The Parent's Meeting.

very interesting parents' meeting held in the public school building Friday afternoon.

Prof. Allen gave a statement of the ds and conditions of the school. was followed by a carefully pre- ed paper by Mrs. Ferrin in which showed the necessity of co-opera- of parents and teachers through ch a better understanding of the d might be reached.

Mrs. Ferrin read an excellent paper n the duties of parents, school rd and teachers to which all listened a interest. Several spoke upon the ation. The discussion was rather y and very enjoyable.

The teachers deplored the fact that parents so rarely visited the school. rough these meetings those who end become acquainted with those o instruct their children and take e parents place a good part of the ool year.

Another meeting of like nature will held the last Friday in the month April and it is hoped the men and men of Forest Grove who have the t interest of our schools at heart l avail themselves of the opportu- to attend and become acquainted h our school teachers during the ial hour.

FOREST DALE

H. W. Scott returned from Portland ursday.

Harvey Ulain of Dilley is visiting th Ben Tupper's this week.

Ernest Herr has finished spraying his orchard and is now thoroughly culti- vating it.

Tom Sain is shipping timothy hay to Seaside, having sent four car loads the past week.

Arthur Knox has been chosen as a member of the jury at the next term of court which convenes March 19.

Mrs. H. W. Scott, who is in a sani- tarian in Portland, is rapidly recover- ing from the operation which was per- formed last Saturday.

Fruit Inspector Harris was in the valley last week, and reports the or- chards to be much more free from pests than those in other parts of the county.

The farmers of this section, who sowed their wheat during the fine weather last fall, now have a better prospect for a good yield than for several years past.

Louis Wilcox, who has one of the finest herds of dairy cows in the valley, and who has been the Condenser's best patron in these parts, shipped several veal calves last week.

FIR TOP

Miss May Hartley spent a few days with J. H. Shearer and family.

Miss Rachel Wescott spent Saturday and Sunday at home.

John Aydelott had the misfortune to get the tongue broken out of his wagon while hauling milk.

John Cornelius lost one of his milch cows last week.

J. P. Aydelott has been digging his potatoes but owing to the change in the weather has stopped for a few days.

The Misses Jennie Mann, Carrie Shearer, Bertha Baker, and Jessie Mann were visitors at the Shearer School last Wednesday.

Master Fay Shearer is unable to attend school this week because of his sore eyes.

GALES CREEK

School began at the Groves district, Monday.

Mr. Beimrohr made a business trip to town, Monday.

Grandma Lyda has been quite poorly the last few weeks.

Mrs. Carpenter of Forest Grove is visiting relatives here.

David Miller's brother, Sam Miller of Iowa is visiting with him.

Mr. Doman of Glenwood, moved onto the Hawthorn place one day last week.

Miss Cordelia Seaman, came home from Greenville to spend a few days, returning Monday.

J. W. H. Adkins is over on the Wilson River, spending a few days with his son Chas. on his ranch.

Quite a number attended the Hard Times party given by the Misses Margaret and Alice Bateman last Friday evening.

DILLEY

Porter Tupper is on the sick list this week.

Miss Emma Briggs was a Portland visitor last week.

Mr. L. S. Porter bought a fine Jer- sey cow last week.

Mrs. Frank Wescott visited friends in Gaston last week.

Mr. Hardebeck has quite a number of men at work clearing up land.

Mrs. H. Hubbert went to Portland this week to visit her mother.

Mr. Moody who has been very sick for two weeks past is no better at this writing.

Mrs. Miller and daughters of Aber- deen are in town visiting old friends and neighbors.

Mesdames McNamee, Freund, Mc- Leod and Grandyke visited with Mrs. Wilber Hughes one day last week.

I wonder what is the matter, last week you could see people out in their yards at work and in the garden, the ladies out in their summer attire but this week you see no one around. I think every one is staying close to the fire to keep warm.

The carpet rag social given Friday night was well attended, a very fine program was given after which the balls of carpet rags were sold to the gentlemen; then they had the pleasure of unwinding them to find the lady's name; then a hunt for the lady to take her to supper. Quite a number of young people from Forest Grove were present and a very pleasant time was enjoyed by all.

