H. H. Hendrix, a pioneer of Cornelius, active in spite of his 80 years and failing sight, was an entertaining caller at this sanctum Wednesday. He related several interesting stories of revolutionary incidents told him by his grandfather, who was an active participant in them.

A new line of wall paper. Nothing freshens up a home and gives so much lasting pleasure for so little money as tastefully decorated walls and ceiling. No excuse for dingy rooms now; variety to suit every taste. Prices that will harmonize with any pocket book. Roe & Buxton.

Capt. F. S. Barnes, Saturday, in response to a telephone invitation from Will H. Thompson, of Tacoma, who is preparing for the National Archery tournament in Aug., went to Portland and in company with that gentleman and Dr. Henry E. Jones, put in the day at the golf grounds shooting arrows. Of course, they used Barnes' Oregon self-yew bows, for all the champions for many seasons past have sent their victorious shafts from bows made in Forest Grove. Mr. Thompson, besides being the attorney for the Great Northern Railway, is president of the National Archery Association, and will be remembered in Forest Grove as one of the university lecturers during the past year, having told of "The War Songs of the South."

Nothing so clean, cool and comfortable for fitting up a bedroom as one of those low-priced iron bedsteads at Roe & Buxton's, and when winter comes they will be just as attractive. The best the year around.

Miss Jessie Hibbs, of Portland, is visiting Mrs. W. McEldowney.

J. H. Westcott makes a specialty of builders' hardware. Prices are right.

The Congregational Missionary Society held a meeting with Mrs. Ferrin Wednesday afternoon.

Roe & Buxton are selling agents for Standard Varnish Works of New York. Finest lustre and quality unpassed.

Miss Anna Sorenson, who has been teaching in Portland, is home for the summer.

Mrs. Mayne Abbott entertained the Fleur de Lis Club Wednesday afternoon. Delightful refreshments, good music, pretty decorations and a charming company were the features.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. King have gone to Montana to visit relatives, and expect to be absent six or seven weeks. E. R. Hall, brother of Painter M. E. Hall, started Monday for his Indiana home to repair damages done his property there by a destructive storm. If he can manage it he may transfer his home to this land, where cyclones are unknown.

J. A. Anderson and family have returned to Beaverton, where they will make their home, although they have not entirely abandoned the Grove, but still have a house here to which they can return.

Mr. E. W. Coleman, who has been at his claim on the Nehalem, returned home last Friday.

Harvey Baldwin is back from a week at the seashore at popular Newport, where so many are taking their summer rest this season.

Professor Edmond Carlton, who was elected principal of the Forest Grove school, has been offered an increased salary to remain in Albany, and accordingly has declined the offer from here. The board have enough money at their disposal to make a proposition to their next choice that will be an inducement to a good man.

Mrs. John U. Smith, wife of the former Portland attorney who was U. S. commissioner in Alaska during its first gold excitement, has arrived in San Francisco with her family on the bark Rhoderic Dhu, from their home at Hilo, Hawaii.

Get your pictures at Meresse's, and get them at cost.

J. R. Grimes, a nephew of Mr. Ray, who has just come from Delaware county, Iowa, visited The News office Saturday in company with John Apoline, the Cornelius flour mill man.

E. W. Dixon returned Friday from a visit of two and one-half months at North Yakima, Wash. Too cold weather has led him to abandon a projected vacation at Soda Springs.

H. H. Davies, a pioneer of '52, who for 17 years has been a citizen of Washington county, though for four years living in Washington state, was in town Saturday from his home near Manning.

Dr. R. Nixon, the dentist, accompanied by his son, left Tuesday for an outing of three or four weeks. Their route will be through Washington, extending to the eastern part of the state.

J. A. Abbott is Forest Grove's representative at the A. O. U. W. Grand Lodge session at Portland this week, which is deciding the most momentous question in the order's history, how to escape the prohibitive rates put on old members by the Supreme Lodge to meet a deficiency of nearly $2,000,000. The jurisdiction of Oregon is in prosperous shape, with nearly 12,000 members, but the supreme organization does not seem to have been as wisely administered.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ismert, of Pinckneyville, Ill., after a week's visit at the home of Dr. R. H. Hovey, sailed Tuesday evening on the Elder for San Francisco. Dr. and Mrs. Hovey accompanied them to Portland.

