THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1905.

It is worth something to be Mayor of New York. Go in "Billy" and win. The game is worth the candle.

Tammany's tiger in the City of New York will have to keep well back in the jungle this year. Jerome is out with his gun looking for that kind of game.

Perhaps the greatest surprise from the elections this fall, to republicans and democrats alike, is the result in Ohio. With a long continuous record of republican victories usually accompanied with large majorities, the winning of the democrats is hard to explain. One can understand, in these days of political and municipal reforms, why an independent with a strong personality like Jerome, in a city of graft like New York, would offer sufficient inducement for a republican or democrat to give him his support, but to change from one of the old parties to the other is hard to figure out. But, then, we hear them saying; it's an off year anyway.

The Willamette Valley Development League from a small beginning less than one year ago has grown to be the most powerful and influential organization of its kind on the North Pacific coast. The idea was first conceived in McMinnville and took concrete form at Salem where the first public meeting was held and from thence to the present it has been making for itself a place in the thought and act of a constantly growing number of leading business men of the entire Valley. Through influences set in motion by it much has been gained that is real and tangible, from the Harriman System of Railway—the construction of the line from Drain to Coos Bay for instance. Better car and train service has also been obtained in some parts of the Valley. This League has come to stay and if the future can be judged by the past it will grow in influence, not only with the farmers and shippers of this Valley, but with the leading business men of all of Western Oregon.

The Willamette Valley Development League is not an aggregation of kickers as some would have the public think, but a voluntary organization of all classes of men that believe Oregon should be exploited, developed and improved for the benefit of Oregonians now residing here and those who are to come, and that the railroads should keep up with the procession in that development, and that a portion of the millions earned by them in this state the past few years should be expended for extensions and betterments of their lines in this state. It does not believe in radical legislation or stringent measures but it has faith in the sound sense and good judgment of the Railway Magnates to believe that they will accede to the reasonable requests of the producers and shippers of this country and give them such extensions, new lines and improved service as the business demands.

The News heartily endorses the efforts of Pacific University and especially of President Ferrin in his endeavor to secure a Carnegie Library building for our city. The construction of such a building here and the housing of the 11000 or 12000 volumes of books now crowded into too small a space in the college building, would give our citizens another institution of which we should all be justly proud as well as opening up this valuable collection of books and periodicals to the public practically free. As a matter of fact only a few of our people knew that any organized or individual effort was being made along this line and the announcement in our columns last week that those having the work in charge were certain of success was a pleasant surprise. Let every loyal and interested citizen lend a hand in whatever way he can and there will be no longer any question about securing the building.

A HOTEL ON WHEELS

New Dining Cars of the Great Northern Railway a Feature of the "Oriental Limited."

It is, perhaps, best to say that in every respect—china, cuisine and attendants, the dining car service of the "Oriental limited" is in keeping with the luxuriousness of the remainder of this regal train, and has won, as the dining car service has always helped to win, the title, "The Comfortable Way," for the Great Northern Railway. The new dining car service of the "Oriental Limited" equals in beauty, design and interior furnishings anything which is operated on any transcontinental line. Every luxury which a first-class hotel or club affords in the way of services is really on the dining car of the "Oriental Limited." The new dining cars were built with a special purpose in view of affording the most comfortable surroundings, as well as giving the traveler a unique and luxurious place in which to enjoy his meals. A gentleman who recently made the journey to the Coast from St. Paul on the "Oriental Limited," in speaking of the dining car service, said:

"I have traveled on almost every important railroad in the United States, but I have yet to find one which surpasses the "Oriental Limited" in the comfort and convenience afforded the traveler. Your dining car service is excellent, the equal of any in the country, and the superior of many. I was particularly struck with the beauty of the interior furnishings of these dining cars; they are really a novelty of car architecture."

IT DRAWS HARD

Of a woman's vitality to do work for which she is unfitted, and see under how some of our land live through a single season of pleasure or dissipation.

They will say with tears in their eyes, when they mention the subject at all, "it is a hard pull," that with pain, weakness and weariness they are "almost dragged down."

Many in this condition, resort to alcoholic stimulants and "invigorants" the after effects of which are very injurious.

Dr. E. V. Pierce, forty years ago found that women were being mistreated through ignorance or carelessness and determined to devote his life and energies to their relief.

Having found the cause of their suffering, he next sought for the means of relief, and found in Nature's laboratory—the earth, certain roots which had remarkable and valuable medicinal virtues for the cure of these ailments.

Using chemically pure glycerine, of proper strength instead of alcohol, he prepared extracts of these, and the result was so satisfactory that the combination became his "Favorite Prescription." The roots used are: Lady's Slipper root, Black Cohosh root, Unicorn root, Blue Cohosh root and Golden Seal root. The world knows it as DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION, which has the wonderful and unparalleled record of a half-million of cures in the last forty years.
