The Trouble.
"I wish you would send a man up to fix my typewriter."
"What seems to be the matter with it?"
"I think the type is pried; look at this

"It is not your typewriter, but your compositor that needs overhauling; you'll have to do that yourself."—Hous-

THE FARMER TO BLAME.
"His Land Suffers from Drouth or Lacks Water for Irrigating When Small Stream is Near," by Says Robert Washburn.

"It is the farmer's own fault, if, in these days of scientific discovery, he does not reap all the returns he should from his land, be it located wherever it may, in or without the rain belt, so long as there is a small stream with a slight fall nearby." Such was the remark the other day of Mr. Robert Washburn, a man of wide experience in agriculture, horticulture and individual irrigation enterprises throughout the great Pacific Northwest, being at present an extensive owner and operator of Rogue river land.
"Devastation to crops as a result of drouths and barrenness of land from lack of water are two evils that can easily be overcome," continued Mr.
Washburn, "if the flow of a little stream is only utilized by any one of the modern mechanical devices now being made for just such work and already accomplishing for many the desired results. The simplest and most inexpensive of these devices for elevating the water of a stream to a higher level is, perhaps the hydraulic ram.
It is a self-pumping engine that is rapidly fulfilling the need of the farmer and small irrigator for a sure scheme of getting out of their land all those bountiful returns yielded where water is plentiful."

On the Inside.
"Old Gayboy plays the races, doesn't he?"
"No; he's too smooth for that. He works 'em."

WHAT WATER IS CAPABLE OF.

Six-inch Stream Generates 12,000-Horse Power at Butte Creek, Cal.
Imagine a perpendicular column of water more than one-third of a mile high, twenty-six inches in diameter at the top and twenty-four inches in diameter at the bottom. Those remarkable conditions are complied with, as far as power goes, in the Mill Creek plant, which operates under a head of 1,969 feet, says the Philadelphia Ledger. This little column of water, which, if liberated, would be just about enough to make a small trout stream, gives a capacity of 5,200 horse power, or enough power to run a good-sized ocean-going vessel.

As the water strikes the buckets of the waterwheel it has a pressure of 850 pounds to the square inch. What this pressure implies is evidenced by the fact that the average locomotive carries steam at a pressure of 190 or 200 pounds to the square inch. Were this stream, as it issues from the nozzle, turned upon a hillside, the earth would fade away before it like snow before a jet of steam. Huge boulders, big as city offices, would tumble into ravines with as little effort as a clover burr is carried before the hydrant stream on a front lawn. Brick walls would crackle like paper and the hugest skyscrapers crumble before a stream like that of the Mill Creek plant. It takes a powerful waterwheel to withstand the tremendous pressure.

At Butte Creek, Cal., a single jet of water six inches in diameter issues from the nozzle at the tremendous velocity of 20,000 feet a minute. It impinges on the buckets of what is said to be the most powerful single water-wheel ever built, causing the latter to travel at the rate of ninety-four miles an hour, making 400 revolutions a minute. This six-inch stream has a capacity of 12,000 horse power. The water for operating the plant is conveyed from Butte Creek through a ditch and discharged into a regulating reservoir which is 4,500 feet above the power house. Two steel pressure pipe lines, thirty inches in diameter, conduct the water to the power house.

HOW TO JUDGE YOUR DOG.

Some Pointers that Will Enable One to Find Prize Winners.
The average man is greatly puzzled to find one dog awarded a first prize, and another, which to him appears to be quite as fine a specimen, awarded no prize at all, says Answers. A man who knows the relative values of the different points in all breeds of dogs is a veritable walking encyclopedia.
Generally speaking, the best dog is the one which comes nearest the standard of requirements for its own particular breed, about 25 per cent of the points being usually awarded for fine head proportions, an equal number for legs and feet, a similar number again for body and color, and the rest for symmetry.

In the Dalmatian, for instance, thirty points given for color and markings, while head, eyes and ears have only five-teen; in the bulldog, on the other hand, has forty-five for head and ears, while coat and color amount to but five points; the collie has twenty-five for coat, color being immaterial, and twenty-five for head and ears.

The St. Bernard has forty for head and ears, and five each for coat and color; the Pomeranian has but fifteen for head and ears, forty-five points going for coat, color and tail, with fifteen for appearance. It may be set down as governing in all breeds of dogs that whatever is the typical feature of that breed is the feature upon which stress is laid in the allotment of points.

