Passengers are to have an opportunity to board and leave trains which are in motion at the Paris exposition of 1900 by means of a new system devised by a French civil engineer The idea was suggested by the moving sidewalk at the world's fair. The outer circumference of a circular platform is to travel at the same rate as the passing train. There will be no danger upon entering the platform from a staircase in the center, where the speed is comparatively low. In advancing toward the edge the increase is gradual, and anticipated. The station attendant overooks the entire platform from a tower in the center, and should there be a heavy crowd he causes the train, by means of switches, to run around the station, allowing ample time to discharge and take on all passengers. It is proposed to work trains and plat-forms at a speed of 7½ miles an hour.

AN ABOMINABLE LEGACY.

A tendency to rheumatism is undoubtedly inherited. Unlike many other legacies, it remains in the family. The most effectual means of checking this tendency, or of removing inciplent rheumatism, whether pre-existent in the blood or not, is to resort to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as soon as the premonitory twinges are felt. Nullifying the influences of cold, exposure and fatigue, the Bitters not only fortifies the system against their hurtful consequences, but subjugates malaria, liver and kidney complaint, dyspepsia and nerve disquietude.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an infamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

When Mr. Wanamaker was postmaster-general he put on the market three sizes of postal cards. Under the rule of succeeding officials less solicitous to meet the public taste, two of those sizes have become obsolete, and only the biggest survives. The little blue postal card, the best-looking of the lot, was favored by many patrons of the postoffice, who have lamented its disappearance. They will be glad to know, says Harper's Weekly, that the department, in ordering a new lot of cards, has contracted once more for two sizes, and that if the smaller size proves popular it will continue to be kept in stock.
