ANOTHER BUG FOUND

The Apple Tingis Does Much Damage in Our Orchards—Found in Large Numbers.

Professor Cordly of Corvallis Describes Pest—Also Gives Remedy—Fight the New Enemy.

Another new bug has been found and brought to the attention of County Fruit Inspector, W. T. Harris. This one is very easily detected as it is quite large. The first part of the week the inspector had a good specimen on the street which he was showing around. The leaf was literally covered with the insect and with a large number of scales. A similar specimen was sent to the experimental station at Corvallis. As information concerning this new intruder, Mr. Cordly writes the following: "I find upon examination that the specimens that accompanied your letter are the Apple Tingis. This species as far as I know, first became injuriously abundant in Clatsop county, from whence it has spread up the Columbia and Willamette valleys as far as Salem at any rate.

"It is a very difficult insect to combat, since the adults are so resisting to sprays that they will stand anything that will not injure the leaves. The adult insect winters under rubbish in the fence corners and such places, and migrate to the leaves early in Spring. The eggs are laid upon the under surface of the leaves and hatch early in May. If one pays particular attention at this time and sprays the leaves with kerosene emulsion or whale-oil soap solution, one can very satisfactorily destroy the young, and, in fact this can be done with each generation, but if the spraying is delayed until the insects become matured, as stated before, they are very difficult to destroy."

Pioneer Passes Away.

The news was received here on August 29, that Dr. Sanford of Glencoe, had passed away at 12:30 o'clock, after an illness of some three or four years, the immediate cause of his death being acute dysentery. Dr. Sanford was born in England, December 30, 1822, and came to Oregon in 1852, locating six miles from Portland. He spent three years in California, and returning settled in Silverton, and in 1885 came to Glencoe, where he has resided up to the time of his death. He was a member of the M. E. church and the K. P. lodge, of this place, and was a man who had the respect and friendliness of all who knew him. During the Indian war of 1855-6 he was assistant surgeon and his biography published in the Early History of Oregon is a glowing tribute to an honorable man and useful citizen. He was married in 1878 to Alice M. Bagby of Clackamas county, Oregon, daughter of the late Wm Bagby of Molalla, of that county, who still survives him. Besides his wife he leaves three children, Mary A., wife of Thos. Connell; Eugenia E., of Glencoe and James R. of Portland.

The funeral occurred last Thursday at 10:30 from the M. E. church at Glencoe, and interment was in the Tualatin Plains cemetery.

Returns From Rome.

Rev. Father L. Verhaag, after a six months' absence officiated at high mass in his parish at Verboort last Sunday. He has visited Rome and had two audiences with the holy father; also made a tour of the old country. He is one of Oregon's pioneer priests, and is well known all over the Northwest. His parish now is the second largest in Oregon, and his members are anxious to extend to him a hearty greeting. Rev. Father O'Brien, who has filled the place during his absence returned to his home in Portland last Monday.

FINE PROGRAM FOR TOMORROW

Session of Willamette Valley Development League to be Held all Day at College—Prominent Speakers.

Flowers, Fruits and Grains Will Be Displayed While Promoters of Public Prosperity Hold Convention.

Programs have been sent out for the convention of the Willamette Valley Development League to be held in this city tomorrow. An important feature will be the decoration of streets with flowers, fruits and grain.

There will be three sessions of the convention, at 9 a. m., 1:30 p. m. and 7:30 p. m., at Marsh hall, the assembly room of Pacific University. The program follows:

PROGRAM 9 A. M.

Convention called to order by Hon. E. W. Haines, president board of trade, Forest Grove.

Address of welcome by M. Peterson, mayor of Forest Grove.

"The Benefits of Organization as Illustrated Through the Work of the Willamette Valley Development League," E. Hofer, president.

Appointment of committees.

"Fruit Growing as a Factor of Development in the Willamette Valley," H. C. Atwell, Washington county.

"The State Grange and Development," A. T. Buxton, Forest Grove, state lecturer.

"Condensed Milk Industry of Forest Grove," Superintendent Callender.

PROGRAM AT 1:30 P. M.

"Development Through Better Banking Facilities," R. E. Fulton, Northwest Guaranty and Trust company, Portland.

"Oregon and the Jamestown Exposition," President Jefferson Myers of the state commission.

"Oregon West Coast Harbors," Hon. B. F. Jones, Independence.

"The Relation of Coos Bay to the State of Oregon," L. J. Simpson, president of Coos bay chamber of commerce.

Responses from mayors of the live cities of western Oregon.

Reports of committees.

The State Business Men's league will have a meeting at Forest Grove at the same time the Development league meets there, to perfect its state organization.

The program will be interspersed by musical features and excursions on the new electric street car line of Forest Grove.

New City Hall.

Local contractors have been notified that bids would be received for the construction of the new city hall which is to be built adjoining Vets hall. The plans and specifications for the building have been prepared for some time and have finally been agreed upon. That the new city hall will come to fill a long felt want is stating the matter in a trite way. By all means, build the hall and let it be a credit to our thriving and thrifty town. Our present city hall has outlived its usefulness. The building has answered every purpose for which it was intended, but which with the great forward movement Forest Grove has made, a new building is made necessary.

OREGON STATE FAIR

Everything Will Be Ready on Opening Day. Biggest Fair Ever Held.

Only a few days are left before the gates are opened at the State Fair, which promises to be the greatest ever held in the northwest. The Salem people, as well as the management are doing all in their power to make this fair a success, and have secured exhibits and amusements that will instruct and please the large crowd who will attend. Every thing will be ready for the opening day. Addresses will be made by Gov. Chamberlain, United States Senator Gearin and Hon. Harvey W. Scott. The music will be furnished by the Salem Military band, assisted by the best soloists in the west. Concerts will be given every evening in the pavilion and in the afternoon on the race track.

