

Hazelwood Talks Infinite Pains

In Manufacture

When considering what kind of a hand separator to endorse and handle for our patrons, we visited the factory where the U. S. machine is made. We already knew the machine was giving better results on the farm than any other, but we wanted to be doubly sure of what we were doing before inducing our patrons to buy it. We knew the machine seemed to wear even better than any other piece of machinery, but we were not prepared for what we saw as to the infinite pains taken to get each part of each machine exactly right before allowing it to be used.

Every piece of steel was tempered to the exact degree of hardness best suited for wear. Nothing with a flaw or defect was permitted to be used, every part was inspected and re-inspected. In fact, every precaution was taken to insure perfection. Then each machine was tested thoroughly before it was allowed to leave the factory. From the president of the company, Mr. Williams, down to the humblest employee, everybody seemed to be intent on seeing that each separator was exactly right. Nothing of a shiftless or careless character was tolerated.

A detailed description of the separator, with its points of excellence, is presented in the catalogue of the Vermont Farm Machine Co. It gives us a great deal of pleasure to say that our experience and the experience of our patrons with the U. S. shows that the claims made in the catalogue are lived up to by the machine.

We will mail free of cost a copy of the U. S. catalogue, and also a copy of the well known pamphlet on "The Value of Skim Milk" to any reader who fills out the following inquiry blank.

Mr. McCoughren visited with friends in Portland Sunday.

Mr. Gwynn spent Sunday in Portland with relatives.

Prof. Bradley and several of the students went to Portland to see the meet with Columbia, last Saturday.

Remember Pacific vs. Oregon. College campus, Saturday, May 14. Best meet of the year.

The dual track and field meet with Columbia University, which was held in Portland last Saturday afternoon, resulted in a victory for Pacific, the final score being, P. U., 88; C. U., 38. The meet was very unsatisfactory in many respects, as Columbia did not make it interesting for the boys. Columbia only succeeded in getting 4 first places, out of a possible 14.

There were no records broken, although the coast record in the 50 yard dash was tied. The meet served more as a try-out than anything else, and next Saturday will come the real test of what the team can do. Pacific has met the University of Oregon twice before, and each time U. of O. won, but this time Pacific has high hopes of winning. Never before in the history of the institution, has Pacific had as good a team as she has this year, and Oregon will have to hurry, if she wins a victory. But the success of the meet will depend very much upon the support that the team gets from the students and the people of the town. The town people have supported the boys royally this year, and we have every reason to expect that a large and enthusiastic crowd will be on the field next Saturday, to cheer the boys on to victory.

Banks

Mr. James of Forest Grove, was a caller on Mr. John Burrow, Sunday.

Mr. John Friday spent Sunday with his brother Albert at Greenville.

A. B. Garrigus was in Portland last week with a load of hogs, for which he realized a good price.

Mr. Teagarden is boarding with P. C. Filbert while Mrs. Teagarden is visiting in Portland.

Dr. Geiger was called to see Mrs. Garrigus, who suffered a slight stroke of paralysis on the 7th.

From the sound of steam whistles and falling timber one would think we lived in the midst of a large lumbering district.