Political Candidate

FOR COUNTY TREASURER

I hereby announce myself as candi- date for the office of Treasurer of Washington County, Oregon, subject to the endorsement of the Republican Primary election to be held in said county and state, April 20, 1906.

IRVIN K. WEITZEL.

Resolutions

Whereas, the city has been visited by a conflagration that destroyed Her- rick Hall one of the most beautiful buildings composing the Pacific Uni- versity group, and imperiled the other school buildings as well as the entire business portion of the city; and

Whereas, the further spread of the flames was only checked by the mag- nificent work of our Volunteer Fire Department aided by the citizens of the city, as well as the Hillsboro De- partment, therefore be it

Resolved, that the hearty thanks of the Mayor and common council of the city of Forest Grove be and are hereby extended to the Firemen for their en- ergy, courage persistence and intelli- gence shown in making such a suc- cessful fight against cold, wind and fire combined. They have shown them- selves faithful fire wardens of the city are deserving of the gratitude of all its citizens.

Resolved, That our thanks are es- pecially due to the Hillsboro Fire De- partment for their prompt response to our appeal for aid by making the six mile run between the towns in the remarkably good time they did con- sidering the rough roads. We ap- preciate their generous effort and will be pleased to reciprocate if they should ever be so unfortunate as to need our services.

Resolved, that these resolutions be spread upon the records of the city and copies transmitted to each of the Departments mentioned.

Carnation to be Changed to South Forest Grove

After all it seems likely that the patrons of the Carnation office will succeed in obtaining South Forest Grove as a name for this little settle- ment. Senator Fulton has expressed himself to the effect that he would aid them and has promised them some hope in spite of the fact that the authorities at Washington at first objected to South Forest Grove because it was too long. No other name how- ever will suit the inhabitants of the factory community and as Carnation does not suit the government, a change will follow in a short time. Carnation was objectionable to the postal author- ities because it was a name which might be used illegally toward advertis- ing the production of the Pacific Coast Condensed Milk Co.—Carnation Cream. It seems that the government will not allow any corporation to take advantage of any such means of gain- ing a wider publicity for their private interests.

W. S. Brennan, a friend of the Langleys, was out from the city over Sunday.

SOLILOQUISMS

By EVE

"All fruit trees swell alike to me" significantly remarks the Newberg Graphic.

D. S. Wilcox of Gaston, was in town Tuesday and allied himself with the friends of The News by a pleasant call to this office.

"W. H. H. Myers of Forest Grove" seems to be the particular star of hope of the Argus these days. Perhaps he owns the Argus and again—perhaps not.

Invitations are out announcing the wedding of Miss Carrye Watt of this place and Mr. John Macrum of Port- land. The marriage will be solemn- ized in this city next Wednesday, March 21.

Miss Isom of the Portland Library, who delivered a talk before the Social Union at the college last winter on "Public Libraries" has been given a vacation and will spend several months travelling in the east.

In commenting upon the common phrase seen often in fruit, "he has been successful in business therefore he would make a good man in office," the Newberg Graphic thinks that poker playing is not always a mark of statesmanship.

Seen on the streets of Forest Grove from behind the News fortifications and at one glance, lasting nearly ten minutes—with apologies to John W. Kelly of the Telegram and Lucius A. Long of the Argus—"Bud Watson and L. L. Hollinger peacefully working side by side—to find a water gate and shut off a bursted pipe.

Although it was offered in support of the primary law that the qualifica- tions for office of all candidates would be thoroughly discussed in the state press, it is a noticeable fact that very few papers are disposed in any way to give any candidate any free advertising.

Moral: "Money makes the senate go." Some one by the name of Bill Illingsworth in Tillamook, undertook the proposition of chewing up some dynamite just to show that he was not afraid to do it. The Tillamook Herald tritely remarks at the foot of the ac- count of this deed that "all the fools are not dead yet"—from which we infer that Bill Illingsworth is recovering.

