A Retraction

Mr. Burke Tongue has found cause to become somewhat aroused over a statement made concerning his part in a horse race at Centerville, an account of which was published in last week's News. As was stated in the article last week accounts of the event were very conflicting and confusing and it was almost impossible to obtain any certain data regarding the affair. Mr. Tongue, however, wishes to state that his opinion on the finish was given only after he was asked and that his motives were sincere and his judgment on the outcome of the race was given from his honest convictions having taken all things into consideration. It was his opinion that the Centerville owner was being cheated out of the stakes and he wished only to protect him against fraud.

STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE

G. A. Westgate, of Albany Herald, Chosen Chairman

G. A. Westgate, of Albany, was elected permanent chairman of the Republican State Central Committee yesterday afternoon and will head the executive department of the party during the coming campaign. The action was taken at an adjourned meeting of the committee, which convened at 10 o'clock in the morning, but postponed action until afternoon in order to give the members an opportunity to consult with the nominees and unite upon a chairman. The result of the conference was the selection of the name of Mr. Westgate, and his election was by unanimous vote. There was no other name mentioned before the committee for the chairmanship.

Mr. Westgate is proprietor of the Albany Herald, and one of the staunch Republicans of Linn County. In bringing his name before the committee, F. W. Waters, of Salem, chairman of the sub-ordinate committee, appointed to consult with the party nominees, announced that the selection had been made by Dr. Withycombe, the gubernatorial nominee, and that it had been concurred in by Mr. Bourne, Mr. Duniway and other members of the state ticket.

Before the committee held its first meeting yesterday morning it appeared that George A. Steel would be the choice for the chairmanship. His name had been agreed upon by many of the candidates, as well as a portion of the committee members. Then objections began to be heard, most of them based upon the fact that Mr. Steel is the Republican nominee for State Treasurer, and that a nominee should not fill the chairmanship. It was also rumored that opposition to Steel had come from the Bourne camp, where it was understood that the day before there was only acquiescence.

In accepting the chairmanship, Mr. Westgate said that he felt confident that every Republican in the state, as well as the committee members, would work in harmony for the election of the regular nominees. "I not only hope that we shall have perfect harmony throughout the campaign, but I know that we shall," he said.—Oregonian.

Odd Fellows Celebrate Anniversary

Last Saturday evening, in Hillsboro, one of the largest gatherings of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs ever held in the county was occasioned by the 87th Anniversary of Odd Fellowship in America. An extremely creditable banquet was served and visitors from all over the county were royally entertained by the members of the Hillsboro Lodge—Washington Lodge No. 48.

At 7 p. m. the banqueters began to find a place for their feet beneath the well laden tables and relieving them of their burden as only Odd Fellows can. Soon after, the program began and Rev. James Campbell of St. Johns, told how the Odd Fellows had been organized, 87 years ago, by three men in the old town of Boston, Mass., how they had grown and prospered and today existed as one of the most respected secret orders in America, and one that was reaching out into every section of this wide country doing good wherever opportunity offered. Rev. Soper of McMinnville, presented a few remarks, and among others called upon for extemporaneous efforts was W. K. Curtis of Forest Grove. Miss Calla Young pleased the audience with a well selected vocal solo and the programme throughout was particularly an interesting one.

SOCIAL EVENTS

A party of Odd Fellows with their wives and the Rebekahs, walked in on Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Harris last Monday evening after lodge and gave them quite a surprise. Mr. and Mrs. Harris will move to Portland soon and as a little token of remembrance the Odd Fellows presented to them a silver cake basket. When Mrs. Levi Walker had completed her presentation speech Sam Walker stepped forward and announced that he had remembered that there was another member of the family that should not be forgotten so he presented Master Kingsdon with a bib and pins. The occasion was a very enjoyable one and a complete surprise to Mr. and Mrs. Harris.

Mrs. J. H. Wirtz received news last Saturday of her sister who experienced the worst of the earthquake in San Francisco. She resided on the corner of Eddy and Hyde about three blocks from the City Hall, a district that burned early on Wednesday. They were not able to get out of the city until Monday when they arrived safely at Santa Cruz where another sister of Mrs. Wirtz resides. The chimneys in the residence at Santa Cruz were wrecked but, not much other damage was done. The court house at Santa Cruz was destroyed and bridges thrown down so that they were utterly without outside communication for three days.

Josephine Baber, who has been attending school at San Mateo, Calif., returned home Sunday. Since San Mateo is only 14 miles from San Francisco, that place was not slighted in the general division of disasters which took place in that vicinity a couple of weeks ago. Her school, however, was not seriously crippled and some girls will remain.
