WASHINGTON COUNTY DENTAL PARLORS

Dr. V. L. DIMMICK, Manager

Official Notices of the City of Forest Grove—Published by Authority

Regular communication of Forest Chapter No. 42, Order of the Eastern Star, will be held in Masonic hall on Monday evening, September 7. Visiting members will be cordially welcomed. This is the first meeting since the summer recess and also in the renovated hall.

John Robb, brother-in-law of Mrs. J. C. Robb, died in a Portland hospital last week, the result of an operation, and was buried in Lone Fir cemetery. Mrs. J. P. Wagner, his niece, and her husband attended the funeral. His son died only a short time before. He leaves a wife and two children, a son and a daughter. A large number of relatives from all over the sale attended the funeral services, among them being Collector of Customs Robb, of Astoria. The pall bearers were all nephews, and included Mr. J. P. Wagner, of Forest Grove.

When you see Hines Bros' bread wagon at your door you may know that the best in the bakery line is at hand.

Rev. L. F. Belknap, pastor of the M. E. Church, arrived home Wednesday from Dayton, and will occupy his pulpit next Sunday, both morning and evening.

Harvo Baldwin has lumber on the ground for a new cottage in South Park, the 34th built by his family in Forest Grove. It is already rented to Mr. Conley.

Robbing a child's savings bank is the claim of some unknown Forest Grove burglar to be the meanest man on earth. Monday the 12-year-old son of W. K. Curtis discovered a man in the house investigating his savings, about $2.50, and drove him out with the loss of about a dollar, the rest being scattered around the room. The same man called again Thursday afternoon and made a final clean-up, getting $5 to $10 in cash, as near as Mr. Curtis could tell. It is quite evident that the guilty party is a man very familiar with the place and must have been watching, as the boy left to look after the house had been out only a few minutes, and when he returned saw the burglar, just having recognized him as the same man he ran out of the house on Tuesday.

Mr. G. A. Wells, who is here from the East, is a friend of Mr. C. V. B. Russell, and with him founded the Miners' Register of Circle City, Colo., a paper well known. Mr. Wells says The News is the best country paper he ever saw. Mr. Wells and Mr. Russell in 1857 were together on the Glenwood (Mills county, Iowa) Weekly Union, and Mr. Russell carefully preserves a copy of the fourth issue of the first volume, dated Nov. 19, 1857, marked for the printer to throw in the dead matter. Home-made poetry, a receipt for dried apple pie, financial editorials and an account of labor troubles make it look like a present-day country paper.

The News office has looked like a state fair county exhibit this week, and the specimens exhibited would have been in the prize-winning class. Wm. Lousignont brought in beans 10 inches long, while Mrs. Lazott, of Buxton, left specimens of 11-inch beans and a sunflower 9 inches in diameter. Mr. Parkin contributed samples of as fine prunes, apples and plums as are to be seen anywhere.

A district Sunday school convention was held in the M. E. church Wednesday, with a good attendance. Rev. A. Robinson, of Hillsboro, is president. State Superintendent (of Sunday Schools) Johnson, of Portland, was present and prominent in making the convention a success.

Marshal Cronin gathered in 18 cows one day last week, and a few others went to the pound during the seven days, but that day was the record. They strayed in from Cornelius.