"Scotty," who has been the subject of various comments recently in our dailies and who in spite of charges of "faking" seems to have commanded more space in our usually conservative Portland press than the coming of Roosevelt does, has succeeded in making his schemes work and this weilder of millions is now making a living in a very successful stage ven- ture in Seattle. He deserves the fruits of his strategies.

The gale that wrought such havoc for Forest Grove this week has been felt all over the state.

A fire was Portland's record Sunday. The alarms were incessant from morn- ing into the night.

Burma's Natural Magnet.

There is a huge natural magnet in upper Burma, India, covered with great blocks of iron ore, which travel- ers notice has a tremendous attraction which renders compasses and watches useless. In Spain there is a spring of water said to cure lovesick people. An- other queer spring is situated in Mex- ico the waters of which cure alcoholic cravings, so the legend runs. Hinter mountain, near Fort Davis, Tex., pro- duces an effect which would counter- act the good work done by the Mexican spring, with none of the evil effects. People go up this mountain, and they suddenly become conscious of a sort of anaesthetic which takes possession of them and makes them act as if intox- icated. If a traveler reaches the top, he staggers like an old totter, and many have been known to fall in a stupor on the rocks. This mountain has a fol- lowing which returns season after sea- son to enjoy this harmless dissipation.

What Not to Lend.

Douglas Jerrold, the celebrated wit, said: "There are three things that no man but a fool lends, or, having lent, is not in the most helpless state of mental crassitude if he ever hopes to get back again. These three things are books, money and umbrellas. I believe a certain fiction of the law assumes a remedy against the borrower, but I know of no case in which any man, being sufficiently dastardly to gibbet his reputation as plaintiff in such a suit, ever fairly succeeded against the whole- some prejudices of society. Umbrellas may be 'hedged about' by cobweb statutes. I will not swear that it is not so. There may be laws that make such things property, but I am sure that the blissing contempt, the loud mouthed indignation, of all civilized society would sibilate and roar at the bloodless poi- tron who should engage law on his side to obtain for him the restitution of a lent umbrella."

Legend of the Tulip.

Centuries ago, by the waters of the Bosphorus, the Persian lover sought a flower with scarlet petals and heart of gold. We call it the tulip. To him it was the emblem of love. In Persia, parts of Asia and on the shores of the Mediterranean the tulip grows wild. Today the tulip beds near Haarlem are among the wonders of that quaint Dutch town. Though once the symbol of love, in our modern floral language the tulip stands for inconstancy. She is called flaunting and bold. Hood calls her "a saucy queen."

The Sign.

A famous cranologist strolling through a churchyard found a gravedigger toss- ing up the earth in which there were two or three skulls. The cranologist took them up and, after considering one a little time, said, "Ah, this is the skull of a philosopher!" "Very likely, your honor," replied the gravedigger. "Sure, I noticed it was somewhat cracked."

Nearsighted.

"I always said Bumpave was near- sighted."

"How's that?"

"Oh, he can't even recognize his own obligations."

Teacher—Now, Jane, how many is 3 x 1: Jane—Five. Teacher—No: 3 x 1 = 3. Jane—Aw, g'wan! 2 x 2 = 4.

The Wind Sall.

It frequently happens that after dis- charging a cargo of a particularly malodorous nature it is necessary to let the air reach certain parts of the hold of a vessel not served by the fixed regulation ventilators. To effect this purpose a portable canvas ventilator, called a "wind sall," is employed. It is cylindrical in shape and is kept in po- sition by means of stays. When it is erected the air blows down it, and the hold is soon pure once more.

Effective.

"What do you regard as the best protection from burglars?"

"Well, I have found that being in- dependently poor is effective."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Changing Fashions.

Father (meditating on time's changes)—Ah, yes, the fashion of this world passeth away! Daughter—Indeed it does, papa. I shall want a new hat next week.

The Life Line.

Amateur Palmist—The life line indi- cates how long you will live. Skeptical Friend—Yes? Isn't it a wonder the life insurance companies pay no attention to it?

"Why does he wish to marry her?"

"He says people should marry their opposites."

"Why, they are both dark."

"Yes, but he hasn't a cent, and she has a million dollars."—Pittsburg Post.
