THE VERBOORT KERMIS.

The Kermis, or German festival, at Verboort, which closed Sunday after four busy days, was in celebration of the completion of 30 prosperous years here. The same priest who 30 years ago said the first mass in the home of a non-Catholic, Sunday celebrated that sacrament in a church that will seat over 600, and has about 1000 communicants. The festival began with the day dedicated to the Visitation, which is also the name of the parish. Booths were erected on the spacious church grounds, and a merry-go-round, dancing pavilion, music by the two bands of the settlement, races and sports of all kinds, band county championship contest, concert by Portland orchestra and Independence day oration by Attorney J. P. Kavanaugh, of Portland, and reading the Declaration by Judge Hollis, of Forest Grove, were the main events. Large crowds attended each day.

The history of the settlement is a record of what intelligent industry can accomplish. In 1873 John Vandervelden, now living in Verboort, came to Portland, seeking a location for a Dutch colony from near De Pere, Brown County, Wis. He chose Verboort, and two years later, in February, 1875, six families, 27 in all, came out and bought the Henry Black and wife donation land claim of 573 acres, less than half cleared, for $25 an acre. On this they paid $4,000. The same land today could not be bought for $80 per acre. It has on it ten dwellings, a $4000 church, pastor's residence, Sisters' home, three-room school, assembly hall, band hall, post-office and store, and represents an investment of over $70,000, all paid for, while many of the settlers own outside property, and all are well-to-do. One hundred and twenty families have spread out over the adjoining country, and make up the parish, which is one of the richest country parishes in Oregon.

The pioneer families were those of John Verboort, Martin Hermens, Widow Hendrina Jansen, John Adrian Vandervelden, Anton Krieger and Albert Verboort, son of John. In 1876 the first settled pastor, Father William A. Verboort, brother of John Voorboort, erected a church 20x40, with his living rooms in the rear. He died in 1876, and was succeeded by Father Joseph E. Hermens, still living in Europe; then Father C. A. DeLette, who died a year ago, was parish priest, and he was followed by Rev. P. De Roo, now pastor of St. Joseph's German church, in Portland. Father Rouillard, who was on a vacation from his Quebec home for his health, was temporarily in charge; the present pastor is Very Rev. L. Verhaag, one of the pioneer priests of the diocese and having supervision over Yamhill, Tillamook and Washington Counties. He is a graduate of Louvain, like so many other Oregon priests; born in Holland in 1845, and came to Oregon in 1872. Father Verhaag built the St. Francis' Church, in East Portland, which blew down during the great storm of 1881.

The Verboort settlement is unique in having its parochial school made a public school, being District 97, of Washington County. The three nuns in charge of its departments, Sisters Amilda, Frances and Euphronia, hold certificates as teachers from the county. Their convent, of the Sisters of the Most Precious Blood, is at St. Mary's, near Beaverton, and the Sister Superior was the first teacher in District 97. The school has about 100 daily attendance, a ten months' term and occupies a modern building which cost about $1000.

THE GRANGE

Conducted by J. W. DARROW, Press Correspondent New York State Grange

THE POMONA GRANGE.

Its Relationship to the Subordinate Grange.

A well organized and progressive Pomona grange in any grange county of sufficient membership is conducive to means of enlarging the scope and usefulness of the subordinate granges, as it advances a step higher and is recognized by the state grange as authority on all matters of grange interest.

The Pomona grange, says Hon. E. B. Norris in the New England Homestead, should be officered by the brightest and most sterling Patrons in their respective counties, and all subordinate members should become Pomona members. At each quarterly meeting concise reports should be given from every subordinate grange in the county, stating the number of members added during the quarter, etc. Thus the condition of each subordinate grange could be reached in every county in the state. The legislative feature can be made more effective, as whatever action is taken in the Pomona must necessarily be from the delegated body of the subordinate grange, and therefore it voices the membership throughout the county.

The press has done much to enhance the usefulness of the grange. Every subordinate grange should elect a correspondent to send items from their grange to the press every week or at least every month. Publicity of grange work and its advancement would thus be encouraged. Editors of grange columns in our agricultural and local papers are glad to receive short articles relative to the grange from all parts of the state. We urge upon our subordinate and Pomona granges the necessity of establishing direct news correspondence with all our leading agricultural journals, to the end that material assistance may be extended to all lines of work that tend to elevate the American people to a better understanding of all the duties that devolve upon them to advance and maintain a nobler citizenship.

SIGNING CONTRACTS.

The Grange Should Teach Care in Such Matters.

The grange puts a premium on intelligence. It educates farmers to keep up with the times, to be alert to their opportunities and privileges and keep them in a general way on what is going on in the world, particularly as it may affect their own interests. The intelligent granger has no right to be deceived on anything pertaining to his occupation so far as it is open to investigation. But there are sharp people traveling in farming communities these days, and one of their sharp tricks is to get the farmer's signature to a document—it may be a note or check or a contract. Hidden meanings in contracts have caused much trouble and cost farmers many dollars. A contract presented by a stranger is a good thing not to sign. Why a contract for a plow or a harrow or a patent washing machine? Why buy of strangers anyway? But, if you do, the agent should be quite well satisfied with a cash payment for the article, and if the farmer cannot pay for it he would better not have it. Let these agents deliver goods first; then pay them. Refuse contracts with strangers. Keep your eyes open.

National Secretary's Report.

National Grange Secretary C. M. Freeman reports the following statement of new granges organized and granges reorganized from Oct. 1, 1902, to April 1, 1903: New granges, California, 3; Connecticut, 1; Indiana, 3; Maine, 8; Massachusetts, 1; Michigan, 83; New Hampshire, 5; New Jersey, 5; New York, 41; Ohio, 14; Oregon, 6; Pennsylvania, 14; South Carolina, 2; Vermont, 4; Washington, 7; West Virginia, 1; total, 198. Granges organized from Oct. 1, 1901, to March 31, 1902, 147; granges organized from Jan. 1 to March 31, 1903, 153.

Granges reorganized from Oct. 1, 1902, to March 31, 1903: Colorado, 1; Delaware, 2; Illinois, 1; Kansas, 1; Kentucky, 3; Maine, 2; Massachusetts, 3; Maryland, 1; Michigan, 9; Missouri, 1; New Jersey, 8; West Virginia, 10; total, 42. Total reorganized same quarter one year ago, 45.

Strength in Union.

When the rough riders charged up the hill at San Juan, they threw away their knapsacks, their canteens and everything which would impede their progress and gave all their strength to the attack. In the war which we as farmers are waging is there nothing we ought to throw away? Have we been weighed down by debts acquired through the credit system? Let's discard the credit system. Have we foolishly tried "to paddle our own canoe" without asking or granting aid? Let's get rid of that foolish notion and act with others through the grange, remembering that "in union there is strength."—George A. Fuller.

What is a grange? An excellent definition follows: "A lodge or local branch of the Order of the Patrons of Husbandry, an order designed to promote the interests of farmers and to bring the producer and the consumer nearer together."

Grange insurance is permitted in most states after a candidate has taken the first degree.

Progressive farmers join the grange.
