"Granger" a Good Word.

The question often arises, "Should we use the word 'granger' in speaking of a member of the grange?" We see no valid objection to its use and good authority for it. The Standard Dictionary defines "granger" as "a member of the farmers' grange or Order of Patrons of Husbandry." Webster's International employs the term and defines it as "a member of the grange." When such good authorities as these make use of the word we shall not hesitate to recommend its use. It is merely a matter of sentiment to oppose it. Some look upon the word "granger" as a term of reproach, but how can it be such when our most enlightened citizens and the best people of the land consider it an honor to belong to the grange? Indeed, we have as members high public officials, even governors of states and senators and assemblymen in large number. A more common use of the word "granger" to designate a member of the grange would serve to relieve it of any seeming opprobrium that now attaches to it.

The way new grange halls are going up all over the country is an encouraging sign for the permanency of the organization.

The grange field day and picnic is now in order. It is the time of seed sowing for a grange ingathering to the fall.

Generous.

Mrs. Frank Raley, of Portland, who formerly had charge of the vocal department in the University conservatory of music, accompanied by her husband, is making the trip to California with the Oregon Business Men's excursion. Mrs. Raley is the contralto of the First Unitarian church choir.

At the recent meeting of the State Horticultural Society, at Portland, President Caldwell appointed Prof. E. R. Lake of Corvallis, C. E. Hoskins of Medford, L. M. Gilbert of Salem, A. I. Mason of Hood River and H. C. Atwell of Forest Grove as a committee to assist in the organization of local horticultural societies, and to secure their affiliation with the state society. This committee will hold a meeting at Forest Grove in the near future.

Claude Barker of Salem, a bright and intelligent young Quaker, has just ended a 34-day fast. Barker apparently considers his fast of no more nor less importance than any other incident in his religious experience. He felt no concern for his welfare for he was confident that the Lord would not continue the fast longer than his system would allow. The young man is entirely rational on other subjects. He firmly believes that in his fast he "was moved by the Spirit."

Tom Richey has returned from a trip to Eastern Oregon in which he happily blended pleasure and business. Mr. Richey spent most of the time around Heppner, Echo, Irigoin and the surrounding country. At Foster, he spent two days with Joe Bailey and family. Joe was formerly a resident of this city and was superintendent of the City Electric light plant. Mr. Bailey is now overseer of a large farm in that locality and is much pleased with his new home but looks back with pleasure on the days spent in Forest Grove.

Suffragists are patting "Governor George E." on the back. Wonder why? He appointed a woman as regent of a farmer's college.

If Ben Franklin were alive how he would frown on that five-dollar a plate banquet given in his honor in Portland yesterday. Such an expensive dinner is totally at variance with the famed frugality of the great American.

Oregonians henceforth will be expected to work like "beavers" for the upbuilding of the state and town in which they live. Let that good word, like charity, begin at home. "Forest Grove to the front" is the rallying cry for 1906.

Repeatedly, we have called the attention of the council to the poor condition of our street crossings but nothing beyond an occasional removal of mud has been done in the line of permanent remedy. This is a matter that should receive the immediate attention of the new council.

Among the first acts of the new council let there be enacted an ordinance for cement sidewalks in the business part of the city. Our town has grown to such an extent that such sidewalks are imperative. The present condition of our sidewalks is deplorable. If other damage suits against the city should occur, there need be no surprise manifested. Law suits appear to be the only method which will teach us to do things right.

Tillamook Editor Wants Washington County to Realize What Toll Road Means

Among the editorial snap shots published in the Headlight of Jan. 11, is the following:

"Forest Grove ought to put its foot down hard upon the effort to create a toll road in that part of Washington county across the mountain, known as the Wilson River road. Every progressive citizen in Forest Grove ought to howl the trick down, for it is nothing but a trick to bottle Tillamook county up with toll gates and a scheme to procure a franchise from Washington county for nothing, but would be exceedingly valuable should the proposed railroad want a right of way over any or part of the country road, either in Washington or Tillamook county. Surely our neighboring county across the mountain is not in love with antiquated toll roads, which is nothing but a 'grait' in this county and which the people will knock to smithereens as soon as they can get a whack at them at the polls."