Fishing for the Octopus.

Perhaps the most unusual method of fishing is the one employed by natives of Hawaii in capturing the octopus with a cowrie shell, says the Southern Workman. One of these shells is attached to a string and placed face downward against another shell or a pebble the same size. To the upper shell is fastened a hook for bait. The octopus is particular in regard to the color and decorations of the shell, refusing to rise unless this has small red spots breaking through a reddish-brown ground.

Arrived at his fishing ground, the fisher for octopus either looks for his victim with a water glass or he makes the surface clear by chewing up and spitting upon the water a mouthful of candied meat. Having located the octopus, he drops the shell into the water and swings it back and forth.
The animal puts out one arm and seizes it. If the bait is attractive another arm is put about it and finally the shell is hugged close to his body.
Then the fisherman draws up the octopus and stuns it by a blow between the eyes. He has to move quickly, for the octopus with his eight strong arms is said to be no mean antagonist.

The Young Idiot.

A young woman who teaches a class in a Jersey City Sunday school was recently talking to her pupils relative to the desirability of increasing their membership. When she invited the co-operation to that end of the several members the youngest nearest her shook his head dubiously.
"I might get one boy in our neighborhood to come," he explained, "but all the others kin lick me."—Harper's Weekly.
When a woman goes insane, she shows great anger when talking about her husband. And, it might be added, occasionally a husband gets it from his wife before she goes crazy.
Did you ever know a man who didn't do a whole lot of unnecessary talk?

THE LAXATIVE OF KNOWN QUALITY

There are two classes of remedies: those of known quality and which are permanently beneficial in effect, acting gently, in harmony with nature, when nature needs assistance; and another class, composed of preparations of unknown, uncertain and inferior character, acting temporarily, but injuriously, as a result of forcing the natural functions unnecessarily. One of the most exceptional of the remedies of known quality and excellence is the ever pleasant Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., which represents the active principles of plants, known to act most beneficially, in a pleasant syrup, in which the wholesome Californian blue figs are used to contribute their rich, yet delicate, fruity flavor. It is the remedy of all remedies to sweeten and refresh and cleanse the system gently and naturally, and to assist one in overcoming constipation and the many ills resulting therefrom. Its active principles and quality are known to physicians generally, and the remedy has therefore met with their approval, as well as with the favor of many millions of well informed persons who know of their own personal knowledge and from actual experience that it is a most excellent laxative remedy. We do not claim that it will cure all manner of ills, but recommend it for what it really represents, a laxative remedy of known quality and excellence, containing nothing of an objectionable or injurious character.

There are two classes of purchasers: those who are informed as to the quality of what they buy and the reasons for the excellence of articles of exceptional merit, and who do not lack courage to go elsewhere when a dealer offers an imitation of any well known article; but, unfortunately, there are some people who do not know, and who allow themselves to be imposed upon. They cannot expect its beneficial effects if they do not get the genuine remedy.

To the credit of the druggists of the United States be it said that nearly all of them value their reputation for professional integrity and the good will of their customers too highly to offer imitations of the manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., and in order to buy the genuine article and to get its beneficial effects, one has only to note, when purchasing, the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package. Price, 50c per bottle. One size only.

Genuine—Syrup of Figs

Her Motherly Way.
"They say Mrs. Krankley makes regular dolls for her daughters."
"Well, it's true. She fairly stuffs them with breakfast food."

Mothers will find Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup the best remedy to use for their children during the teething period.

His Curiosity Excited.
The subject under discussion at the corner grocery was the Panama canal.
"I've heard a good deal," remarked Mr. Wipebucks, "about this Culebra cut. Why in thunder don't some of the newspapers print it?"

"Then I could step in and start one of my own."—Washington Star.

SEVEN YEARS OF SUFFERING.

Ended at Last Through Using Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. Selina Jones of 200 Main St., Ansonia, Conn., says: "If it had not been for Doan's Kidney Pills I would not be alive today. Seven years ago I was so weak with pain in the back, and so weak that I had to keep to my room, and was in bed sometimes six weeks at a spell. Beginning with Doan's Kidney Pills, the kidney weakness was soon corrected, and inside a week all the pain was gone. I was also relieved of all headaches, dizzy spells, soreness and feelings of languor. I strongly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills.