Mrs. M. A. Dixon, of Forest Grove, contributed a decidedly original and appropriate design in the Lewis and Clark contest. Within the outlines of a salmon appear three scenes typical of Oregon.

Mark L. Noble, the hustling real estate man, was in Portland on business Thursday.

Dad, Fat, Jingle and Bowser leave tomorrow for a strenuous week's hunt on Bear Mountain.

Ex-Senator E. W. Haines was in Portland Thursday.

Gladstone Park has been alive with Chautauquans the past week. The weather has been delightful, the programs have been of more than usual interest, and the attendance has been very large. A goodly number of people from this county are in attendance. Some of them are camping in the park.

Those from Hillsboro were: Mrs. Davis, Fred Everson, Miss Johnson, Miss Wilson, Miss Stella Roscow, Mr. West Roscow, Miss Mona Williams and Mr. H. R. Greer and wife. Forest Grove is represented by Prof. and Mrs. W. T. Fletcher, Miss Pearl Chandler, Rev. and Mrs. Belknap and daughter, Miss Maud Buxton, Mr. Napier, of T. A., Mr. Fred Day, Miss Florence Day, Frank Brown and Abel Meresse, both of the News.

Levi Smith Tuesday finished threshing 25 acres of barley, which went over 30 bushels to the acre, or in money, at current prices, about $18.75. This is one of the first among the early threshings.

The Congregational Church services Sunday evening were in the open air, the preacher speaking from the college steps.

Woods & Adams' corner is a busy scene with the laying of the stone foundation for their new brick. There is a report that the Knights of Pythias may make arrangements to put on a second story for a commodious castle hall, with banquet hall, kitchen and all the other conveniences that make the modern home of a prosperous lodge.

The Christian Church young people will give an open air social on the church square next Tuesday evening, the 28th.

The Pacific Coast Condenser Company has decided to get as many cows as they can in Marion, Polk and other counties where good stock is obtainable, and furnish them to farmers of this vicinity, so as to increase the herds in their tributary territory. They are now getting milk from about 1,000 cows, while they can use the product of 3,000.

Councilman Nels Johnson is shy a $25-harness, which disappeared Saturday night from the barn on his Spring Hill farm.

Miss Helena Freeman, who has shown wonderful talent in portrait painting, has just completed a beautiful specimen which will adorn the home of a Washington customer. Upon a goatskin dyed red, a life-like head of "Little Wound," a typical Indian, has been reproduced so realistically in all the glory of his war paint, that one equally admires Miss Freeman's art and envies the fortunate purchaser. Councilman Wirtz exhibited the painting, which is intended as a wall decoration, Thursday afternoon to several business men, and at the News sanctum and it attracted general praise and interest.

A. H. Gates, who lives about a mile and a half north of town, was severely hurt Thursday afternoon while out in the fields using his binder. Prof. H. L. Bates was in Portland Thursday, to be away from the city for a week or so. Later he will make his annual outing to the Sound country.

WATROUS-JENSEN WEDDING. Married—At the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Watrous, in Forest Grove, on Thursday afternoon, July 23, 1903, by the Rev. Edward Curran, of the Congregational church, Mrs. Mary Jensen, of Gaston, and Mr. J. A. Watrous, of Forest Grove. The ceremony was witnessed by the relatives of both Mr. and Mrs. Watrous, and completed just in time for them to take the afternoon Portland train for a wedding trip, which will include the Lower Columbia and Coast cities, as well as a visit to Mr. Watrous' son, Frank, who is now stationed at Fort Stephens.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Watrous are well known in this part of Washington county, and have a host of friends, who join with The News in wishing Mrs. Watrous all of life's happiness, and congratulating her husband, Mrs. Watrous had recently disposed of her fine farm property near Gaston and will be welcomed again as a resident of Forest Grove, where Mr. Watrous is favorably known as a reliable and enterprising business man. They will be at home to their friends on their return at their new cottage on Pacific avenue and Second street.

FOREST GROVE'S PUBLIC SCHOOL, WITH THE PROPOSED ADDITION.

The school meeting last Saturday adjourned without action until tomorrow, Saturday, July 25, at 2 P. M., at the schoolhouse, when the voters will decide whether the directors shall be authorized to build an addition to furnish the necessary room which they have been having to rent. Mr. Wm. Kane, who planned the building, had in mind that it should be enlarged when necessary by the additional four rooms shown in the picture.
