A short while ago while Miss Marion George of the 4 Georges' Co. appeared before 12,000 people at the famous Mormrn tabernacle at Salt Lake City, during their big convention, she was recalled time after time by the delighted throng. You should go and hear her.

A. A. Bullock, one of Nebraska's late arrivals, who recently purchased the Frank Waters ranch one mile east of Greenville, met with a very painful accident while plowing in his garden last Monday afternoon. The plow struck a stump causing the double-tree to break, and, having the lines around his waist he was pulled over the handles, falling on the iron beam in such a manner as to inflict a very severe cut in his chin and upper lip and otherwise bruising him considerably. He was taken to Hillsboro where Dr. Bailey administered treatment and he is now getting along nicely, though yet unable to work.

The "Wonderful Metropolitan Company" landed in our ethical city last week, and for two successive nights edified the "sucker" at the opera house with cheap songs and gaudy dancing. During the days the erudite members of the company reclined on the grass in the balmy shades near the opera house, blowed cigarette fumes skyward and watched the antics of their—two fat girls. They departed overland to Yamhill in carriages, in order to better enjoy the scenic beauties of lake Wapato, "at the expense of our local liveryman."

Miss Marion George, with the 4 Georges' Co., is the highest salaried lady violin player on the stage, and all the big musical centers have heard and applauded her artistic talent. She has many valuable treasures, chief among which is her famous violin, which cost over $2500. She is the only legitimate successor to Madam Norma Naruda, and seats should be obtained early.

Ground is being broken and grading done for the new residence of Mr. Peterson, the hardware merchant. Uncle David Keen is in charge of the grading, being an expert landscape gardener. While unassuming and modest about his ability along this line yet if given charge of that work few can better arrange for a beautiful lawn and artistic arranging of shrubs and trees.

Mrs. Thos. Burden, Mrs. Irvine and Wilbur Kerns, all of Portland, were visitors at the home of Judge B. P. Welch over Sunday. Mrs. Burden is the mother of Mrs. Welch and Mr. Kerns is an uncle of our candidate for legislative honor, Mr. Wilbur Newell.

A delinquent subscriber was in this week and asked us if we would take his dollar. We blushed and to save us from further embarrassment he left it on the desk. It might not be wise for another delinquent to try this as we have recovered our equilibrium.
