Court for Wapato Justice of the State of Oregon. and J. W.)

Civil Action for the Recovery of Money

Monday was the fifth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Gregg and a very pretty wooden wedding was held in the evening at the residence of Mr. H. D. Jones where they are making their home. The parlors and dining room were beautifully decorated with autumn leaves while the house and grounds were illuminated with gorgeous China lanterns shedding light in myriad-colored rays. About forty guests were present in response to pretty little invitations which like the dainty menus were of the beautiful California Yucca wood though the latter were also handipainted. After music and social chat in looking over the big pile of presents, all of wood, some funny, many valuable and all with the best wishes of friends, delightful refreshments were served at a table presided over by the Mesdames Grimes and Abend and attended by Misses Contris and Russell. It was a charming affair and will pleasantly dwell in the recollection of those who were there, along with the hope that equally joyous may the China, silver, golden and diamond anniversaries be to Mr. and Mrs. Gregg.

Wooden Wedding.

Grand Chief Honored.
Mrs. C. Ransom, formerly of the Grove but now residing for the winter in Portland, was recently elected grand chief of the grand temple of Oregon, Rathbone Sisters, the ladies' auxiliary to the Knights of Pythias. Naturally Delpha Temple here, to which she belongs, was proud of this distinguished recognition of one of its members and so last night tendered her a reception after she had officially visited the temple. Tables were spread and a sumptuous collation prepared, excelling all previous efforts although the Sisters have many times before shown themselves talented in cookery. An excellent musical program closed the evening's entertainment. Mrs. H. E. Johnson of Delpha Temple is a grand trustee of the grand temple and Mrs. Alma Dorrien, who also resides here, is grand mistress of finance. Truly the faithful work of Delpha in the past has not been unrecognized nor unrewarded. Mrs. Ransom came out on Wednesday evening's train and returned this morning, being the guest of Mrs. Geo. L. Smith.

A Bold Burglary.
Thursday night about 8 o'clock, two men, disguised with sacks over their heads, entered the house of Austin Buxton, about one and one-half miles west of Forest Grove, and going to the sitting room, in which Mr. and Mrs. Buxton were, at the point of revolvers demanded money. Mr. Buxton gave them $6, all he had in the house. The robbers, it seems, knew that Mr. Buxton had sold some wheat a few days ago and had received cash for it. When he told them that the money had been loaned on a note they would not believe it. They demanded more money, until Mr. Buxton showed them the note, after reading which they departed.
