Humor and Philosophy

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

Some travelers are so blasé that they think the river Rhone a chestnut.

It is hard to pay a three-year-old bill—if you haven't the money.

Everything goes by contraries in China, particularly the women.

While we are in the grip of the ice king South America is in the grip of the ice man. Which would lose by a trade?

Especially does the man who sells goods on the installment plan love a lover.

Lives of great men remind us that they have their failings when written by their private secretaries.

It depends on whether you are going to bed or getting up if 2 o'clock a. m. is early or late.

Truth is stranger than fiction when the fishermen hand it out.

Since the laying of the Pacific cable the earth may be said to be wearing an electric belt, and we will see whether it is cured of earthquakes and such internal disorders.

A congressman is apt to consider his constituents as a necessary evil.

A political economist who uses words of less than six syllables receives no consideration.

Were the weather not always on hand as a topic of conversation some people might as well be deaf and dumb.

The man with a new sealskin cap takes the open winter as a personal affront.

Pride goes before a fall, but not to soften the way.

No man who turns his cuffs is a gentleman in the eyes of the laundryman.

The Opportune Time.

When stock is going high,
Then buy;
Before it drops pell-mell,
Then sell.
He who can know
How it will go
Won't have to grind his life away
At three per day.

Their Bread Was Buttered.

"All of the great stars have been listed," complained the young astronomer, "and there is nothing left for us to discover but the minor ones."

"It appears to me," said the sympathetic friend, "that the ancient astronomers have taken the cream off the milky way."

Where Patience Fails.

Perhaps by patience you may do
Most anything you try,
But the most patient yellow hen
May sit and sit and sit again
Upon a door knob, but the trick
Will not produce a single chick.
I wonder why.

The Loan Bird.

"Was the oyster supper a financial success?"
"I should say so! Everything was donated except the oyster, and he was so well preserved that they can use him twice more."

Gets There Occasionally.

Error does not always triumph.
Truth not always meets mishap;
Truth is sometimes on the scaffold
Tying error for the trap.

A Surer Thing.

"When I get to be a man, I am going to run a peanut stand, and then I can have all the peanuts I want."
"Hub! When I get to be a man, I am going to be a policeman. That is an easier way."

I am going to be a policeman. That is an easier way."

All in the Season.
In summer shoveling snow opposes
A pleasure quite enticing;
In winter you would rather take
Your fun without the icing.

Most Too Much.
"So Jenkins is a much married man now?"

"It seems so. I understand from close friends that he finds he has married the whole family."

NOTICE FOR PUBLICATION.

United States Land Office, Oregon City, Ore., Oct. 22, 1903. Notice is hereby given that in compliance with the provisions of the act of Congress of June 3, 1878, entitled "An act for the sale of timber lands in the States of California, Nevada and Washington Territory," as extended to all the Public Land States by act of August 4, 1892, Columbus W. Cowan, of Portland, county of Multnomah, State of Oregon, has this day filed in this office his sworn statement, No. 6223, for the purchase of the NE 1/4 of SE 1/4, Sec. 12, T. 2 N., R. 6 W., and lots 1, 2 and 3 of Sec. No 7 in Township 2 N., Range No. 5 W., and will offer proof to show that the land sought is more valuable for its timber or stone than for agricultural purposes, and to establish his claim to said land before the Register and Receiver of this office at Oregon City, Ore., on Friday, the 8th, day of January, 1904. He names as witnesses: James B. Houston, W. A. Trites, L. R. Houston, W. A. Gordon, all of Portland, Ore. Any and all persons claiming adversely the above-described lands are requested to file their claim in this office on or before said 8th day of January 1904.
