THURSDAY, APRIL, 13, 1905

Have you raised the price of your real estate yet?

There are new newspapers bobbing up all over Oregon.

Forest Grove is getting some good advertising out of the saloon case whether she deserves it or not.

There are no surprises in the findings of the late grand jury at Portland last week. It was only a general fulfillment of all expectations.

J. F. Woods, editor of the Forest Grove News, issues a newsy weekly that should be a source of pride to the community.—Hood River Glacier.

Senator Fulton came in for a share of the notoriety before the grand jury adjourned. It is in some cases better to walk a thousand miles, than write a letter.

Did you ever count the words in a column of ordinary newspaper print? There are about two thousand words in a column. Suppose you sit down and write a thousand words on some subject, and then another thousand on another until you have written eight or ten thousand. Try it and see if it is right easy. Keep that gate up for a month. Then chase a local item all over town, and after you have gotten the facts all right, condense them into a few lines—an hour's work that can be read in a few seconds. Do this for a dozen items that seem insignificant after they are printed, but which you know is important; then have the items criticised and inaccuracies pointed out to you when it is too late to correct them. Oh, yes, it is easy.—Eugene Guard.

Texas has accorded to President Roosevelt a strenuous welcome; as a strenuous man he has reciprocated it. His message to them briefly was as follows: "Train up your children in the way that led to your own success in life; teach them to work, to endure with courage, to assume the duties and responsibilities of life cheerfully, and to discharge them faithfully." This is the good, old logic upon which sturdy men and courageous women have been brought up ever since the landing of the Pilgrims. It applies with equal force to the quiet dwellers of placid New England, the earnest people of the risen Southland, the millions of the busy, bustling North and the wide and teeming West. In all this broad land there is not room for the sluggard and the shirk. The President's voice adds a new emphasis to those old truths that underlie the Nation's greatness.—Oregonian.

Forest Grove is getting to a point when all old, uneven board walks should be replaced with nice, new cement walks and especially so along Main street and those in front of other business houses. There is no other town, we venture, in Oregon, with the same population, that has so many discordant board walks in front of the business houses as we have here. The council could take no better action than pass an ordinance compelling this improvement to be made. It might be a source of much ingratitude toward the council and perhaps The News, but we don't mind, for it will shortly wear off, and then you'll wonder why you didn't do it a long time ago. With the business portion building up so rapidly, and the new bricks for the business portion that are under construction and promised, we must keep astride with the times and this is one good substantial way to do it.

The opening of spring finds the city confronted with a condition that evidences the remarkable growth of our city, but at the same time the condition is a serious one to contend with. The water system is found to be far inadequate for all purposes, and there is but one remedy, and only one remedy, under the existing condition of finances under which this can be overcome. The users of city water for sprinkling purposes are going to be asked a readjustment of hours for sprinkling, the city will have to be divided into sections perhaps, so that all patrons will not be using water at the same time. And it might be stated here for the benefit of careless consumers who permit their faucets to run all night, etc., that there is an ordinance imposing a fine for it, and the law will be rigidly enforced, not because of the city officials desiring to be too officious, but because it is absolutely necessary for the protection of the more moderate consumers and because of the inadequacy of the city's water system.

What Can You Answer?

Are you doing all in your power for the general development and improvement of the community or are you satisfied to sit back at ease and as far as you are concerned, let things drift?

Have you written those letters to Eastern friends telling them of the attractiveness of Oregon and inviting them to the Fair or are you allowing them to languish in ignorance of this land of plenty?

Do you greet the newcomer with a hearty welcome and a word of encouragement, or do you try to scare him out by assuring him that this is no country for him anyway?

Do you take an active interest in the appearance of the town or do you look upon unsightly shacks, rubbish heaps and broken down fences as you look upon the poor—something we are always to have with us?

Are you looking out for and saving your choicest products for the Lewis and Clark Exposition?

Is your lawn kept up and made presentable to visitors, or does it resemble a last year's bird's nest?

Do you make an effort to show visiting friends about and give them the magnificent view which may be had from surrounding hills, or are you satisfied in allowing them to leave without obtaining a correct idea of the Valley?

Do you encourage the establishment of new industries and help along the movements which mean progress and improvement, or do you stand ready with a bucket of cold water to douse every proposition which has any relation to your pocket-book?

In other words, are you a pusher or a knocker?—Exchange.

Signals From Mount Hood.

From the summit of Mt. Hood, communication will be established with the Lewis and Clark Exposition grounds. At each of these two points, detachments from the United States Signal Corps service will be stationed, and each day and night communications will be exchanged by means of heliograph and flash signals and other methods used by the military. This announcement has just been issued by the War Department.

Major W. A. Glassford, U. S. A., in advising the Exposition officials of the department's decision, states that the signal stations are bound to be a success, as he will detail only such men as have seen much active service and have been rendered experts.

The signal camp at the Exposition will be pitched at a convenient place on the government peninsula. Thus the operations may be seen from all parts of the grounds. The Mt. Hood camp will be established on the very summit of the majestic peak.

It is intended to conduct several excursions to the camp under the auspices of the Mazamas. This organization of Oregon mountain-climbing enthusiasts has been in communication with the War Department for some time urging that signal corps be established, and the credit of the government's concession undoubtedly is due to the Mazamas.