A chorus of 40 young women from Tillamook will probably be engaged to sing every evening. The Oregon Development League will also meet during the state fair and will hold meetings in the music room during three days.

The Pioneers "resting place" will be one of the novel ideas of the state fair, where pioneers will have seats for their comfort. The camp ground has also been improved for the army of expected campers.

Prof. Bradley Has New Position.

Prof. Chas. E. Bradley has handed in his resignation to the president of the college, having accepted a position as assistant chemist at the Experimental Station at Corvallis. Mr. Bradley, in the way of an apology for leaving Pacific, mentioned the great opportunity which presented itself at the station and especially in his line—Agricultural Chemistry. "No, he said, 'I am on the best of terms with President Ferrin but I must go where my work and opportunities lead me.'"

Mr. Bradley was born at Galesburg, Ill. February 22, 1874. When four years of age his parents came West, and at the age of 16 he entered Tualatin Academy. Seven years later he graduated from Pacific University with the degree of B. S. After a year's practical work in mining chemistry, he was appointed assistant in the science department of Pacific University, and in 1900 was made instructor in chemistry, with the degree M. S. Mr. Bradley returned from California a few days ago where he and Professor James R. Robertson, of Pacific University had been studying research work in the Berkeley University. Mr. Bradley has many friends among the students, not only in the recitation room, but also through the great interest he has always taken in athletics.

New Professor for Pacific.

Professor Bradley's successor in the chair of chemistry has been selected, Prof. Vaban S. Babasianian. Though foreign in name and nativity he has lived many years in this country and is thoroughly American. He pursued graduate study at Brown University, Providence, R. I., from which institution he has since received the Doctor's Degree. He has had several years of successful teaching experience and comes with high testimonials as an instructor and a man.

Dead.

Mrs. Sarah Waters, formerly of this city, died in Hillsboro on Friday morning at the age of 72 years. Mrs. Waters was a resident of this county for over 35 years and a resident of Forest Grove for about 10 years. She removed to Hillsboro last year to make her home with her daughter, Mrs. Wilkes. Her husband died about 10 years ago, from the effect of a fall from a tree. Mrs. Waters leaves two sons and two daughters, Frank of Yakima, Theodore of Lewiston, Idaho; Mrs. Eva Wilkes of Hillsboro and Miss Ethel Waters of St. Johns. The burial took place in the Cornelius cemetery, on Saturday.

Mrs. Gertrude Kerston, aged 69 years, died at the home of her daughter Mrs. Joseph Moore, Saturday, August 25 1906. Deceased was born in Germany, and in 1866 was wedded to John Kerston, who has been dead about fifteen years. They came to America in 1867. Eight children were born to the union, three of whom reside in this county. Mrs. Henry VanDyke, North Forest Grove; Mrs. Wm. Smith, Greenville, and Mrs. Joseph Moore, of Hillsboro. The funeral took place Monday, and interment was in the Verboort Catholic cemetery.

The Board of Trade has appointed the following persons to represent Forest Grove and vicinity at the meeting of the Oregon State Development League which meets at Salem, September 11-12-13, during the State Fair: Senator E. W. Haines, A. T. Buxton, Col. Harry Haynes, Hon. W. K. Newell, J. C. Latta and W. H. Hollis.

LINE ON TO THE COAST

United Railways Will Build Soon to This City—Will Extend On to The Coast.

Would Be Shortest Route to the Coast—A few Hours Ride and a Dip in the Ocean.

There is a strong probability that an electric line will be built by the United Railways from a point on the Forest Grove division across Washington and Clatsop Counties to the sea, probably reaching the ocean at a point near Seaside or at some distance south of that place. This project is admitted to be on foot by officials of the United Railways, and C. E. Loss, who is at the head of the interests owning the franchises of the company, is now at Seaside, where he is now looking over that part of the country.

Mr. Loss admitted that it is probable his company will build a line to the beach, but could make no definite announcement as yet. He expressed confidence that such a road would pay handsomely on the investment, as he said some quick means of reaching the ocean would prove popular. That a road can be built that will land passengers at the beach within two or three hours from the time of leaving Portland is the belief of the United Railways magnate.

"There are none too many Summer resorts within the reach of Portland," said Mr. Loss. "People would favor a road that could deliver them at the beach within a short time after leaving the city. There is not much doubt of this. While I cannot say that we will build such a line, there is a probability that we will."

This move is one that could be expected from one who has had much to do with railroading in California, where perhaps the best paying propositions in electric railways are those which carry people from the inland cities to the coast.

I. L. Cole of Cornelius, who says he is 70 years old, the fastest runner on the coast, the best police officer San Francisco ever had, a doctor by profession and a chemist who makes his own medicines, last night lost his wife and children in the mazes of the city.

The doctor had come to town with his wife in a large covered wagon to make a few purchases for use on the farm. Leaving his spouse he set out to visit the drug store of Woodard, Clarke & Co. This he found without difficulty, but for the life of him he could not retrace his steps. For an hour or more he wended the streets of the city, covering all the territory from the heights to the waterfront and from Lovejoy to the Plaza block. Naturally on his continued pilgrimage he grew thirsty and stopped many times "just to wet his whistle." With each drink he grew more confused, and at last his wandering footsteps took him to the police station. Here, as he was telling his tale the phone rang and the faithful Mrs. Cole was on the other end, seeking information of her misgirded hubby. The doctor and Mrs. Cole were happily united by Officer Wanless at Third and Yamhill streets, where the wagon had been standing all the time.—Portland Oregonian.
