MADAME NORELLI IN EUROPE.

Madame Jenny Norelli, formerly instructor in vocal music in the college conservatory, and known in private life as the wife of Dr. Svendsen, who at one time practiced medicine at North Yamhill, is winning fame in Europe, where she has been for the past three years. The flattering notice below, which recently appeared in the Portland Evening Telegram, will be of interest to her former pupils and friends:

"Mme. Jenny Norelli, of Portland, finished her opera tournee in Gothenburg the last week in April, and started immediately for London, where she was engaged last summer to sing at the Philharmonic concerts. On her way she remained three days at Copenhagen, where she met Herr Johann Svendsen, the conductor at the Royal Opera, the well-known composer, and also Herr Rosenfeld, the composer. They induced her to sign an agreement to sing two evenings at their summer season concerts at the Tivoli. These are the events in the musical world of the Danish capital, and always take place in July, while the royalty from half of Europe congregates at the home of the venerable King Christian. At London she was enthusiastically received by the Philharmonic directors, who had been awaiting her since March. So her date was fixed for June 11. In the meantime she is filling a number of drawing-room engagements.

"Mme. Norelli will meet her two little ones, Hildor and Margit, in a day or two. They left Portland three weeks ago, and have spent a few days in New York visiting an aunt who resides there. They were in charge of Miss Minna Norelli. As they have been separated nearly three years, the joy of the mother meeting her children can only be understood by those who know her. They expect to be gone during the summer."

New and second-hand Organs and Pianos for sale at a bargain at The Bazaar, Forest Grove, Or.

We buy and sell all kinds of country produce. Dugan & Watrous.

Attorney Hoffman deserves gratitude from Forest Grove people for the good work he has been doing in settling up the county around here. At considerable expense he has procured plats of all the government land in the county, had it cruised thoroughly and has located about eight people already and before he finishes will have found homes for about thirty more families. Some of this land had good timber and most of it with a little labor can be turned into fine farms, all in a region handy to town and very different from the usual homestead, which is so far from civilization that no one ever wants to have a home there. In a short time all these places will be homes and before long prove productive to their owners.

Pleasure and economy in summer dress goods. See the pretty styles in our new line. Washable fabrics, stylish, comfortable and not too expensive. Come and look them over. Dugan & Watrous.

Money saving is buying our groceries. Good enough for anybody and cheap enough for everybody. Dugan & Watrous.

Born—On Decoration Day, to the wife of Oliver Chowning, who lives near Dilley, a 10-pound daughter, Dr. C. L. Largo attending.

J. H. Westcott handles the only first-class wagons in town.

Three heavy work horses were killed by the excursion train into Portland near the Forest Grove-Dilley wagon road Sunday morning. The animals belonged to E. J. Hubbert of Dilley, and made up one team, having been trained to work three abreast, so that the difficulty of replacing them makes the loss greater than their value, which was about $600.

J. H. Wirtz is the only practical plumber in town. All kinds of tin-work. Second door from postoffice.

Edgar Meresse, a son of Professor Meresse, now studying in Salem, has been granted by the faculty of Willamette University the coveted honor of wearing the college "W" as recognition of distinction in oratory. Those who bring credit to the school in any of the recognized lines of intercollegiate rivalry are thus marked as favorite sons. Mr. Meresse's idle moments are occupied with editing "The Ginger Can," an occasional publication of "Phillistine" peculiarities whose columns bear out the splay promise of its name.

A few second-hand sewing machines in first-class order for sale cheap at The Bazaar, Forest Grove.

Dr. Contris, who is well known here from several visits to his brother-in-law, Dr. R. H. Hovey, in a recent letter writes him of the institution of a Knights of Pythias lodge at Cananea in Northern Mexico, with 117 on the charter list, and as much more material for the new lodge to work on. The doctor is practicing dentistry in the City of Mexico, is prospering and as enthusiastic a K. P. as ever.

Everybody has been wondering lately how The Bazaar, in Forest Grove, could sell organs and pianos cheaper than the same instrument could be had in Portland, but it is easily understood when a person stops to consider the tremendous rent, clerk hire and other expenses the big Portland houses have to put up with.

G. A. R.—J. B. Matthews' Post meets every first and third Wednesday in Vets Hall at 1:30 p. m. F. S. Barnes, Commander; F. B. Starrett, adjutant.

MANUFACTURES THAT PAY.

The new law against employing children under 16 years of age will not affect Washington county to any extent, as, according to the last census, only three children were employed, receiving for their compensation a total of $780. There were in 1900 seventy-five manufacturing plants with a capital of $283,747, and $29,562 invested in lands, $41,280 in buildings, $139,510 in machinery, tools and implements, and $73,395 cash and sundries. Besides 57 proprietors and members of firms, there were ten salaried officers receiving $5,188 a year as their combined salaries, and 125 wage earners getting $48,887. Of these employees, 177 were men and five women, whose wages were $1,100, besides the three children getting $780. For miscellaneous expenses, $11,724 was paid out, rent being $1,275, taxes $972, office rent and interest $8,379, contract work $100. Materials cost $406,092, raw product costing $399,890 and fuel and power $6,212, and the output sold for $556,961, leaving a margin of $150,869 to pay other expenses, or $75,070 with these expenses deducted. Giving the proprietors the same average salaries as their clerks takes up $44,916, and leaves $30,154 as interest on the $283,747 invested, or ten and one-half per cent. The manufacturing plants are saw mills and flour mills.

How about your printing? If you get it of The News it will be a little better and not so expensive. Costs nothing to inquire.

TUALATIN ACADEMY GRADUATION.

The class motto is a most sensible sentiment, and although the captious might suggest that wording it in a live language would have made it more generally useful, "Transeant anni, prehendamus utilia." The flower, a carnation, to Forest Grove minds suggests utility, for it calls up that cream of all creams, whose deserved popularity is the city's pride, and so may be used to typify 1903 as the condensation of all the good in the raw material now about to be turned out as a finished product, bearing the label and guarantee of the Tualatin Academy, after having been thoroughly tested. The colors are cardinal and white, and the college yell, "Hurrah for the cardinal, Hurrah for the white, Hurrah for the 3rd year, We're all right!" which the class certainly is.

Governor Chamberlain has refused to pardon Ezra E. Colestock, who was sent from here about two years ago on a sentence of twelve years for rape. James Colestock, his brother, had circulated a petition for a pardon, but the governor, on hearing the views of Judge McBride, refused to grant the pardon.

Large numbers attended the Decoration Day exercises. The children of the public school marched with the G. A. R. and the W. R. C. to the cemetery, making a large parade. A wealth of flowers was placed on all the graves. A marine service was held at the Long Bridge. Flowers were strewn on the water with appropriate ceremonies. Hon. H. V. Gates delivered the oration at the evening exercises.

The Hillsboro Lewis and Clark "ladies" Club entertained Major W. H. Clark and wife on Monday. The distinguished guests were driven about the county in the forenoon and entertained at a banquet in the afternoon.

CIRCUIT COURT.

Christian Helman has brought a suit in equity against J. P. Borchers, Caroline Borchers, Louis Borchers and Gottlieb Wels. He prays for a correction of the patents to the lands conveyed by him to defendant Gottlieb Wels, and for $350 damages against the defendants J. P. Borchers and Caroline Borchers for wrongful occupation of a portion of the premises. An action at law has been pending for some time affecting the same controversy.

Remember J. T. Buxton makes a specialty of farmers' work. General blacksmithing.
