The past week has been one of surprises. Wednesday evening the friends of Theodore Muller surprised him. A pleasant time is reported. A farewell surprise party was tendered Miss Mabel Wilcox, of the public school, by her friends on Friday night. She left for Portland on Saturday morning.

What might have proved a very serious accident occurred at the Base Line Lumber Company's mill last Thursday. A partly sawed log was upon the carriage. The log was timber-bound and when the saw was but a few feet and while one of the carriage men was wedging; the saw sprung so as to strike the guide and was broken into a large number of pieces which were scattered through the mill. No one of the hands were hurt. The timbers were badly shaken up, all the bolts in those carrying the saw were broken. The accident has caused a week or more of idleness in that part of the mill.

Faculty Concert

The student body committee on entertainment of Pacific University has made a special arrangement with Prof. Chapman whereby the concert by the faculty of the conservatory, which is set for February 21, will be given as a student benefit. The students will have charge of all advertising and a certain amount of the receipts will go into the treasury of the student body.

We can confidently expect an excellent entertainment when the concert is given. The entire faculty of the music department will participate; Mrs. Pauline Miller Chapman, mezzo-soprano; Miss Lina Linehan, coloratura-soprano, Miss Waggener and Miss Cadwell, pianists; and Prof. Frank T. Chapman, violinist and pianist.

This concert is the only faculty recital that will be given this year. Reserved seated will be 50c, general admission will be 35c. These rates are not half so high as one would pay for concerts of less merit in cities such as Portland, and a crowded house will undoubtedly greet the performers.—Index.

A Minnesota exchange has this to say about the weather in that state: "The thermometer registered thirty-two degrees below zero Thursday morning. At some places it went as low as thirty-six." At the same time the weather here was so warm that winter clothes were uncomfortable.
