J. C. Clark is having laid around his Main street property, a cement walk which is a decided improvement over the old board walk. This is the second piece of substantial pavement to be made in this block, the other being in front of E. W. Haines' bank. It would be a remarkable improvement if the entire block had a pavement of this kind, and it is to be hoped that others along that street will fall in line and do likewise.

A bunch of brakemen at the S. P. freight house were arguing over the following question, says the Salem Journal: A freight train a mile long was standing with the caboose at a railroad station, when a passenger got on. It was exactly four miles to the next station. As the train pulled out the man got up on top of the cars and walked forward to the engine. When he arrived at the engine the train pulled into the next station. The question is how far did the man ride and how far did he walk between the two stations.

Counterfeit paper money is said to be in circulation and it is well to be on the lookout. Any currency bill of the United States with the eagle on its face and of a higher denomination than $1 is an altered bill and should not be accepted by any business man. Any note with the eagle on its face and with the figure 10 on it has been raised from $1 to $10. Be careful how you accept $5 bills. By a skillful process the eagle on the face of the $1 bill has been erased and the head of the Indian that appears on the face of the $5 bill has been substituted.

Lewis and Clark Exposition.

During the Lewis and Clark Exposition, the Southern Pacific Company will sell round trip tickets to Portland, limit thirty days, at one and one third fare for round trip. For parties of ten or more traveling on one ticket, one fare for the round trip. For organized parties of one hundred or more, individual tickets, at one fare for the round trip.

Stopover of ten days will be given at Portland on all one way tickets reading through that point during the Exposition. Tickets must be deposited with the Joint Agent at Portland and charge of fifty cents will be made for extension of time.

HILLSIDE.

Otlice and Arthur Shearer and Jno. Aydelott attended the Fair last week.

We are sorry to report that Grandma Shearer is not so well as at last writing.

The grain is nearly all stacked, and the hum of the thresher is now heard in these parts.

We had all been wondering why the mail-carrier wore that broad grin; but now we know.

Judging from the size of the stacks one would expect lots of grain but the turnout is nothing to brag of.

Did you see the eclipse of the moon Monday night? If you didn't you missed something worth seeing.

A number of our young people met at the church last Thursday evening and spent a pleasant as well as profitable time practicing songs.

B. K. Jenkins and family of Indianola, Iowa, who have been visiting here with Mrs. Jenkins's brothers, A. F. and N. J. Baker, returned Wednesday from a three weeks outing at Netarts.

The cool weather and the early fall of the evening twilight remind one that the summer of 1905 is fast slipping by; and all too soon will come the rustle and bustle at the hop-yard, the fall seeding, the opening of the schools, and the home leaving, and the entry of the teacher and student upon another year of grind and toil.
