Administrator's Notice

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned has been by the County Court of Washington County, Oregon, duly appointed Administrator of the estate of Eliza D. Thomas, deceased, and has duly qualified as such administrator.

All persons having claims against said estate are hereby required to present the same with proper vouchers to me, at the Bank of E. W. Haines, at Forest Grove, Oregon, within six months from the date of this notice.

Dated at Forest Grove, Oregon, this 9th day of June, 1904.

D. H. THOMAS,

Administrator of the Estate of Eliza D. Thomas, Deceased.

EDWARD C. LUCE, Attorney for Estate.

State of Oregon,
County of Washington, } ss

I Richard Reycraft, being first duly sworn, depose and say: that I have never made any statements or statement in the presence of S. W. Sherwood that would have a tendency to cause him to believe or give him cause to make any statement detrimental to the character or reputation of Mark L. Noble. In case any statements have been made by him I here wish to refute the same and hereby fully exonerate Mr. Noble as to any statements that may have been made in which my name has been connected.

Dated at Forest Grove, Oregon, May 31st, 1904.

RICHARD REYCRRAFT,

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 31st day of May, 1904. J. N. HOFFMAN, Notary Public of Oregon.

FOR THE LITTLE ONES.

The Booby Bird and Some of Its Funny and Silly Performances

The booby bird, an oceanic fowl, is probably the funniest and most stupid bird in the world. It appears to have as little intelligence as the old extinct dodo had, according to the ancient accounts.

The booby nests on islands far out in the Pacific ocean and will not stir out of the way when men land there, but remains squatted on the ground, staring at intruders stolidly.

It can fly very well indeed, and goes long distances. But when it is sitting on the water it will remain directly in the course of a ship, so that it happens often that a steamer will go clear over a booby that could easily have swum or flown out of the way.

Sometimes booby birds will fly on the deck of a ship and lie there with their legs sprawling under them, making no attempt to rise, as if their bewilderment had quite numbed their weak intellect.

The booby does not feed its young as other birds do, by carrying food to them in its bill. Instead of this the booby swallows the food, and then the young bird thrusts its head into the throat of the parent and fishes the food out.

When two young boobies are hatched in the same nest, the one that is out of the egg first will often attempt to eat its younger brother or sister.

When a shot is fired at a booby bird, it generally falls down flat on the ground and screams pitiably, even if it has not been hit at all, so that it happens frequently that a gunner gathers in entirely unhurt booby birds that have simply been frightened into helplessness.

The Happy Future.

Mrs. Waggles—Everything we have here in the house is so old it is shabby.

Waggles—Have a little patience, my dear. When they get a little older they will be antique.—Judge.

A Drawback.

Notice For Publication

United States Land Office, Oregon City, Oregon.

April 4, 1904

Notice is hereby given that in compliance with the provision of the act of Congress of June 3, 1878, entitled "An act for the sale of timber lands in the States of California, Oregon, Nevada, and Washington Ty," as extended to all the Public Land States by act of August 4, 1892, Thomas A. Legard, of St. Johns, county of Multnomah, State of Oregon, has this day filed in this office his sworn statement No. 6398, for the purchase of the N. W. 1/4 of Section No. 25 in Township No. 1 N., Range No. 5 W., and will offer proof to show that the land sought is more valuable for its timber or stone than for agricultural purposes, and to establish his claim to said land before the Register and Receiver of this office at Oregon City, Oregon, on Tuesday, the 5th day of July, 1904.

He names as witnesses:

George A. Sather, of Portland, Oregon,
J. C. Paulson, of Gales Creek, Oregon,
H. Slooman, of Gales Creek, Oregon,
Chas. F. Ehman, of Portland, Oregon.

Any and all persons claiming adversely the above-described lands are requested to file their claims in this office on or before said 5th day of July, 1904.
