

Ayer's

Your doctor will tell you that thin, pale, weak, nervous children become strong and well by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Small doses, for a few days.

Sarsaparilla

The change is very prompt and very marked. Ask your doctor why it is. He has our formula and will explain.

"When 13 years old, for many months no one thought I could live because of this blood. In a few weeks, Ayer's Sarsaparilla completely restored me to health."

Mrs. E. BUCKMINSTER, Vineland, N. J.

Small doses, for a few days.

The Children

Biliousness, constipation prevent recovery. Cure these with Ayer's Pills.

Union $3.50 SHOES For Men.

W. L. Douglas makes and sells more men's $3.50 shoes than any other manufacturer in the world.

W. L. Douglas $3.50 shoes are the greatest sellers in the world because of their excellent style, easy fitting and superior wearing qualities. They are just as good as those that cost from $5.00 to $7.00. The only difference is the price. W. L. Douglas $3.50 shoes cost more to make, hold their shape better, wear longer, and are of greater value than any other $3.50 shoe on the market to-day. W. L. Douglas guarantees their value by stamping his name and price on the bottom of each shoe. Look for it. Take no substitute. W. L. Douglas $3.50 shoes are sold through his own retail stores in the principal cities, and by shoe dealers everywhere. No matter where you live, W. L. Douglas shoes are within your reach.

EQUAL $5.00 SHOES.

"I have worn W. L. Douglas $3.50 shoes for years, and consider them equal to any $5.00 shoe on the market. They have given entire satisfaction."—Wm. H. Anderson, Neal Estate Agent, Kansas City, Mo.

Boys wear W. L. Douglas $2.50 and $2.00 shoes because they fit better, hold their shape and wear longer than other makes.

W. L. Douglas uses Corona Collatin in his shoes because they fit better, hold their shape and wear longer than other makes.

Fast Color Eyelets will not wear Brassy.

W. L. Douglas has the largest shoe mail order business in the world. No trouble to get a fit by mail. 25 cents extra postage delivery.

MILLET'S EDUCATION.

Millet, the famous French painter, was born of peasant folk, from whom he had the habit of simple living and a powerful physique. From them, too, writes the author of "Jean Francois Millet and the Barbizon School," he obtained his great tenderness toward the people, whom he was destined to delineate so powerfully.

By working with his folk upon the farm he had not only the opportunity of incessantly watching the appearance of figures in different sorts of toil, but he obtained as well an actual knowledge of the farm laborer's crafts. He learned how to plow and how to sow; he learned all about the peculiar nature of all kinds of crops and every kind of domestic animal; and he became acquainted with the discomfort, with the agony that arises from continuous bodily exertion, with all that a farm laborer suffers from exposure to scorching sun and biting wind or frost.

Millet was happy in his instructors. His great-uncle, Charles Millet, a priest, divided his time between laboring upon the farm and giving instruction to his little nephews and nieces. At all times this priest impressed upon his grandnephew the necessity of being industrious, upright and courageous; and from him proceeded the impulse of that education that sent Millet more suitably equipped for the task that lay before him than many another artist whose name has been written large in history.

It is said that Vergil's words, "It is the hour when the great shadows descend upon the plain," first revealed to the boy the beauty of his own surroundings, and first lighted that fire which was to be productive of some of the finest paintings of evening scenes that the world is likely ever to possess.

As to his Bible and Vergil, he read and reread them, and always in Latin; and Sensier says, "I have never heard a more eloquent translator of these two books." Instead of being an illiterate person, indeed, when he went to Paris, Millet, "The Wild Man of the Woods," as he was called by Delacroix's pupils, among whom he found himself, was already a cultivated man. His education had been far better than if he had been an ordinary member of a bourgeois, or even of a noble family. Its great characteristics were its thoroughness, its simplicity and its refinement—the very characteristics that make his own works lovable.

A Developed Daisy.

For many years Mr. Burbank worked upon the daisy, taking the tiny field daisy, the pest of Eastern farmers, as a basis of his experiments, and developing it until it is now a splendid blossom from five to seven inches in diameter, with wonderful keeping qualities after cutting. In the same way he has greatly increased the geranium in size, and at the same time has made it far more brilliant in color.—From William S. Harwood's "A Wonder-Worker of Science" in the April Century.

May Never Have Heard of It.

After a stormy interview with Mr. Boodelle, the successful contractor and politician, the indignant caller had gone away.

"I fully expected to see you slug him," said the private secretary, "when he called you a 'persistent violator of the eighth commandment.'"

"I suppose I ought to have done it," said Mr. Boodelle, grinding his teeth, "but I couldn't recall the eighth commandment to save my life!"—Chicago Tribune.

Dawkins—And was it very hot in India? Jawkins—Hot! Simply melting. Why, one of our fellows stayed out too long in the sun one day, and had to be laded back to his bungalow.—London Tit-Bits.

"Do you expect to send your son to college?" "Well, I haven't decided yet. In view of the hazing and the football, I'm half inclined to believe it would be more merciful to finish him up with chloroform."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Stranger—So you went to school with Rudolph Kipling, eh? I suppose you know he is now a famous writer? Uncle Fletch—Sho! Why, him an' me used their same copybook, an' I know my writin' 'd beat his'n all holler.—Exchange.

