At Opera House All Next Week.

The Georgia Harper company will open a week's engagement in Forest Grove commencing Monday Nov. the 7th. The opening play, The Power of Love, is an emotional society drama in five acts.

A clipping. The Dalles Chronical of Nov. 1st., has a notice headed, "The Georgia Harper Company Has Won Dalles People By Their Conscientious Work," it covers nearly a column and has nothing but words of praise for Miss Harper and her company. In part, it says. Whatever may have been the opinion of the large audience concerning the character of the play "Power of Love" presented last night at the Vogt, one thing was agreed upon and that is that it affords Miss Harper a splendid opportunity to display her power as an actress and to prove that she is equal to the heaviest work required in exacting roles. There is no disputing the fact, Georgia Harper is an actress of exceptional ability and one cannot fail of recognition be she on the stage in small towns or in the largest cities in the East.

COLLEGE NOTES

At a meeting of the student body, held yesterday afternoon, Willard Wirtz upon recommendation of the track team, was elected to manage the track work next spring. Mr. Wirtz assisted Manager Thompson with last year's track team and is at present assistant football manager and has had efficient experience to thoroughly qualify him for the position.

A large audience gathered in the chapel Friday night for the concert given by Miss Imogene Harding, an Oregon City vocalist who has recently returned from study in New York City. The singer has a beautiful contralto voice which delighted all who heard her. Her tones were all clear and her enunciation almost perfect. She puts much feeling into her selections which are well interpreted. Not the least pleasing feature was the variety of selections introduced. They ranged from several simple but beautiful songs to the most difficult of classical music. Ballads from the Welch, Scotch and English were well received. Miss Wilma Waggner accompanied her and played two excellent piano solos.

A pleasant reception was given by the college girls at Herrick Hall Friday night in honor of the Albany and Pacific football teams. The decorations were very attractive and dainty refreshments were served.

Professor Preston W. Search gave an interesting address before the students Friday afternoon on "The Building of Character."

A concert and fair will be given by the students sometime this month as a football benefit.

A Dead Moose.

When a bull moose lies dead in the forest he looks like some strange antediluvian animal, with his square prehensile muffle and horns spreading laterally, a peculiarity which he shares with the prehistoric Irish elk and the nearly extinct European elk of later times. The huge form tells of strength and swiftness, and withal the still dangerous gleam of the eye, glazed in its last stare, bids the hunter pause and feel almost guilty of a crime in the destruction of so much that is grand and weird, a feeling very different from the sentiment supposed to attend the slaughter of a deer. But the triumph of mastering the wariest and bravest animal in the woods by fair still hunting and by grimly sticking to the track for many a weary mile amply atones for any regrets.—Century.

Sneak Thieves In Churches.

An old sexton was discussing the amount of stealing that is done in churches. "Scarcely a day passes," he said, "when the church is open without some distracted woman coming to me bowed down with grief because somebody has stolen her purse. There are certain contemptible thieves who prey on unsuspecting women who pray so hard that they forget to look after their pocketbooks. The thief watches until the woman is deep in prayer and then leans over, grasps the purse and sneaks out."—Philadelphia Record.

Came In Handy.

"The weather man said it would rain today, and I'm glad I carried my umbrella."

"Why, it didn't rain at all today."
"Of course it didn't, but I met the weather man on the street, and I used the umbrella to bang him good and hard."—Catholic Standard and Times.
