Prudent people purchase Dr. Lowe's glasses. There's a reason.

Gen. Ransom Post G. A. R. holds its election Saturday. The W. R. C. election is today.

Dr. Lowe, the optician, will be in Forest Grove Dec. 7 and 8 and till noon the 9th.

Just received—A fine assortment of fresh candles at Heidel's Confectionery Store.

A well made portrait of the giver is often the most welcome Holiday gift, such a fine photo as Pope & Morgan are now offering at a price that will pay you to investigate.

Saturday night, Dec. 5, is the regular communication of Tuality lodge No. 6, A. F. & A. M. and election of officers. Tuatatin Chapter No. 31, O. E. S., meets Tuesday evening, Dec. 8, and also holds election.

U. S. District Attorney John H. Hall, of Portland, was attending to business before the circuit court Monday. Speculation as to his successor has been rife for a year past but his efficiency has been recognized in retaining him to finish the prosecution of the timber land frauds.

A second, "Citizens" ticket has been put out to contest the election next Monday with the candidates previously announced. For mayor, R. H. Greer; councilmen, Al Carlile, U. G. Gardiner, and Ed Schulmerich; treasurer, A. C. Shute; recorder, H. T. Bagley. These are all men of good standing and the ticket will certainly win considerable support so that the city election is likely to be lively.

The Hillsboro band is preparing for an entertainment, partly musical and in part dramatic, to be given during the Holidays for replenishing their treasury which has been depleted in buying music and instruments. For an organization of which the city is justly proud and one contributing so much to the success of public occasions the band benefit appeals to all and will undoubtedly be patronized as it deserves.

Some of Portland's citizens, tired of the city government's alliance with vice, are endeavoring to enjoin Mayor Williams and Chief Hunt from collecting money from gambling houses. An ex-Attorney General of the United States ought to be able to form an opinion whether the Federal Supreme Court is likely to give a municipality the right to license a wrong and some of these days a case will arise that will be taken to that court of last resort.

Wm. D. Worster, a special agent of the Pacific States Telephone Co. with headquarters at Portland, was in town Friday assisting Agent Palmer to get the 9 telephone contracts needed to complete the 100 subscribers in town which would entitle Hillsboro to all-night service. These were quickly secured and as soon as the instruments can be installed that much desired change will take place.

The State Board of Medical Examiners is rapidly transforming its members into those equine quadrupeds smaller than the horse and distinguished by their harsh bray and long ears. Just now it is resolved that osteopaths shall not attempt healing, claiming that while the offenders do not give medicine they dissuade their patients from going to regular physicians and take fees that should go, the State Board evidently thinks, to those of the older schools. With so many limitations to the power of the physician the public does not take kindly to attempts to prevent progress in an art of such vital import. Kill or cure, like cures like, mind controls matter, all have their adherents and until medicine becomes an exact science the believers in one school need not cry against another for all have their victims of mistaken diagnosis, of remedies that fail to relieve, of cases where their system falls down.

The State Land Board has been settling the Klamata county swamp land controversy involving 8960 acres, by granting the 26 claimants headed by Senator Marsters, of Roseburg, the right to purchase 6 sections at the minimum price of an acre and will publicly auction off the rest to the highest bidder. Two months ago 11,000 acres adjoining this was sold at a dollar. The board was divided, State Treasurer Moore opposing the sale, Governor Chamberlain, favoring and Secretary of State Dunbar making the compromise.

Have Dr. Lowe cure your head and eye ache by removing the cause with a pair of his superior glasses. They are best by all tests.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT'S WAY.

Admit that President Roosevelt desires a nomination to the Presidency. Admit that he orders his course so as to appeal to the people for support. It is nevertheless necessary for thinking men to consider the appeal he makes and to decide whether it is deserving of approval or of condemnation. Other men appeal to motives more or less honorable, more or less base. Certainly he has the right to aspire to the nomination. Certainly he can assume from his selection for Vice-President that he is not presuming in his candidacy. What, then, is his appeal? It is faithfully reflected in this paragraph from his comment on the Bristow report:

No crime calls for sterner reprobation than the crime of the corruptor in public life, and of the man who seeks to corrupt him. The bribe giver and the bribe taker are equally guilty. Both alike air against the primary law of the state's safety. All questions of difference in party policy sink into insignificance when the people of this country are brought face to face with a question like this, which lies at the root of honest and decent government. On this question, and on all others like it, we can afford to have no division among good citizens. In the last resort good laws and good administration alike must rest upon the broad basis of sound public opinion. A full public conscience, an easy-going acquiescence in corruption, infallibly means the ruin of free institutions. If government becomes a farce if no representatives of the people corrupt others or are themselves corrupted. Freedom is not a gift which will tarry long in the hands of the dishonest or those so foolish or so incompetent as to tolerate dishonesty in their public servants. Under our system all power comes from the people and all punishment rests ultimately with the people. The toleration of the wrong, not the exposure of the wrongs, is the real offense.

The question, therefore, is whether the people of the United States care enough for the principles of honesty in public life to stand by the man who puts his trust in their loyalty to righteousness. We know the arts of the politician. We know how favoritism and patronage and corporation influence are supreme in so many places. We have seen how official life is sometimes steeped even in corruption of the deepest dye. Is there anything else which at this time so sharply challenges the attention of the thoughtful or calls up on the activity of the well-disposed? Is there any question of tariff, or currency, or the dependencies, or of fees, which transcends the importance of standing in this critical conflict between right and wrong for the expression and maintenance of integrity in the public service? Can we afford as a Nation to turn our backs upon the man who has had the courage to brave the entrenched forces of favoritism and greed and the faith to anchor his hopes in an American loyalty to righteousness?

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for Washington County. Erwin Ritter, Administrator of the estate of Jno. W. Lemmon, deceased, Plaintiff, vs. Robert A. Foreman and Ladd & Tilton, Agents, Defendants.

To Robt. A. Foreman, the above named defendant: In the name of the State of Oregon, you are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint of the plaintiff filed against you in the above entitled suit and court within six weeks from the date of the first publication of this summons, the first publication thereof being on the 15th day of October, 1903, and if you fail so to appear and answer, for want thereof the plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief prayed for and demanded in his said complaint, to wit: That he as administrator be adjudged and decreed to be the owner in fee simple and free from all incumbrances of the following described land in Washington Co., Ore., and described as follows, to wit: Lots numbered one and two in section 17 in T. 1 N., R. 1 W., Will. Mer. That the defendant and each of them be adjudged to have no interest in or lien upon the said real property by virtue of a certain mortgage made and executed by the said Jno. Lemmon and wife to the said Robt. A. Foreman, and which mortgage is recorded on page 409 of book "F" of the records for mortgages for Washington County, Oregon, and that said defendant and each of them above named be forever enjoined and barred from asserting or claiming any interest in or lien upon the foregoing described real property by virtue of said mortgage or otherwise, that said mortgage be adjudged to be fully paid, satisfied and discharged, that the Recorder of Conveyances of Washington County, Ore., be authorized and directed to satisfy said mortgage of record, and for such other and further relief as may seem to the Court to be equitable. This summons is served upon you by publication by order of L. A. Rood, County Judge of Washington County, Ore., dated at Chambers, Oct. 2nd, 1903. Said order requires this summons to be published for six consecutive and successive weeks, and requires you to appear and answer the complaint on or before the first publication thereof.