"What is a counter-irritant?" asked Mrs. Smithers. "A counter-irritant," replied Smithers, "is a woman who makes the clerk pull down everything on the shelves for two hours, and then buys four cents' worth of hairpins."—Cleveland Press.

"Ugh!" exclaimed the exchange ticket, withdrawing as far as possible into the corner of the pocket, "you're from a pawnshop." "Suppose I am," retorted the pawn ticket, "I am the pawnshop's one redeeming feature."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Naggus—What are you going to do with the hero and heroine of that magazine story you're running now? Marry them? Borus—Certainly. They'll be married in the last chapter. Naggus—I'm glad of it. It will serve them right!—Chicago Tribune.

Distinguished Artist—Perhaps if you came here you will get a better light on the picture. This studio is not nearly large enough. Fair Visitor (desirous to understand)—Yes, yes; I know. One can't get far enough away from your pictures!—Punch.

Employment Agent—What was the matter with your last place? Domestic—The missus was too particular. Employment Agent—In what way? Domestic—She wouldn't let me lock the baby in the foldin' bed w'en I had company.—New York Weekly.

In Good Trim.—Cityman—So you are going to plant a garden again this year. Were your vegetables last year a success? Suburbanite—Great! Why, my neighbor's hens took first prizes at all the poultry shows, and they ate practically nothing but my vegetables.—Judge.

"I must warn you, Bridget," said Mrs. Nuritch, "to see that the peas are thoroughly mashed." "Mashed, is it?" remarked the new cook in surprise. "Yes; Mr. Nuritch is so high-strung, you know, they make him nervous when they roll off his knife."—Philadelphia Press.

One Man's Wisdom. She (after the proposal)—Are you in favor of a long or short engagement? He—Well, that depends. If you can cook, I'm in favor of a short one, but if you can't, we'd better make it long enough to give you a chance to make good.

HOW TWO BEAUTIFUL WOMEN ESCAPED PELVIC CATARRH BY AID OF PE-RU-NA

Female Weakness Is Usually Pelvic Catarrh. Pe-ru-na Cures Catarrh Wherever Located.

MRS. MABLE BRADFORD

Mrs. Mable Bradford, 13 Church street, Burlington, Vt., Secretary Whittier Oratorio Society, writes:

"Pe-ru-na is certainly a wonderful medicine for the ills of women. I have heard it spoken of in the highest praise by many, and certainly my experience is well worthy of a good word.

"I began to feel stronger during the first week I took Pe-ru-na and my health improved daily until now I am in perfect health and enjoy life as I never did before."—Lizzie Redding.

"Your remedy was prescribed, and the way it acted upon my system was almost too good to be true. I certainly have regained my health and strength, and I no longer suffer periodical pains and extreme lassitude."—Mable Bradford.

Thousands of Women Cured Every Year by Correspondence—This is What Dr. Hartman Proposes to Do For You Without Charge.

Women who suffer should read the evidences presented here. We have thousands of letters from grateful friends who tell the same story.

Half the ills that are peculiarly woman's own are of a catarrhal character. Female weakness was not understood for many years.

Dr. Hartman deserves the credit of having determined its real character. He has made catarrh and catarrhal diseases, including pelvic catarrh, a life-long study.

Pe-ru-na cures catarrh, whether of the pelvic organs or any other organ of the human body.

Pe-ru-na, a Natural Beautifier. Pe-ru-na produces clean, mucous membranes, the basis of facial symmetry and a perfect complexion.

The women have not been slow to discover that a course of Pe-ru-na will do more toward restoring youthful beauty than all the devices known to science.

Many a girl has regained her faded beauty, many a matron has lengthened the days of their comely appearance by using Pe-ru-na.

In Pe-ru-na these women find a prompt and permanent cure.

MRS. LIZZIE REDDING

Mrs. Lizzie Redding 3134 B Clifton Place, St. Louis, Mo., writes:

"I found after trying many different medicines to restore me to health, that Pe-ru-na was the only thing which could be depended upon. I began taking it when I was in a decline, induced by female weakness and over-wrought nerves.

"I began to feel stronger during the first week I took Pe-ru-na and my health improved daily until now I am in perfect health and enjoy life as I never did before."—Lizzie Redding.

"Your remedy was prescribed, and the way it acted upon my system was almost too good to be true. I certainly have regained my health and strength, and I no longer suffer periodical pains and extreme lassitude."—Mable Bradford.

Thousands of testimonials to this effect are received by Dr. Hartman every year. The good that Pe-ru-na has accomplished in this class of cases can scarcely be over estimated.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Pe-ru-na, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis. Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio. All correspondence held strictly confidential.

Force of Habit. "Give me a two-cent stamp, please," said the young lady to the drug clerk. "We are just out," replied the d. c. absently, "but here is something just as good." And he handed her a couple of ones.

Motherly will find Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup the best remedy to use for their children during the teething period.

Afraid to Risk It. Druggist—You didn't take a vacation this year, did you? Doctor—No; I couldn't afford to take any chances. "Why, how's that?" Doctor—Well, you see, I have a number of wealthy patients on the string, and I was afraid if I went away for a few weeks they might get well.
