MAY HAVE SOLD A GOLD MINE

Piano Tuner Parts With Specimen Rock to Stranger for Small Sum.

A peculiar incident happened last Saturday when A. P. Venen, a piano tuner, was en route from this place to Gales Creek in a buggy, seven miles distant. When about half way, where at a place on the road it was necessary to excavate for some distance in the sidehill to make the road, Mr. Venen noticed near the bank a peculiar-looking piece of rock about five inches square, which he picked up, and, while he was examining it, a stranger rode up and asked to see the specimen. The stranger took from his pocket a small magnifying glass and said: "Where did you get this quartz?" Mr. Venen said: "I saw it roll from the bluff as I was approaching." The stranger said: "Mister, I will give you $5 for it." Mr. Venen was not reluctant in accepting it, and as he was driving away he turned, looked back and saw the purchaser of the specimen near where the quartz was found marking on the bottom board of a fence, locating the place, no doubt. Mr. Venen is now wondering whether two tools met, or whether he has sold a gold mine for $5.

—Low prices every day at Levy's Market.

Change Time of Train.

No. 10 passenger will leave Portland at 5:20 p. m. instead of 6:20 p. m. arriving here at 6:40 p. m. commencing Oct. 19. Yours truly, N. L. Atkins, agent.

—The $12.00 values that Bailey offers in clothing cannot be duplicated. Call in and be shown.

Pacific University Sues for Endowment Portion.

A bequest made to Pacific University, in 1892, by William McCullough, formed the basis of legal argument almost all day Tuesday, before Judge Galloway, in the State Circuit Court at Albany. The institution is suing several of McCullough's heirs for an accounting and partition of the property, McCullough having bequeathed half of his estate to the Forest Grove school. The case was up Tuesday on three different demurrers interposed by different defendants.

—Dr. Geiger cures catarrh, rheumatism and throat troubles and all prevailing diseases.

Condensed Milk Law Threatens Industry.

Protest has been made by the dairymen of Oregon and Washington, to the agricultural department, through Senator Fulton, against the new pure food regulation which fixes the requirements of condensed milk.

The regulations requires that condensed milk, to enter interstate commerce, must contain 7½ per cent butter fats and solids amounting to 28 per cent.

Owing to the richness of the milk in the protesting state, the dairymen claim that the butter fat would have to be increased to 10 per cent to reach the required proportion of solids and that it would mean a loss of 20 cents per 100 pounds. The loss would drive the manufacturers of condensed milk out of business, the dairymen allege.

—Journal.

—Dr. E. H. Brown, Physician and Surgeon. X-Ray and all electrical appliances in office. Calls answered night or day.

Society Event at Buxton.

A pleasing social event was the dancing party given by Mrs. C. L. Brown and Mrs. Charles Lazatt in the Grange hall at Buxton on Thursday, Nov. 8. The occasion being in honor of the 16th birthday of their daughters, Nellie and Mildred. The two young ladies were prettily gowned for the occasion in turquoise blue crepe de chine with trimmings of cream lace and were the recipients of many dainty and useful gifts. About seventy-five friends of the young ladies were present including two young ladies from North Yamhill, the Misses Seena and Leta Russell. The hall was beautifully decorated with evergreens while in the dining room above, autumnal tints predominated.

After an enjoyable three hours of dancing, the guests formed in couples joining in a grand march around the hall, led by Miss Nellie and Miss Mildred. The birthday cakes with their burning candles were an additional feature of beauty to the table decorations.

An Open Letter to the Citizens of Forest Grove.

Mr. Editor:

A petition signed by one hundred voters is in the hands of the City Council. I write to ask the signers to set forth their case in the light in which they wish us to regard it. As it calls for an amendment to the city charter, we citizens may be called upon to vote for or against the change at our January election.

The citizens have been interested to carefully construct a long petition and to secure the hundred names. This means thought and time and effort, and of course there is a motive, a definite aim, grounds upon which the appeal is made to us voters. It has to do with licensing the sale of liquors; and we need a desire to understand the proposal and to act intelligently. The hundred signers are the ones to present the call. Will they please, through a committee or spokesman, tell us these things for our enlightenment:

1. Why they wish this change? Why they would persuade the Forest Grove voters to revise the charter?

2. What arguments they wish us to consider in behalf of the measure. Of course our friends having this cause at heart want us all to know fully the grounds for the change.

3. What they expect us to gain. We want our town to prosper and have all things good. What good things do they have in view?

The affirmative have the floor. Love for the welfare of the town will prompt a ready and candid and full presentation of their cause.

One more suggestion—It will help to a clear understanding, if the petitioners will print for distribution a leaflet or copy of this petition and the names of the signers. To this may be added any explanation they may wish us to have. The answer to my three questions I hope to see next week in the local papers. We want to avoid misjudging our fellow citizens. We want to know all sides of this question. We want to do what is right.

In behalf of all the citizens who did not have the opportunity to sign the petition, but yet have a sincere interest in its bearing upon our welfare.

HERBERT W. BOYD.

Forest Grove 1906-11-14

PUBLIC SCHOOL NOTES.

Rev. Boyd made us a pleasant visit Wednesday morning, and talked a short time on "It's not how much you know, but what use you make of it."

New pupils this week are Flora Hill, Wilford Tichnor, Cressa Tennis, Maud Hill, Alma Oppliger, and Lloyd Moore who recently came from Illinois.

Mr. Wilkerson and the school board spent Thursday of last week in Portland. The purpose of their visit was to meet the superintendent of Manual Training in the Portland schools, and to get all the general information they could from him. A portion of the day was spent in the shops where the boys were being instructed in their work.

Professor Marsh spent a few minutes with the latin class one day last week.

Miss Frances Orr, who entered the ninth grade last Thursday, is absent this week.

Carrie Mills has been obliged to give up her school work on account of serious illness. We will all be glad when she is able to return.

Tuesday afternoon the County Superintendent visited the various grades of the public school, and spoke a few words of encouragement before departing.

Rev. Gould of the Methodist church, visited us Tuesday morning and talked to us for a short time.

Lizzie Weitzel of the ninth grade, spent Tuesday and Wednesday with her mother, who is in a Portland hospital.

Ella Staehr is absent on account of sickness.

We regret that Miss Susie Jackson accidentally burned up a new pair of shoes this week. She got them wet while going from school one evening and put them in the oven to dry, where they met their sad fate.

Miss Vivian Brown of Hillsboro, a sister of our "Winnie" visited us Thursday afternoon.
